

Bitterness Disgust Seen Within Rough Rider Ranks

OTTAWA (CP)—The Journal said Tuesday in a front-page story that there is "bitterness and disgust" among the ranks of the Ottawa Rough Riders Football Club.

The story, written by sports writer Eddie McCabe, said both the players and a number of coaches are angry with general manager George Terlep over pay arrangements for the players.

Asked for comment, Terlep said there was no undue friction within the club and that the story was "completely exaggerated."

Club president Barry O'Brien commented: "I'm not getting into any mud-slinging or with anyone. I feel that if this thing were as big as is made out in the paper, I'd have known about it."

The Journal story said the situation was brought to a head by the disclosure Monday that injured tight end Dick Demarais and coach Bill Beattie had threatened legal action to get more than the salary settlement offered them by the club.

Demarais, a graduate of Boston University in his second year with Beattie, suffered a broken leg, and Beattie, a graduate of Northern State College in his first year here, suffered a torn knee cartilage. Both are

The club was reported to have offered a settlement of 50 per cent of their regular salary in settlement for this year's contract. The Journal said that the $8,000 contract while Beattie's was reported at about $7,000.

The Journal said that the coaches had assured the players on signing their contracts that their salaries would be paid in the event of injury.

It added that head coach Frank Clair "took his complaints to the directors" last week. Clair, who entered hospital Tuesday with a back ailment, was not available for comment.

The general manager said he knew of no misunderstanding between himself and the injured players. He said he had received a letter from their lawyers.

Terlep said the contracts provided only for paying medical expenses for eight weeks after an injury.

He said he had one meeting with the injured players. It had been "amicable" and neither
