Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers who on Tuesday, August 22, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. In the evening, relatives called to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and to wish them many more years of happiness.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Reeves are glad to know that their little twin daughter, who has been very ill is now improving nicely. The little one has been a patient in Prince County Hospital for the past week.

The death occurred in Charlottetown on Wednesday, August 30 of Mrs. Louis Moore, aged sixty-four years. Mrs. Moore was formerly Beatrice Hiscox, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Hiscox of Freetown. Burial took place in the family plot in Freetown Cemetery on Friday, Sept. 1.

Mrs. Fenton Simmonds entertained on Tuesday afternoon at a luncheon for her mother, Mrs. Charles DeLong of Taunton, Mass., and several of her former schoolmates. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent reviving old friendships, and recalling happy school days. Those present included Mrs. DeLong, Taunton, Mass.; Miss Edith Reeves, Freetown; Mrs. James Marshall, Port William, Ontario; Mrs. Douglas Jardine, Charlottetown and Mrs. E. S. Dammarell, Freetown.

The death of Mrs. Henry Lidstone of Bedeque occurred in Charlottetown on Wednesday, August 23. Mrs. Lidstone, formerly Jennie Cousins of Long River had reached the advanced age of eighty-eight and had been in failing health for some years. Her husband predeceased her a few months ago. Her funeral was held from the Central meeting in Freetown United

Holman's Summerside and Charlottetown Stores Completes New Music Sections

Pictured in the above view of Holman's Summerside music department are Kay Sutton, who is in charge of the department and Lorne Palmer, furniture department manager.

Boast Most Up-To-Date Dept. In Eastern Canada

Holman's are proud to boast two of the most up-to-date music departments in Eastern Canada tastefully fashioned of natural finish birch plywood by Holman's Building Service Department both the Summerside and Charlottetown music departments display a complete assortment of musical instruments and accessories in addition to their very complete lines of records, record players and the newest addition to the department in both stores—sheet music—the latest.

The general staff will be only too pleased to show you around the department. While we were in the music department in Summerside yesterday noting the recent changes two men from the local station were discussing the merits of various recordings with Kay Sutton, who is in charge, while further down the east wall of the furniture department two Summerside schoolgirls were in one of the two playing booths savouring one of the latest recordings.

It was a quarter to five and we were much too intent on looking and getting away again to stop long but judging from the different albums displayed, classics, jazz, boogie, popular singing stars, etc., it's a safe bet that what you want is on hand but if not an order would rectify that situation in no time at all.

The Charlottetown store having the well-known bandleader Les Alexander in charge is just as well stocked and Les only too eager to help you whether you wanted to learn to appreciate classics or quite content with modern dance band recordings. You may be sure of finding whatever you wish in either of these two modern departments.

kill themselves tolling to pay for the extravagance of the female parasites to whom they are married.

SELFISH MAN PREFERRED

But, strange to say, it is not the man who sacrifices himself body and soul to his wife who is the best-loved husband. Nine times out of ten it is some wastrel who is selfish and overbearing, and who never pays her the slightest attention. Doesn't even throw her a kind word as he might throw a bone to a hungry dog. And it is not the woman who has worked her fingers to the bone for her husband whose hand he kisses. It is the soft, manicured hand of the wife who has never done any work but work him.

Why this is thus we do not know. Perhaps it is because in love it is more blessed to give than to receive and we love more those for whom we do things than we do those who do things for us. Or perhaps it is because in our secret hearts we have a contempt for those who let us impose upon them and exploit them, and who have not the backbone to get up and fight us and make us treat them with respect and justice.

Nobody loves a slave. Those we adore are those we look up to, not down upon. Hence the man who lets his wife impose upon him and monopolize all the perquisites of matrimony and the woman who makes of herself nothing but a servant in her home commit fatal blunders. They write their own price-tag and are regarded by their mates at the valuation they put upon themselves. Those who demand nothing in marriage get nothing.

As a matter of fact, husbands and wives are as easily spoiled as babies and, like babies, you can't really pamper them and be as good to them as you would like to without ruining them.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

Church on Friday evening, August 25, when the girls entertained their mothers and the members of the Women's Missionary Society.

The programme, consisting of solos, pageant and a singsong were much enjoyed by all. This was followed by a delicious lunch prepared and served by the girls themselves.

Their leader, Mrs. Louis Cairns, is to be congratulated on the very efficient way in which she is guiding her class. Mr. Robert Reeves was organist for the different musical selections.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JAMES STUART CLARK

Entered into rest at San Mateo Hospital, California on Saturday July 1st 1950. Florence Donna Mathieson, wife of the late James Stuart Clark of Palo Alto, California. She was born in Prince Edward Island, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mathieson of Travellers Rest.

In the year 1907 she left P. E. I. to visit her uncle in California. That fall she enrolled in a Business College there, and the following spring entered a law office in Palo Alto, as a stenographer, which position she held, until her marriage to James Stuart Clark, a prominent business man of that city. He died suddenly in 1941. Mrs. Clark enjoyed her usual health up to June 30th. On that evening she suffered a heart attack and died three hours later.

She was an exceptionally bright and intelligent person and took a keen interest in all religious and social questions. She was of a most kind disposition ever trying to make the lives of others happier, and her good example will always be fresh in the minds of the many with whom she was acquainted.

Her funeral services were held in the Roller and Haggood funeral home by the Rev. Donald Hall of the Presbyterian church. Interment was in a beautiful plot in the Alta Mesa Memorial Cemetery in Palo Alto.

She leaves three brothers W. A. Mathieson, at Read's Corner, P. E. I., Charles of Anchorage, Alaska, Duncan of Pouce Coupe, B. C., and five sisters, Jennie and Anne in the home at Travellers Rest, Georgina teaching at Springhill, Mrs. Clarence Genasci of California, Mrs. James Champion Travellers Rest, all of whom sincerely mourn her passing.

EXILED MAYOR

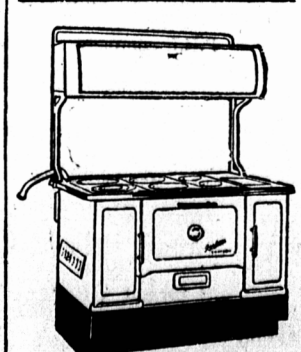

Waving across the border to the constituency he left behind is Orville Hubbard, mayor of Dearborn, Mich., who fled to Windsor, Ont., by air to avoid a term in a debtor's jail. Mayor Hubbard, whose fiscal cupboard is bare at the moment, found himself unable to pay a $7,500 judgment obtained in a suit by his political rival, John Fish. He plans to return to the U. S. and may set up a "city government in exile" in a tent on the crest of a hill in Camp Dearborn, which is in another county and, presumably, out of jurisdiction of the Dearborn court.
