Discouraged Mrs. Beauty

By Thornton W. Burgess

Discouragement is like a blight, difficult at times to fight. —Old Mother Nature. Beauty the Wood Duck and Mrs. Beauty had arrived at the pond of Paddy the Beaver from the Sunny South where they had spent the winter. They had been there several days now. "I hope you're going to nest somewhere around here. Are you?" said Paddy.

Opening lead—king of clubs. There is no principle of bidding which is more dominant than the simple rule—an opening bid facing an opening bid is a game.

When South opens the bidding, North has to assume there is a game somewhere, and he must arrange to make no bid which may leave the partnership short of that goal.

After winning the first two club tricks, West was faced with the problem of finding another defensive trick besides the ace of trump.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW. One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc.

Yesterday's Cryptogram: AND, HOWSOEVER HE STRAYED OR SLID, HE LOVED THE GOOD OLD WAYS—WHITTIER.

"I hope you're going to nest somewhere around here. Are you?" said Paddy.

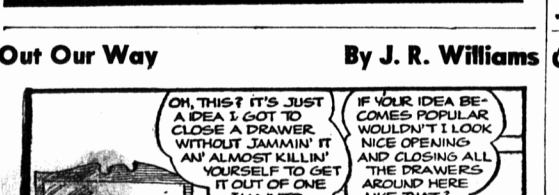

Mrs. Savvill was Mrs. Morganer. The Morgansers do not have the Duck family, but rather long bills with toothed edges like the teeth of a saw. Mrs. Quack was Mrs. Mallard Duck.

"It is easy enough for those folks to find nesting places," replied Beauty. "But Mrs. Beauty and I don't want our nest on the ground. We wouldn't feel safe. We want our nest up in a tree, and it must be in a hollow tree where Mrs. Beauty can be out of sight while she is sitting on her eggs."

"What luck, my dear?" asked Beauty. "No luck," replied Mrs. Beauty, "it is discouraging. I've looked all up and down the brook for a long distance, and I haven't found a single house that will do. There are no hollow trees anymore. If things keep on this way I don't know what we Wood Ducks are going to do. Time was when there were plenty of hollow trees all through the Green Forest. Now they have all been cut out."

Enjoy the delicious flavour even when both your hands are busy!
