1,000 Kiddies Enjoy Pool

WINSLOE Pastoral Charge, the United Church of Canada. Services Sunday are as follows: Winsloe North 11 a.m.; Glasgow Road 1:45 p.m. Winsloe South 3 p.m. Princeton Road 7:30 p.m. Sunday school as announced. Heber H. Hardy, Minister.

Almost 1,000 youngsters enjoyed the facilities of the Kiwanis Pool yesterday at Brighton Beach. The Red Cross instructors had a busy time giving swimming and water safety lessons to upwards of 300 during the morning and early afternoon.

The rulings suggested by the Sanitary Division of the Department of Health allow 100 children in the pool at any one time. In order to ensure that every small water can enjoy a share of play it is necessary to clear the pool at frequent intervals. During these short breaks the water is treated with chlorine to maintain it at a healthful condition.

Bob Hutchison and Ann Cery were on duty yesterday afternoon in addition to the regular staff which consists of Angus MacLaren, Margie Jardine, Bernadine Hennessey and Janet Matheson.

This course of lessons will end on July 18th when all the candidates will be tested in their skills.

Parliament At A Glance By THE CANADIAN PRESS Thursday The Commons defeated by a vote of 125 to 42 a Progressive Conservative move to block indefinite extension of government defence production powers.

Defence Production Minister Howe announced government willingness to consider a time limit on some of the broad defence production powers.

Finance Minister Harris moved a motion—fully debatable—barring further barriers to second reading of the production bill and forcing an eventual vote on it.

Donald Fleming (P.C.—Toronto) Eglington said the motion was a ruthless use of power to suppress discussion on a measure of cardinal importance.

CCF Leader Coldwell appealed for compromise, saying the marathon debate would end if the government accepted a time limit on the powers.

The Senate gave approval in principle to income and excise tax changes announced in the budget Friday.

The Commons will consider estimates until Tuesday.

Hillsboro Bridge White and asked if he realized the gravity of his offence in barring the Queen's Highway.

The Railway official was heard to reply, "This is the Department of Transport property and we are merely acting upon their orders."

Pitiful indeed was the plight of a number of Southport residents who were unaware of the action being taken and were stranded only a couple of miles from their homes.

One woman said she had a number of men working at farm work and wanted to get home to get their dinner. Another woman had left her two small children with a neighbor and was away behind time in getting back to them.

Many American tourists were completely bewildered as to what was going on.

Premier Says that engineer's reports indicated that the bridge fit for traffic to the tons and accordingly signs were posted to that effect.

BRIDGE LIFE ENDED On Nov. 2, 1934, Hon. Mr. Marler, Minister of Transport, wrote the Premier stating that the Deputy Attorney General of Canada, upon advice from engineers had considered that the life of the Hillsboro Bridge had come to an end.

Traffic Piles Up While Bridge Closed

Some idea of the large number of cars that were held up when the barrier was erected at the approach to the Hillsboro Bridge can be gathered from the above picture. The vehicles lined up were those that arrived at the west end about five minutes after Barter's Film Lab.

Director Reports On Work Of Institutes In Province

Interest in community work continues to grow. A great many Institutes now own halls or have an interest in the community hall. Many improvements have been effected in the past year in the appearance and facilities of these halls," stated Miss Mary H. Robin, director of women's work of the P. E. I. Women's Institutes at the annual W. I. meeting which opened yesterday.

"Stages and hall kitchens have been modernized and decorated, curtains have been provided, interiors redecorated and exteriors painted in many communities," she added. "A well kept hall influences for good all the social activities held within it. Rowdy behaviour and vandalism are not tolerated in a community hall where the facilities are good."

"Although the total number of branches remains the same this year, there have been twenty-three new Institutes organized at Elmwood in Kings County, Total membership has risen to 5,889. Financially the Institutes have had the most successful year in their history."

"The Institutes have helped to provide services in rink canteens and funds for the community rink, several have provided district signs which are a credit to their community, and give information to both residents of the province and tourists. A few institutes have continued their pioneer cemetery projects."

"Social life in the rural communities has been provided by Institutes to an even greater extent than in previous years. Plays, amateur contests, variety shows, concerts, Halloween parties, Christmas entertainments, many other features have been staged or sponsored by Institutes, thus providing wholesome entertainment for both young and old within the community."

