NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Wednesday made its best advance in two weeks.

The Associated Press 60-stock index added $2.60 to close at $207.50, 20 cents under its record peak. The Dow Jones industrial average rose 6.85 to 564.98.

Wall Street analysts said investors apparently believed that the recent setback had ended News that unemployment had changed little in the last month instead of rising as expected and interest in aircraft, missile and rocket stocks also helped the advance.

Steels, chemicals, electronics, oils and some drugs made big gains. Motors and rails followed with smaller increases.

The Canadian section was also higher. Aluminium Ltd., Canadian Pacific and International Nickel led the advance.

On the American stock exchange, Canadian shares were mixed.
