LIBERALISM OLD AND NEW

Liberalism during the past session has been given a new meaning, a meaning altogether different from that which it had during the Conservative regime.

The Liberal platform that was laid down so carefully in 1891 is now shattered to fragments, and turned into a decaying ruin.

The old Liberalism stood for honesty, purity and economy.

The new lives by deceitfulness, corruption and extravagance.

The old Liberals are ridiculed and their principles held in contempt by a combination of self-seeking politicians to whom pledges and principles mean nothing.

Disorganization and disaster will be the inevitable result.—Mail and Empire.

Rose Valley Notes.

During the last few days the rain has been conspicuous by its absence and the weather, quite unusual has been hot and dry. Under such sunny influences the crops have acquitted themselves in a manner deserving the highest commendation, and now give promise of a bountiful harvest. The sturdy toiler of the fields has regained his former good spirits in view of the improved appearance of grass and grain.

The young ladies who have been journeying in the United States are now very much in evidence. Like birds of passage they depart when the Autumn leaves are turning, and return when the flowers bloom in the spring. To their sprightly liveliness and jollity may be ascribed much of the charm of rural life in summer. In some cases a pleasant American accent and intonation is acquired, and is often offered and accepted as indisputable testimony of a residence in the republic to the south of us.

We in this vicinity unlike our more fortunate fellow countrymen in West Royalty, do not have buckwheat festivals or in fact any special repasts or "benefits" of that kind. But we can boast just as loudly of our superior breads of horn fly and potato bugs as any of our contemporaries. They are not quite so numerous as they have been in former years, but considering the season they have done nobly.

The purity of Liberal election methods has been finally illustrated in the case of West Huron. This great Liberal party gives innumerable proofs of the pure and spotless character which has always been its proud boast. Does it promise any measure of high policy? Behold forthwith it is fulfilled. Has it a platform formulated? Has it not unblushingly governed its course by it in the minutest details? Has it come short in any particular? Any person who has given the slightest and most casual glance at the career of this party since its advent to power can easily determine whether it is worthy of confidence. Promising economy, an expenditure of $60,000,000 is the reply; purity in election methods, a carnival of the most rampant bribery and corruption is ushered in; deprecating gerrymanders it makes a bold attempt to violate the constitution in asking to pass a notoriously unfair redistribution bill immediately before a decennial census, and waxes wroth at the Senate which kills the bill and now wants to kill the Senate.

Nothing has been heard lately of the chicken-fattening stations. I suppose Quebec will get them because everything seems to be going its way now.

OBSERVER.

It has been held that consumption is hereditary, and the fact that one person of a family had died with consumption was considered a sure sign that others of that family could not escape it. This is partly true and partly untrue. A man with weak lungs is likely to transmit that weakness to his children. But there is no reason in the world why this weakness should be allowed to develop. Keep the lungs full of rich, red, wholesome blood, and the weakness will disappear. Decaying tissues will be thrown off and a new material will be added until the lungs are well and perfectly strong again. This is the thing that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does. This is what makes it cure 93 per cent of all cases of consumption where it is taken according to directions. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be in the body and forces them out of the system. It supplies the blood with rich, life giving properties. It makes the appetite good, digestion perfect.

HER SWEETHEART.

The man I love? Well very small; (But stature doesn't count at all); He's a dear! Hair as golden as the sun; Fair as you e'er looked upon; Eyes of blue, and full of fun, And good cheer.

He's the only man I know Who can touch my heartstrings so tenderly; When he's with me all is bright, Every shadow turns to light; If he's absent life's a blight Then, to me.

Strange to say I love him best When in overalls he's dressed, For his play; I am just as proud of him, If his purse is rather slim, For he's sweet, and neat, and trim Every day.

He's the idol of my heart, (And my secret I'll impart Just for fun!) In my love he holds high rank, Without him earth would be a blank; He's two years old; his name is Frank; He's my son.

—From Colorado Springs Gazette.

She—I will marry you on one condition, you must give up your pipe. He—I will do better than that, I will buy a brand new one.

Do not clip a horse and put an overcoat on yourself. Take your own medicine.

Why is the woman seldom sincere who tells another woman that she is pretty.

Some women make a continued story of their troubles and recite a chapter every time they see a friend.

First-Cook (reading)—Wanted, to go to Connecticut a first class cook. Good wages.

Second Cook—Niver on yer loife! Sure, isn't tha. where they make slarum clods.

Mrs. Newlywed—Let me have a pound of your best tea.—Grocer, Yes ma'am. Green or black? Mrs. Newlywed—Have you not got pink? I see in the papers it's the fashionable kind.

Success comes to those who persevere. If you take Hood's Sarsaparilla faithfully and persistently, you will surely be benefited.

PERSONAL

Mr. Rudyard Kipling, who never before visited Scotland, has rented the manse of Creich, near Dornoch, Sutherlandshire, where he will spend a few weeks. That is the simple announcement, but next fall we shall have a story in "Rudyard" from Kipling's pen that will serve as convincing evidence that he must have been born and bred in the Highlands.

Herbert Spencer is now living in strict seclusion at Brighton, the state of his health being such that his correspondence is limited to replies to letters of immediate personal concern. A friend who recently enquired as to the health of Mr. Spencer had the good fortune to receive the following message:—"Thanks for your enquiry. I am about up to par, and not without hope of rising above it presently."
