OUR FARMERS AND FAST ATLANTIC SERVICE.

The Patriot is out in opposition to the proposals of Sir Charles Tupper to our farmers in respect to cell storage and transportation facilities. It ridicules the idea of "a fast Atlantic service to carry the farmers products quickly to the British Markets."

Sir Charles Tupper has promised—and his promises are usually kept—that if returned to office he will see to it that our farmers shall have means provided for the safe and speedy transport of their products.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Montreal Gazette reports that Mr. John McIntosh, M. P., has been offered and has accepted the Conservative nomination in Sherbrooke.

The Montreal Star commends the enterprise of the United States citizens exhibited in Sydney, but says: "It should be noted that Mr. Whitney and his associates did not enter upon this big Cape Breton iron and steel enterprise until the fact that Newfoundland ore and Cape Breton coal would work successfully together had been demonstrated beyond doubt by the Nova Scotia Steel Company, a distinct Canadian company, who carried iron ore from Great Bell Island, Newfoundland, and coal from Cape Breton to their blast furnace at Ferris, in Pictou county, and tested them there on a large scale.

A Western man is trying to establish a record for consistency for Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He points out that in his Boston speech of 1891 the Premier was reported as speaking thus:

"It has been said that we should establish a line of steamers between England and her possessions, by virtue of which trade would be cultivated between Canada and the British Empire to the exclusion of the rest of the world. I have only this to say regarding such an idea: it is absolutely absurd. For my part I prefer the Yankee dollar to the British shilling, especially when the dollar is so near and the shilling so far away."

The Montreal Gazette remarks that the killing of the Laurier Government of the fast Atlantic mail arrangement agrees with the spirit of this Boston utterance. It gives the head of the Canadian Government a claim for consistency in one thing, and that about the only thing in which it could have been profitably inconsistent.

A MEMORIAL SUGGESTED.

Mr. WILLIAM DENNIS, Treasurer of the Halifax Herald's Memorial Fund, has issued an appeal to the Nova Scotia school teachers and children to add to the fund about $7,500 for the purpose of erecting a memorial to the Canadian soldiers of the Queen who have recently won the laurel and the cypress,—something to commemorate in a handsome and permanent manner the new epoch in Imperial history and the glorious work done by the sons of Canada in South Africa.

Mr. Dennis points out that "one of the most striking features of all the great cities of the United States—indeed, there is scarcely a town of 10,000 inhabitants that is not conspicuous in this respect—is the magnificent memorials erected in honor of the men who fought and fell in the great civil war; and one of the most touching things in their national life is the public holiday known as "Memorial Day," when hundreds of thousands of the graves of the fallen heroes are visited by the surviving veterans and decorated with flowers and wreaths, and the monuments are garlanded with other mementoes of the nation's love and gratitude."

Mr. Dennis will be happy to receive contributions from the school children of Prince Edward Island, and he has asked THE EXAMINER to acknowledge such contributions as may be made. This we shall be glad to do.

But it would give THE EXAMINER even greater pleasure to be the medium by which contributions may be made towards the erection of a memorial in our own city of Charlottetown, of our own fallen heroes, Taylor and Riggs, and of our own live men who have so nobly assisted in the great national work of unifying the Empire. Let us have an expression of public opinion in regard to this proposition.

On the eve of the election tenders have been called for "the providing and delivery" of ballast for Canoe Cove Breakwater. Sir Louis Davies would probably win in the coming contest,—if the people had not so often already been deceived and disappointed by the Government of which he is a member.

Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

But some stubborn people wait until "down sick" before trying to ward off illness or cure it. The wise recognize in the word "Hood's" assurance of health.

SECRECY OF THE BALLOT.

Since the return of Sir Louis Davies, The Patriot has plucked up courage to carry on the unmanly game of intimidating a certain class of electors by trying to convince them that the secrecy of the ballot has been destroyed. Needless to say that while it charges THE EXAMINER with having "deliberately falsified" etc., it has not published the following subsection of section 96 referring to the secrecy of the ballot:

"Every one who violates any provisions of this section (including sub. sec. 5 as amended by the Senate) shall be guilty of an indictable offence, and liable to a penalty, not exceeding two hundred dollars, and to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labor, in default of payment of such penalty."

We note that the Patriot promises to "call attention" to a paragraph quoted from the Mail and Empire in which the secrecy of the ballot is assured, "which, also," it says, "seems to have been published to mislead the public!" We shall await the Patriot's further developments. In the meantime the public must, and will, feel sure, despite the "Liberal" efforts to intimidate the electors referred to. The party which resorts to such tactics must be in a bad way; and must be aware of the fact.

"DANCE, YOU BEGGARS, DANCE!"

(Montreal Star.)

Sir Wilfrid having announced at Sohier Park that he was never pledged to Free Trade, the lesser lights are beginning to cavort to that tune. It's another case of "dance, you beggars, dance!" to apply the Fosterian description. Here is a statement of Hon. George W. Ross, the Ontario Premier, made at Glencoe, Ont., last week:

"As a matter of fact, the Liberal party were never free traders out and out any more than Sir John Macdonald was a protectionist out and out. The main difference between the two parties is that one adopted protection for protection sake, the other believed in a revenue tariff so adjusted as to give reasonable protection to our industries and at the same time afford a revenue for public purposes."

"Dance, you beggars, dance!"

Mr. Ross also said:

"Now, let us calmly discuss this (reciprocity in preferential trade) as a business proposition. From a Canadian standpoint it would certainly be a great advantage. A duty of 5 per cent on the food products imported by Great Britain would mean a great deal to Canadians. It would, to doubt, largely stimulate the production of grain and cattle and all dairy products. It would no doubt broaden our farms and promote the settlement of our prairies, and would be an inducement to the British capitalist to make varied investments in Canada. Nobody disputes the value such a preference would be to us, and no Liberal, so far as I know, would utter a single objection to it. Both parties are agreed as to its value from a Canadian standpoint."

Then Mr. Ross argued at much greater length that it is impossible to obtain this preference. Of course, he had in mind Premier Laurier's declaration to the British Government and British public that Canada did not want such a preference, and the Globe's echo that Great Britain must be "restered" with requests for this preference. And so, perforce, Mr. Ross must declare that Canada cannot possibly obtain this "greater advantage."

"Dance, you beggars, dance!"
