

Two recent visitors to Prince Edward Island were Mr. David MacDonald and his son Daniel MacDonald of Chelsea, Mass., U. S. A. Mr. MacDonald, Sr., was born and brought up in Forest Hill, P.E.I., and was making his first visit in 47 years to his old home, while Daniel was seeing the island for the first time.

Mr. MacDonald, as might be supposed, saw many changes since his previous visit; but was able to locate a surprising number of relatives and friends of his early years.

The visitors spent considerable time with Mr. MacDonald's sister, Mrs. George Creed at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Acorn, Milltown Cross. The brother and sister are the only surviving mem-

From the sperm whale come ambergris, used only in the best perfumes. In its natural state it is worth about $12 per ounce. So you see, a find of ambergris will net the discoverer a tidy fortune.

A crab has fierce pairs of jointed legs on which he can walk backwards, forwards or even sideways, and strange but true one never can tell in what direction he will start off. Too, he can turn his eyes in every direction or withdraw under his shell when he has a mind on.

That's pretty wonderful is it not? But now let me tell you about a roperical crab named the robber crab because he climbs trees to get coconuts. He can extract the meat from the hard shell by drilling through the little soft spots in the end of a coconut.

Every healthy robber crab has about one quart of oil in its body, which the natives put to good use when this thieving creature is slain. The meat, too, is a real delicacy and tastes somewhat like the meat of a lobster.

Barbara Hutton's Life And Loves

Ever since Barbara Hutton's $60,000 debut in New York in 1930, the world has savoured the sad saga of the Woolworth heiress's life and loves. Five husbands have marched her up the aisle, in most cases simply to stake their claims, pack the loot and depart. Today, despite her millions, she is tired, confused and unhappy woman. For the intimate, revealing life story of unhappy Barbara, be sure to get The Standard this week. The Standard is on sale now, complete with Picture Magazine, 12-page novel and 20 pages of comics. Only ten cents!
