TRAGIC FIRE IN NEW YORK

Fifty or Sixty Persons Killed

FEARFUL SCENES WHILE TRYING TO ESCAPE.

Fire Occured During the St. Patrick's Day Parade.

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER.]

NEW YORK, March 18.—One of the most awful holocausts in the history of New York occurred this afternoon during the St. Patrick's Day parade, when thousands of people thronged the streets in the neighborhood of the junction of Fifth Avenue and 47th street, viewing the passage of the Irish procession.

The fire broke out in the Windsor Hotel, on the corner of the streets named in which there were hundreds of guests and employes. Fire spread, with incredible rapidity. The flames went roaring up stairways and elevators and cut off all means of escape.

The crowds in the streets blocked the work of rescue and terrible panic occurred in the hotel.

Between fifty and sixty persons lost their lives.

Police Captain Titus says there are at least forty bodies in the ruins.

Many people jumped from the windows and balconies and were killed and more were rescued more or less seriously, some fatally injured. The list of the injured is a long one. Among the dead and missing are prominent people.

Mrs. Leland, wife of the proprietor of the hotel, died in the hospital, and two of her daughters are unaccounted for.

Abner McKinley the President's brother and family are missing.

The first horror occurred just fifteen minutes after the fire broke out.

A woman appeared at the window of a room on the fourth floor.

She held out her arms to the crowd below her.

She raised her hands as if in supplication and in a moment climbed to a window and leaped.

She turned about like a top and struck the iron railing in front of the hotel.

Her body seemed to be impaled there but it fell off into the area way. She was dead.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Amelia Paddock, of Irvingtown, New York.

One of the most thrilling scenes of the fire, at a time when the building was a seething cauldron of flame was the heroic rescue of several women from the upper stories. One had been carried down from the fifth story. Mrs. A. H. Fuller, of Pittsburgh, Pa., then appeared with her maid at the window of the fourth story.

It seemed like an age before a ladder was raised. A fireman ran up and with great difficulty, brought down Mrs. Fuller and her maid. Just as she was getting out of the window a middle aged woman appeared at a window just north of that at which a ladder was placed. The woman fearing that she would not be saved prepared to jump. She was warned to keep back and became panic stricken and stepped back into the dense smoke that was pouring from the window.

It seemed as though she had jumped into the flames below in despair. A hook and ladder man seeing the desperation of the woman seized a scaling ladder and went up story after story through the blinding smoke. He climbed to the coping and just as the woman reappeared, the fireman seized her by the waist and holding her tightly to the wall of the building stepped little by little on the coping and passed the fainting woman to another fireman who had braced himself to receive her. There was a dreadful suspense as the fireman drew the woman towards him. When he had her safely on the ladder cheers broke from the vast crowd.

Abner McKinley, brother of President

McKinley had four rooms on the ground floor of the hotel.

Mrs. McKinley and her daughter occupied rooms with Abner McKinley, Miss Mabel had ordered a coach for a drive at 3.30 o'clock and was dressing for it when the alarm of fire was given. She was in her dressing gown at the time. She saw smoke, and becoming frightened opened a window and was assisted out by some men. She walked half a block and found her carriage waiting. She was driven to Hotel Buckingham.

IS IT A TRIFLE?

THAT COMMON TROUBLE, ACID DYSPEPSIA OR SOUR STOMACH.

Now Recognized as a Cause of Serious Disease.

Acid dyspepsia, commonly called heartburn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to digest it, the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas, and a bitter, sour, burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition soon becomes chronic and being an every occurrence is given but little attention. Because dyspepsia is not immediately fatal, many people do nothing for the trouble.

Within a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and is becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by all druggists for 50 cents per package. It is prepared by the F. A. Stewart Co., Marshall, Mich., and while it promptly and effectually restores a vigorous digestion, at the same time is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach, but on the contrary by giving perfect digestion strengthens the stomach improves the appetite and makes life worth living.

MEAN TACTICS.

Sir,—The tactics of the Guardian to get pointers from rival cheese buyers and assail Mr. Dillon in its columns over the fictitious name of "Anti-humbug," are very low journalism. The impression sought to be made, and with effect, too, with some is that Mr. Dillon having a better knowledge of cheese than his rivals is having an undue advantage which some think the patrons suffer by. Such is not the case. The patrons gain by Mr. Dillon's knowledge because he knows the value of the article he buys and consequently, as a rule he paid higher prices than they. Hence his buying so large a quantity. Is that any loss to the patrons? To get even with Mr. Dillon the drift of competitors is evident; and that is, get an inspector at some one else's expense so that they will make as much out of the business as he, and without any of the expense of travelling to the factories that he is put to. The Guardian is not quite satisfied with having Mr. Dillon dismissed from the public service, and a favorite of the Minister of Agriculture put in his place; but now, evidently would like to see him prevented from making a living amongst us. The game may work, and then the farmers will see whether it was in their interest or not to have him driven from the Province. Would they have done better in selling their cheese last year if the clique had Mr. Dillon out of the way? That is the question for the farmers to consider. I have before me the last annual statements of four large cheese factories in Ontario, and not one of them obtained as good an average price for their cheese as Mr. Dillon paid the factories here. And when our patrons fail to get as good a price for their output as is obtained elsewhere for like quality of cheese or butter, it will be time enough to employ an inspector for their protection,—at present it is an instructor we want more than an inspector.

DELEGATE.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

Halifax Herald: Apart from the fact that the business condition is nothing to boast of, as people in Nova Scotia keenly feel, the Laurier government is entitled to credit for any enlarged business we have, just as little as it is entitled to credit for the revival of business in the United States and other countries, and just as little as it is for the discovery of gold in Roseland and the Klondyke. It is worthy of note in this connection that Canada's output of gold in 1892 was only about $900,000; and in 1898 it was nearly $14,000,000; or about fifteen times what it was six years previously. This fact, alone, ought to have some beneficial effect on the country; but it is not easy to see how the Government is entitled to any credit for it.

Monetary Times: It is gratifying to learn that the citizens of Dyce, far from objecting to that port becoming a part of Canada, are so anxious to see this take place that a deputation of citizens are on the way to Washington and Ottawa to forward the project. We assume that these are, in a large majority, American citizens, and that their motives are purely commercial. In this respect they take their place with others interested in the negotiations that have recently been carried on by the International Commission. Their action should go far to offset the obstructive tactics of the other ports of the American coast. What they ask cannot be done, except as a matter of agreement, but their action may be materially useful in helping to bring about a desirable result.

SUGGESTION ADOPTED.

Sir,—I am glad to learn that the Government has adopted my suggestion to keep a sufficient quantity of mail matter on hand at Cape Tormentine to provide supply for crossing in case the ox team now tramping between Aulac and Tormentine should be snowed up. This team failed to reach Tormentine with the mails the day before yesterday. But owing to the abundance of delayed mail bags at Cape Tormentine we had a mail last night. It was not up to date, of course, but it was a mail and quite satisfactory.
