

The Hull Disaster.

LOSS FROM $300,000 TO $500,000.—THE BURNED DISTRICT A MILE LONG BY 400 YARDS WIDE—WOODEN TENEMENTS—NO INSURANCE TO SPEAK OF.

The city of Hull is in ruins, at least fully one half of it. The fire broke out in a house occupied by B. Sabourin, on Bridge street east, on the 21st inst., and owing to a high wind spread rapidly, both in a northerly and easterly direction. Despite every means available the flames could not be checked in their fiery march, and building after building was destroyed. The houses were with few exceptions light wooden ones, and furnished the best of material for the conflagration.

THE WHOLE AREA

of ground composed of Church, Duke, Lake, Kent, Albion, Wellington, Charles, Central, Wriget, Hannah and several other streets, were burned. The heat was intense and the smoke so dense that the city was almost shrouded in darkness. The fire raged in fiendish intensity from 3.30 o'clock until seven, when the wind changed fortunately, and it was got under control. It is estimated that between 700 and 800 houses are destroyed and over 4,000 people homeless. Nor was the disaster unattended with

FATAL RESULTS.

Several lives are known to be lost. Whilst reports are current that at least a dozen have perished, it is known positively that a woman named Latremouille and another name Geyette were burned, also a man named Ouellette; the woman Latremouille was confined and was unable to leave the house; Ouellette was seen rushing from his blazing dwelling into the street and falling dead; he was terribly burned. Numerous accidents occurred. The area of ground over which the fire travelled is a mile long by 400 yards wide, and to-night the smouldering flames tell too well of their devastation. In numerous cases the occupants saved their furniture, which is now piled on the public streets. Horses, cows, and pigs as well as other domestic animals perished. It is a sad blow to this place, and will cause a good deal of suffering and destitution to those who have been

RENDERED HOMELESS.

The property destroyed was mainly occupied by laborers, who will be unable for some time at least to rebuild. There is very little insurance, as companies would not take risks, deeming it too hazardous. The calamity is one which has long been prophesied, and it has come at last in its greatest force. Steps have been taken to raise contributions to relieve the distress; handsome subscriptions have already been raised, and to-morrow night the City Councils of Hull and Ottawa will meet to take action in the matter. Thousands of persons from the city visited the fire, and at one time there were but 40 members in the House. The Governor General and Princess Louise and staff were among the first to arrive and remained for some time. Fortunately none of the great lumbering mills were destroyed, although at one time Butson & Currier's mill was in imminent danger.

The number left homeless is said to be 5,000 and the total property loss from $300,000 to $500,000. Contributions of provisions and clothing were sent in last night and to-day, in response to Mayor Macintosh's proclamation. The following telegram was received last night by the Mayor of Hull:—

His Excellency has desired me to express his sympathy for the sufferers by the fire at Hull, and wishes to co-operate with you by subscribing to any fund which may be raised for them.

[Signed] F. DEWINTON, Major, R. A., Governor-General's Secretary.

Advice for Good Time.

ROBERT COLLYER'S COUNSEL TO YOUNG MEN AND YOUNG WOMEN—EARLY MARRIAGE AND ECONOMY.

In the course of a sermon last Sunday morning, Rev. Robt. Collyer, New York, said:—The wisest and the most thinking men among us believe that we are entering on the most prosperous times ever seen in these States. If this is true, all will share in the prosperity, and many of the young men in this congregation will in time become millionaires. The temptation to narrow down the sympathies in order to grow rich, while we neglect God, is great, and I want to plead that we shall not fall into this snare. Young men ought to think of taking to themselves wives and rearing families, as if such things were near at hand, instead of being in the distant future, and young women should have other thoughts than of silks, jewels, balls and parties. A man does not want to marry a musical-box, and young women should prepare themselves for good American wives. Another reason why people are not rich toward God is the ideas men entertain that they should leave large provisions for their families. It is better for the children that they should build up their own fortunes. Rich men's sons are not likely to be worth more than what their fathers gave them. The wealthy young American goes to Paris or London, gets a lot of veneer, and looks down on all American institutions. I saw them in Paris in 1878.

A letter from Winnipeg states that during two days of the last week in March there were fifteen hundred arrivals in Manitoba, and that the immigration tide rushing in is great.

Mace Long was formerly one of the wickedest men in the West. He owned many low saloons, concert halls, and cheating faro games in various cities, and was a desperado. But he became a convert to Christianity and temperance several years ago, and has since been a highly successful revivalist. He was lately caught registered at a hotel in Sturgis, Mich., with a beautiful young woman as his wife. Here was a chance for a scandal, and his enemies took vigorous advantage of it; but he faces the music with proof that the lady, a wealthy Fort Wayne belle, is his lawful wife.

All sorts of dodges were resorted to by the opposing parties in the recent contest in England. In one town a Liberal manager went round among the livery stables and hired all the carriages. He was followed by a Conservative strategist who in turn for the same day hired all the horses.

Dr. Andrews heard a burglar in his house in Philadelphia, and had no pistol to shoot him with, so he inflated a paper bag which happened to be at hand, dashed upon the thief with a shout, and exploded the bag, which made a noise like a pistol shot. The man sank to the floor in abject terror and begged for mercy.

It is disheartening for a man who has preached the gospel for twenty-three years, and has spent his life in trying to make men better and happier for $700 a year, to read that Levy will get $500 a week next summer for blowing a cornet at Manhattan Beach.