"In 1933 branch Institutes spent a total of $19,148 on community projects. This year the amount has risen to $35,066. This indicates the increased interest in community work."

"Although schools in the province have been remodelled and buildings provided in many districts over the past five years, schools still receive the attention of many Institutes. Books of knowledge, maps, globes, pianos or organs, radios and record players have been provided, over and above physical improvements in many schools."

"Many Institutes entered their schools in the Rural Beautification Contest. The first prize for the Island was won by Clermont Women's Institute which was organized in May 1933, an outstanding achievement for little more than one year's work."

A total of twenty thousand seven hundred and thirty-nine dollars ($20,739.00) was spent on school improvements in 1934, an increase of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) over the previous year. In the leadership courses in each county this year the Provincial Executive and Women's Institute staff have stressed the importance of having every child in every rural community completing, at least, his or her Grade X.

FINANCIAL HELP "County hospitals, orphanages, the Provincialatorium, the Tyne Valley Health Center, and other public institutions continue to receive financial help and donations of goods from the Women's Institutes of the Province. Many Institutes in Kings County worked for the erection of the nurses residence at Montague which was opened last year. A wonderful response was made to the Iron Lung Fund when the Institutes contributed one thousand and sixteen dollars ($1,016.00) to alleviate the suffering of poliomyelitis which was so prevalent in this province in 1934. A total of two thousand five hundred and fifty-five dollars ($2,555.00) was raised for public institutions."

"In addition to the above sum maintaining the bridge, the cost would be prohibitive," said the Premier, "and why should we, when it is the Federal Government's responsibility under the agreement still in effect. The Premier made it clear that his action in ordering the barrier cleared did not take place until the Superintendent of the Railway had been served the court injunction. "As a matter of fact we made no legal move to have the injunction drawn up until after the first barriers were placed," he said.

When questioned as to how long he would take to decide on the legality of the matter, he expressed the opinion that it would not be more than a few days. "Then we will know whose responsibility it is to look after the bridge," he added.

Gadget Will Warn Motorists of Radar Traps

VANCOUVER (CP)—There may be trouble ahead for speed cops and their electronic gadgets. A former Royal Canadian Navy radar expert said Thursday that the modest outlay of $1.50 any motorist can have forecasting of radar speed traps appearing in increasing numbers on Canadian roads.

The radar expert, who asked that his name not be used, said a simple electronic gadget can be built and installed in a car to warn the motorist when he is in the vicinity of radar beams.

The expert, whose wartime job was installing and improving the radar gear on sub-hunting escort ships, gave no details of his gadget but said "any radar technician knows how to do it."

RCMP, who are using radar to check traffic in neighboring Surrey municipality, expressed little concern at the report. "We can always gather evidence in the usual way."

Millionaire Is Indicted

MINEOLA, N. Y., (AP)—Ivan Jerome, millionaire inventor, was indicted Wednesday on 50 counts after male grand jury members were reported to have viewed movies of orgies with girls ranging from 11 to 17 years.

Six young girls testified before the Nassau county grand jury. They included an 11-year-old now suffering from rheumatic heart, who was wheeled in and out of the jury room on a stretcher.

Jerome, 62, was exposed when a farmer's market he owned in nearby Massapequa burned down June 12. Investigators found the charred films in the ruins.

Authorities said Jerome admitted his operation with the girls over a period of several years. He has made effort to raise his $50,000 bail.

SOME 20 girls were said to be involved. Six were identified from the films and arrested as material witnesses. Police said Jerome told them he hired the girls with promises of work in the market.

Felony counts against Jerome include rape, perversion and assault, any one of which would result in a sentence of one day to life under state law.

Jerome is a millionaire many times over from his engineering work and inventions, many of them in the camera field.

Charlottetown Girl Is Recovering From Delicate Heart Operation

More than three weeks ago, Miss Elizabeth (Libby) Sims, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sims, Edward Street, Charlottetown, underwent a very delicate heart operation at the Toronto General Hospital. The operation, which was in the nature of an emergency one, was performed by the noted Toronto surgeon, Dr. Bigelow. After some days in an oxygen tent during which her name was on the danger list, Miss Sims has been steadily improving and for the past several weeks has been in the St. John's Convalescent Home, an institution conducted by Anglican Sisters in Toronto.

