Seventeen units of this last group of houses have already been turned over to the Air Force and twenty more are ready, except for the installation of laundry tubs which are in short supply.

B. C. Group Faces Showdown With School Board

KEREMEOS, B.C., Jan. 10 (CP) — The problems of the "Children of Light," strange religious cult, tonight turned from the spiritual to the material world.

The 35, men, women and children who have been in an isolated stone-block farmhouse for 16 days, awaiting either the world's end or a "message from God," had the School Attendance Act to worry them.

There are eight vacant desks in the town school. Their usual occupants are in the cult house with their parents.

The Keremeros School Board said it would give the parents until tomorrow—and no longer—to return them to the classroom.

Mrs. Grace Agnes Carlson, 50-year-old leader, late today was reported to have made another promise that the students will be back tomorrow. Tuesday, she said they would be back today.

"We have every reason to hope they will return voluntarily," said Fred C. McCague, junior high school principal. "If they don't, the parents will feel the full force of the law."

But Mrs. Carlson may have an out. Her second in command is Mrs. Emma Moores, a former school-teacher, and the law says if equal education is provided by a teacher, the children do not have to attend public school.

Mrs. Moores, wife of Wally Moores, former student at the Three Hills, Alta., Bible School, may be holding classes in the farmhouse.

The authorities will investigate this angle before any action is taken.

In defiant mood, O. E. Sappok, white-robed owner of the "retreat" house, told reporters: "The children are not going back to school, and they won't be going back."

Mrs. Carlson, who has led the cultists in song and prayer each day, remained in seclusion today.

She had no message for the press, and there was no indication as to when she planned to lead her followers from the house.

She has warned, however: "Our exit will be terrific—you'll know it."

and Chinese Governments with the idea of arriving at a compromise.

If they fall there seems general agreement here that nothing can save the U. N. forces from being pushed off the Korean mainland and that nothing will stop the United States' demand that Red China be branded an aggressor by the U. N.

Bevin opposed the idea of getting bogged down either in a limited or open war against the Chinese and spoke out against imposing any economic sanctions on the Chinese Communists.

The Prime Ministers, meanwhile, planned to step up output of strategic raw materials to spur the non-Communist world's rearmament program.

Prime Minister Attlee gave an account of his talks on this subject with President Truman at Washington—the outcome of which will be an international organization to plan distribution of raw materials.

"Timberlane" and "Ann Vickers" were among other better known books. Through nearly all of them flowed the theme of life on the main street of a small middle-western town.

Together, critics said, they established Lewis as one of the great social historians of his generation.

His last published novel was "The God Seeker," issued in 1949.

A new book, "World So Wide," described as a love story in Italy, is to be published in March.

Lewis' friends said he was working on a new book when he died. It was to be called "Courage."

British novelist W. Somerset Maugham said today Lewis' "Main Street" marked the beginning of "a new era in American fiction."

It gave European readers an insight into the mass of the American people which had not been offered them before, he said.

Farmers are showing keen interest in the business and Hon. Eugene Cullen, Minister of Industry and Natural Resources, states that he has received numerous inquiries regarding the cutting and sale of pulp wood.

Some inquiries have been made regarding the sale of whole woodlots. The industry which has lagged here for several years took on new life last fall with the arrival of outside buyers who evaluated the worth of Island wood.

Most shipments are being made to the other Maritime Provinces and Central Canada. Some pulp wood is being exported to the United States and possibly a small amount overseas.

MAY CHALLENGE

there was nothing to indicate the city had fallen again to the enemy. The Allies abandoned Wonju to the Communists Monday after two days of fighting for the city.

In reaching the city, a company of Americans driving north from Chechon slipped past a force of North Koreans southeast of Wonju in a snow storm.

The U. S. 2nd Infantry Division, containing the battalion of French soldiers, counter-attacked in the Wonju sector in a desperate effort to hold the centre of the Allied line.

A larger 2nd Division column, sloping up a snow-banked valley from Chechon, reached heights overlooking Wonju after smashing back a Red force on both sides of the Wonju-Chunghju road.

Eye Specialists Answer Prayer

ROCHESTER, Minn., Jan. 10 (AP) — Eye specialists at the Mayo Clinic answered Mrs. Frank Purcell's prayers today.

Her four-year-old daughter Carolyn will not have to undergo an operation for the removal of her eyes, according to clinic doctors.

The child was brought to the clinic Tuesday for a verdict on a reported cancerous condition around her eyes.

After a detailed diagnosis, clinic physicians said there is no evidence of any cancer. A clinic spokesman said this confirmed the opinion of an Atlanta, Ga., physician who had examined Carolyn earlier.

Mayo doctors said it will not be possible to determine whether Carolyn's sight can be restored completely until treatment has progressed.

Mrs. Purcell and Carolyn plan to start their return trip home tomorrow.

