

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 30, 1892.

Lord Sherbrooke.

LORD SHERBROOKE passed away on the 27th inst. In his best days he was simply Robert Lowe. He began his political career in New South Wales. In ten years he had won a foremost place in Australia. He then returned to England and was immediately elected a member of the Imperial Parliament. Lord Palmerston gave him a subordinate office in his first administration and the more important position of President of the Education Board, when he returned to power, after the defeat of the short-lived Derby Ministry. When again in Opposition, he came to the front as one of the ablest assailants of the Derby-Disraeli Government. On the accession of the Gladstone Ministry, he became Chancellor of the Exchequer, and bore a leading part in the promotion and defence of all the Liberal measures of that period. He was subsequently elevated to the peerage. He married first in 1836 and again in 1885, after he had attained to the ripe age of seventy-four years. As usual, his name was not often mentioned after he entered the House of Lords.

Our Manufactures.

The Opposition Party would not admit that any mistake could have been made by the census enumerators in respect to the population of Canada. They are, consequently, barred from taking the position that any mistake has been made by the enumerators in respect to its manufacturing industries. This being so, they must perforce admit that there has been, in the past ten years, an immense and a wonderful addition to the Canadian output of manufactured goods. Some of the figures of the census returns are presented in this day's issue of THE EXAMINER. By reference to them it will be seen that within the decade there has been in some towns an increase in the output of manufactured products from nothing to upwards of a million and a half of dollars worth. In other towns the output has been more than doubled. In almost all there has been a substantial increase. Montreal, Toronto, St. John, Halifax, all our more important towns, exhibit a marked improvement in respect to manufacturing activity. This marked improvement could not possibly have come hand-in-hand with the ruin and decay which the opposition party assured the country would result from the operation of the National Policy. The country has been and is, upon the whole, prosperous. A great deal of money has been invested in manufactures in consequence of the advantages to home industries which the National Policy affords. Making full allowance for failures here and there—resulting for the most part from extravagance and mismanagement—we may say that the results have been in a high degree satisfactory.

Dairying the Specialty for P. E. Island. The undoubted success of the Dominion dairy station at Three Rivers proves beyond a doubt that we have found the special line of industry for which our Island is best adapted. While the Northwest produces grain, California fruit, the Southern States cotton, Nebraska and Kansas corn and pork, China and Japan tea and silk, and Newfoundland codfish, we can make cheese and butter of a quality that compares favorably with the best from dairy districts in any part of the world. The advantage of this business is that a small outlay for milk cows at the beginning gives an almost immediate return. The farm also begins to be more fertile from the first day. The experience of Island cattle men is that two years of pasture leaves a field very much improved. Then there is no danger of overstocking the market with such a class of dairy goods as the factory system enables us to make. The parts of the world which are adapted for this industry are of very small extent, and but little of them are inhabited by people fitted by either nature or training for dairy farmers. Only a few acres of fertile land can do anything with milk cows. Fortunately, our Island is inhabited by representatives of the most successful dairy nations. The conditions, then, being all in our favor, may we not confidently expect a great and wide-spreading industry among our people in that excellent creature, the milk cow. The result of this season's operations among the Three Rivers farmers tells them that they have many very good milk cows, and that by a wise use of bulls of improved breeds their herds can in a few years be developed to the utmost extent of usefulness. Young men who are looking for a calling should not neglect examining the advantages they can derive from taking a few months' course of instruction and training at the dairy station. Next season probably a dozen or more cheese manufacturers will be required to take charge of the new establishments which are certain to be started here next June. The positions are first-class in every way. A cheese manufacturer is at least as important a person as a railway conductor, and the pay is as good as that of either a conductor or engineer, with the advantage of permanent residence. The capital required for the building and plant will be a sure investment, with three times the interest now obtained from the banks. No matter how we look at this new departure, there are grand results in view.

Memorial Service.

A Vancouver paper reports:—"A special memorial service was held in Mount Pleasant Baptist Church with reference to the death of the late Jacob Benjamin Dickson. The edifice was crowded to its utmost capacity, the Mount Pleasant Lodge 1. O. O. F., of which Mr. Dickson was a member, attending in a body. At 7 o'clock, while marching into the church, the hymn, "Solemn Strides the Funeral Chime," from the funeral service of the order, was sung, after which all joined in singing: A thousand ages in Thy sight, Are like an evening gone. Portions of Scripture were read from John xiv. and 1 Thess. iv. Prayers were offered for the bereaved widow and friends. The hymn, "Forever With the Lord," was sung, and the choir rendered touchingly. They are gathering homeward from every land. Pastor Banton preached an appropriate sermon from the words, "But I would not have you to fall asleep; that ye sorrow not, even as the rest, which have no hope." (1 Thess. iv. 13, R. V.) The three leading points in the sermon were: (1) Concerning them that sleep; (2) concerning them that weep; (3) concerning the rest; the first, endeavoring to show the blessedness of those who die in the Lord; the second, comforting those who weep; the third, warning those without hope. At the close Mr. and Mrs. Banton sang with great feeling the beautiful hymn, "The Morning Land." The congregation joined in singing "Asleep in Jesus," and the benediction was pronounced. The Oddfellows withdrew in order, and the large congregation dispersed.

Personal.