Miss Sims went to Toronto about a year ago after her condition was diagnosed by Dr. R. G. Lea, of Charlottetown. X-rays at that time showed that she had a tight heart valve, but it was believed that she could postpone having the operation for a year or so. However, her condition became worse, and the operation had to be carried out without delay.

The Toronto doctors are extremely pleased with the results, and her case is being cited as another success in the new field of heart surgery.

Before leaving Charlottetown, Miss Sims was employed by the Provincial Department of Public Works, and since going to Toronto, has been in the employ of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission and her fellow employees were greatly interested in her illness and operation. As an incentive to get well, the management informed her before she went to the hospital that when she returned she would be given an increase in salary and a promotion.

The father of Miss Sims is well known in horse racing circles. Her mother leaves next week on a two-week visit to Toronto to be with her daughter.

Fire Refugees Return Home

By MEL MORRIS Canadian Press Staff Writer SEPT-ILES, Que. (CP)—Fire refugees returned to their scorched homes Thursday as flames retreated from three villages on the north shore of the St. Lawrence river.

Five forest fires—sparked by a lightning strike one week ago—carved a path of destruction through scrub timberland. Five homes and a chapel were burned at the village of Ste. Marguerite. But the remainder of Ste. Marguerite, as well as the villages of Clarke City and Shelter Bay, were spared as fan-gale winds which changed repeatedly steered flames away from the outskirts.

"The situation is greatly improved," said Laurent Morin, provincial field director of the Red Cross. "Unless there is a radical change all villages are out of danger."

In all, 600 persons were evacuated, mostly women and children. At Ste. Marguerite, residents Wednesday night were digging up their belongings from trenches where they were buried when the evacuation order was given.

Clarke City was not touched by the flames although they came within a half-mile of the village of 800. At Shelter Bay, the fire had retreated to a distance of some 10 miles and bulldozers had carved a protective fire-break around the community.

U. S. Accepts Russia's Offer To pay Half Loss In Shooting Down plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Thursday accepted Russia's offer to pay half the damages for the shooting down of an American plane in the Bering strait last month.

State Secretary Dulles had previously demanded full compensation for the loss of the Navy Neptune patrol plane, destroyed in a crash landing on Alaska's St. Lawrence island June 23 after being fired upon by Soviet jet fighters. Dulles also wanted full compensation for injuries suffered by seven of its crew members.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov had offered to pay 50 per cent of the total damages for the plane and not with respect to its identity. The plane, the note said, was flying "in a clear area" above a layer of broken clouds when it was attacked without warning.

EXCESS REGRET Russia not only offered to pay half the damages but, what was equally unprecedented, expressed regret over the incident. Dulles had said at the time of the offer that 50 per cent damages would not be enough. He had demanded total compensation.

"In conclusion," Thursday's note said, "the United States government expresses the hope that the Soviet government will indeed in the future take all necessary steps to avoid repetition of this and like incidents, a repetition which, if it occurred, would inevitably have a harmful effect upon the relations of our two nations, relations which the United States, for its part, desires to see improved."

Hitler Not Ruled Legally Dead

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Hitler committed suicide more than 10 years ago in his Berlin bunker, but the Germans have not yet ruled him legally dead.

Three years ago an Austrian government asked the Germans for an official death certificate so Hitler's estate there could be confiscated.

The request went to a Bavarian magistrate's court in Berchtesgaden, near the Austrian border, where Hitler maintained a retreat. The court last October said it had no doubt Hitler is dead, but it has not yet handed down an official opinion. It is still investigating.

In the latest legal move, the Bavarian Supreme Court here ruled Tuesday that the Berchtesgaden court is competent to decide on Hitler's death and issue a death certificate.

The decision came after a West Berlin court was asked by the denazification administration there to certify Hitler's death.

The administration claimed Hitler's last residence was in Berlin and therefore a Berlin court is competent to rule on his death. The Berlin court has not acted on the request.