The Mayo Clinic climaxed a long period of anxiety for Mr. and Mrs. Purcell. They had been told by specialists that one or both of Carolyn's eyes must be removed to save her life.

The Atlanta Mounted Shrine Patrol arranged for the trip by air to Rochester for a final opinion before an operation was performed.

The Clinic doctors said there's an inflammatory reaction within the child's eyes, but there will be no treatment here. That will come later when Carolyn is back home.

In Atlanta, Carolyn's father broke down in tears when he heard the news.

"That shows you what the good Lord can do," he choked.

Newfoundland May Adopt Atlantic Time

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Jan. 10 (CP) — This ancient island on the Atlantic coast of Canada is considering giving up its unique time system.

Ever since time zones came into effect Newfoundland has been running half an hour in front of the rest of the Atlantic time zone.

The Provincial Government of Newfoundland is now taking steps to eliminate this half hour difference.

Hon. J. J. Spratt, Minister of Provincial Affairs announced yesterday.

Mr. Spratt said that a bill will be introduced at the next session of the Provincial Legislature to amend the Standard Time Act of Newfoundland.

The amendment will provide that local standard time be fixed at 4 hours behind Greenwich mean time, instead of 3 1/2 hours as at present.

This change, he said, will bring Newfoundland within the Atlantic time zone which includes Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick.

The Government will propose that the change take place on April 29, 1951, at which time all Newfoundland clocks will be put back 1/2 hour.

But the Provincial Government can change the time zone at any time it likes, it won't affect the rugged fish-slugged northward up the Chungju-Wonju road in counter-attack.

AP correspondent William C. Barnard reported it fought off attacks by four Red battalions on its west flank and by two on its east flank.

Barnard said the fight to retake Wonju began two days ago. Censorship held up details of the fighting until Thursday.

On Tuesday, Barnard said, the Second Division punched out about three miles up the 27-mile Chungju-Wonju road against elements of three North Korean divisions.

It stopped for a short sharp close-up battle with the Reds and then rolled on.

The French-American column in the south was still fighting off North Koreans Wednesday afternoon when the tank-led American company coming up from Chechon knifed in behind the enemy and drove into Wonju.

World wheat crop Figures Announced

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP) — The world produced a bumper wheat crop in 1950.

The Bureau of Statistics today estimated that the world crop of 6,400,000,000 bushels was six per cent greater than the 1935-39 average and two per cent more than the 1949 crop of 6,270,000,000 bushels.

Biggest advances over pre-war, said the Bureau, were recorded in North America and Asia. The Bureau's estimate is based mainly on United States reports.

It gave these production figures for 1950 with 1949 figures in brackets:

North America, 1,509,000,000 bushels (1,526,000,000); Russia, 1,100,000,000 (1,110,000,000); Europe, 1,530,000,000 (1,505,000,000); Asia, excluding Russia, 1,830,000,000 (1,875,000,000); Africa, 150,000,000 (137,000,000); South America, 200,000,000 (230,000,000); South Pacific, 190,000,000 (223,000,000).

ANGLICAN BUDGET

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal Anglican Diocese has set its 1951 Budget from parishes at $127,040, compared with $120,870 for last year.

This amount is additional to other expenditures expected to bring the total to $170,540.

Decrease In Absenteeism

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP) — The army said today absenteeism, once involving as many as 700 men, has decreased "very considerably" in the special force since it went to Fort Lewis, Wash., for intensive training and detached a battalion for service in Korea.

Headquarters gave no figures but said absenteeism now "is nothing to worry about." No figures have been made public since the number of missing men was given as 700 shortly before the force headed for final training in the U.S.

A spokesman said the present total is "well below" that figure now.

He said there have been discharges among the 10,000 to 11,000 men in the force, raised to back Canada's international obligations, but described them as "normal wastage" arising from sickness and other causes, including men found "incorrigible" or unsuited for army life.

O'Leary and Vicinity

Visitors to the Knutsford Baptist Church during the Week of Prayer service last week were very pleased to see a beautiful Memorial Flag in the Sacred Edifice. It was on Sunday Dec. 31st 1950 that the large flag measuring (8 1/2 x 4 1/2) feet was given by the Harris family in Unionville in memory of Basil Harris who was killed in action in Italy in August of 1944, and also in memory of others of the congregation who made the supreme sacrifice in World War Two.

The Minister, Rev. C. O. Howlett brought a very thoughtful message and special music was rendered by the Choir under the leadership of the organist, Mrs. Melvin Ellis.

Mr. Ira Silliker of Unionville passed away early Saturday morning, Jan. 6th 1951. The deceased had been in failing health for the past number of years but death came very unexpectedly. He is a son of Mr. Watson Silliker of O'Leary and the late Mrs. Silliker, formerly of Knutsford.