As neither the President nor the First Vice-President of the Caledonian Club has made an explanation to the public as to Mr. McPhee's resignation, as requested by a correspondent in our issue of Wednesday last, Mr. McPhee desires to state that he will give his reasons for resigning in THE EXAMINER of Wednesday next.

Mr. Mercier denies that he is sick as stated by the papers. In conversation from Toronto over the telephone he said: "Sick, no indeed. I never felt better. Why, for the past two days I have been working like a Trojan getting in my hay crop, and the exertion, though severe, has not affected me. I am all right." The ex-Premier, however, it is understood, is taking extremely good care of himself during the hot weather. The following were registered at the Queen Hotel: J. Jamieson, Truro; J. B. General Telegraphic News.

HALIFAX, July 28.—Captain Hamilton and officers of the flagship Blaker, gave an "at home" and dance on board tonight. The ship was gorgeously decorated. The weather was perfect. The youth and beauty of Halifax and many visiting Americans were present. After visiting Charlottetown the Blaker will return to Halifax, and after a week's stay will sail for Quebec. On her return from Quebec she will remain until she leaves for the West Indies for the winter. The Pyldes, when she returns here, will sail soon after for the West Indies to relieve the Tartar, which will come to Halifax.

The Canada will go to the West Indies to relieve the Tourmaline, which comes to Halifax to await the arrival of the Spartan, which comes direct from England. MEDFORD, Mass., July 28.—Blanche Barrows, aged 4, daughter of William E. Barrows; Roland Cushing, aged 5, son of Walter F. Cushing; Edith Randall, aged 5, son of P. Randall; Albert Lewis, aged 6, son of T. A. Lewis, missing since 11 a. m., were found in a closet under a sink in a new house in process of construction, where they had crawled some time during the day. The door shut in some way, snapping the catch and making them prisoners. The three boys died from suffocation, and the little girl was slowly sinking, but alive.

HALIFAX, July 28.—Rev. G. J. Bond, brother of the late Rev. G. J. Bond, telegraphed the authorities at St. John's regarding the startling statements made in Halifax by Capt. Hopkins, who took down a cargo of food stuffs for the relief of the victims. Mr. Bond to-night received the following cablegram from the editor of the R-yal Gazette: ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. July 28. There was no call by the relief committee for voluntary labor in unloading the relief steamer Havans, as it was felt that in the demoralization of the labor market, through the fire, it would be much better to give employment to the boatmen and crew, to give relief without labor. This action of the committee has been misconstrued, and has given rise to these damaging reports. The committee desire to encourage a spirit of self-reliance amongst the distressed people, and are glad to have an opportunity of giving any employment that will save them from the demoralization of free distribution of material relief. Since the night of the fire there has been a perfect absence of any attempt at pilfering or looting. All the reports about incendiaries started from the fact that one woman, half-demented, tried to set fire to her house.

(Signed) EDITOR ROYAL GAZETTE. HOPKINSON, July 28.—The new Egerton gold mining company has recently made another rich find at Fifteen Mile stream, (Picton County, N. S.) A two inch lead of good paying ore has been struck fifteen feet from the surface, and a yield of ten ounces was given for the first ton of quartz crushed. This is the best paying lead that has yet been tested in this gold region, and it looks as if miners were only beginning to find out the wealth that is stored away in this isolated region.

ANNAPOLIS, July 28.—Early last week, while Dr. Primrose of Lawrencetown was driving on a lonely road in East Dalhousie, he was held up by a couple of colored highwaymen, who demanded money. The doctor, who is a powerful man and a nifty one, was bundled up and asked to be allowed to alight in order to get at his pockets. The robbers were willing enough for him to do this, but they made a mistake, for the doctor, as soon as he got his feet on terra firma, proceeded to knock both the villains down, and then got into his carriage and drove off. The men were evidently green in the business and made a sad mistake in their plan.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 26.—This hot spell is longer than any term of 90° weather Chicago has had for many a year, and the longer it lasts the more destructive it becomes. In July, 1887, there were three days of just such weather, and over one hundred people died of sunstroke. The fatalities thus far are alarming, and there is no reason to believe that death will not be as broad a spread this time as it did then, although the thermometer has not reached so high a point as it did five years ago. Up to noon nine deaths had been reported from sunstroke. Joseph Walsh, Thomas Harrison and John Kehoe, laborers, succumbed to the sun god. Mrs. Mary Armstrong, 70 years old, died this morning, and Thomas Harrison, 25 years old, passed his life away at noon. Among the fatalities are five children, all under 6 months. The heat was so great in the furnace room of the Great Northern hotel that fireman James Kirk was overcome. Mrs. Pauline Biggs was prostrated in Justice Keister's court room. Adam Smith, a teamster, fell from his wagon; Joseph Turner, a pedlar, was overcome; and Miss Jennie Jamison became a victim while shopping. Over 100 cases of heat prostration were reported to the police, the majority of which will recover. Many cases of prostration are now coming to the knowledge of the authorities until death results, and physicians say there are hundreds of people in Chicago confined to their homes by the excessive heat. Laborers on the street were overcome, and the men on the docks suffered the most of all. Dead horses, stricken by the heat, and dead dogs, killed through fear that by irrefragably exciting weather might make them a menace to human life, lay here and there all over the city, the extreme mortality having overtaken the dead animal bureau and contractors.
