It was reported from Montreal yesterday that there were no P.E.I. potatoes there because of a small crop here and the high prices being asked. However, shippers here when asked about the condition said they did not ship much to the Quebec metropolis at any time because they had always found it a "very limited market".

Premier Returns From Royal Fair

If Islanders would "point" for the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto there is no doubt they would carry off a far greater number of the top trophies than they do at present. The opinion was expressed yesterday by Premier J. Walter Jones who had just returned to the Province from attending the big annual event.

The Premier did not believe that the Island would do much in the way of winning prizes in the horse and grain classes, but he expressed disappointment that the Province had not made a much better showing in the potato class. He also thought that breeders here could do much better in the cattle classes.

He thought Prince Edward Islanders in general took the Royal Winter Fair too much for granted and did not make enough effort to produce the top quality show animals demanded by such a fair.

In remarking on the recent criticism offered by Mr. H. W. Clay of the judging standards in Central Canada fairs, the Premier said that Mr. Clay "has been proving his remarks for years". As senior livestock fieldman for the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Mr. Clay has been greatly instrumental in improving the quality of hogs here to the extent where Island-bred swine are almost universally recognized as the producers of the best Westshire sides in North America. He said this week that show standards at Central Canada fairs should be changed due to the fact that judges were placing Island-bred hogs far down the list in the breeding classes while awarding them most of the top honors in the carcass classes.

The Island developed type of Yorkshire hogs are in wide demand as breeding stock in practically all parts of this continent where swine breeding is in vogue. In recent years many of them have been shipped from here to some of the most famous breeding areas in both Canada and the United States.

No Island Cattle Premier Jones said there were no Island cattle entered in the Royal and gave as his opinion the reason was that we are too far from the fair for local breeders to take part. He stated that it was a costly business to ship cattle to the fair and said that he personally had not sent any. The Premier is one of the better known Canadian breeders of Holsteins.

During his stay in Toronto he was visited by his daughter, Mrs. Earl Siegrest, of London, Ontario. The Premier said he liked to attend the Royal Winter Fair because agriculturists from all over Canada were usually present and he had an opportunity to talk with them and keep in touch with the latest developments. He was invited to officially close the fair this year, but said he declined the honor because "I had to get back to work".

Hillsboro Bridge He did not visit Ottawa on his holiday, but when asked for a comment on the recent decision of the Board of Transport Commissioners who upheld the Canadian National Railway in its decision to abandon the operation of the line across the Hillsborough Bridge, he said he did not think the Province would appeal the decision. The Premier felt there would be little use in an appeal. With abandonment of the railway service between this city and Murray River he thought there would no longer be any need for a railway bridge. When asked about the steel bridge which the Province purchased, he remarked that it might be sold profitably in view of the existing steel shortage. The bridge was one originally purchased by the Chinese Nationalist Government and never delivered to them. It was later acquired by the Province and was to be used to cross the Hillsborough River with an extra span to be used crossing the North River. The Premier had no comment on what might be done if the Chinese bridge were sold.

Will Continue (Continued from Page 1) clause protecting the freight rates preference held by the Maritime Provinces under the Maritime Freight Rates Act was written today into the government's railway bill by the special railway legislation committee of the Commons.

Transport Minister Chevrier said he did not think the amendment was necessary. He believed the legislation fully protected the Maritimes, but he had agreed to the further protective clause after hearing arguments by Maritime counsel. The amendment specifically sets out that the lines designated as "eastern lines" under the Maritime Freight Rates Act shall be exempt from freight rates equalization which may be imposed by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

The Minister said in reply to questions that the new clause would simply "bind the preference enjoyed by the Maritimes, but not necessarily the present rates."

Salary Increase Mr. Chevrier also told the committee the government is willing to accept a further amendment to the legislation providing for a salary increase from $10,000 to $12,000 for the three ordinary commissioners of the Board of Transport Commissioners and from $10,000 to $13,000 for the deputy assistant commissioner. The legislation already provides for an increase from $15,000 to $16,444 for the chief commissioner. The committee did not deal with this amendment but will take it up when it meets again Friday.

Also stood over to Friday was an amendment providing that the annual payment to a maximum of $7,000,000, to be made during the late Edward Benes, former president of Czechoslovakia and Canadian National Railways for upkeep of trackage in a portion of Northern Ontario, be applied to a reduction in freight rates on freight moving east to west over the trackage involved. Leonard Knowles, traffic adviser to the Royal Commission on Transportation, told the committee in reply to questions he did not think proposed changes in the rate structure would have much effect on rates into Vancouver.

He said the port of Vancouver should not worry about its rates on such freight as iron and steel because it could always get such freight by boat.

Small Plane Missing In Northland

HALIFAX, Nov. 20 (CP)—The R. C. A. F. reported tonight a single-engine Norseman civilian plane owned by Mont Laurier Airways, Quebec, Province, had been missing in the northland since Sunday.

The plane, on a hop from North Ring Lake to White Fish Lake, was last heard near Fort Chimo, an United States base about 300 miles northwest of Goose Bay, Labrador.

A teletype message from the northland today said the plane seemed to circle near Chimo in bad weather, as if in a landing attempt, then it sounded as if in a dive before the engine faded. There was no indication of the plane's identification letters were "CFCP1".

Flt. Lt. Jim Barlow left the Greenwood, N.S., air force base tonight to direct a search for the missing craft from Goose Bay. U.S. aircraft and personnel will take part as well as Canadian. The Air Force said Mont Laurier Airways is based near Montreal but could not give its exact location. It was understood the plane was under charter to prospectors.

Immigration

(Continued from Page 1) brilliant operations under trying conditions in Korea, will be allowed to take his naval uniform with him when he is discharged. Naval officials said he paid for it and it is therefore his property, but he will be prosecuted if he wears it.

As a member of the navy's permanent force, money which he paid into the navy's pension fund will be returned to him. He also may be given, if he asks for it, transportation back to the place of his enlistment—Saint John, N.B. But the navy doubts that he will want that—it would bring him so much closer to the man he impersonated—Dr. Joseph Cyr of Edmundston, N. B., now practising in Grand Falls, N. B. Just why he decided to join the navy under the assumed name remains a mystery. The man whose adventure has intrigued the country is keeping mum.

At Victoria, a high-ranking naval officer said Demara has not divulged the reason for his action, and it wasn't within the scope of the inquiry to ask him why. "So far as we know, he is a doctor," the officer said. "At least no one without medical knowledge could have done what he did in Korea."

Latest information here was that Demara, in his youthful and venturesome days, at one time served in the U.S. Navy as a pharmaceutical mate, with training to do emergency medical work.

In Lawrence, Mass., last night Demara's father said so far as he knew the only experience his son had in medicine was as an orderly at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary in Boston.

Ferdinand Demara, Sr., a motion picture projectionist, was to have left Lawrence for Ottawa to explain his son's position to naval authorities. But so far, he has not shown up and it appeared likely that he has changed his mind.

As a surgeon lieutenant aboard the Cayuga, Demara performed such intricate surgery on South Koreans as collapsing a lung, amputating limbs and removing a bullet from near the heart.

In fact, it was his fame as a surgeon that brought the hoax to light. A story dealing with his surgery and identifying him as Dr. Cyr, astonished the real Dr. Cyr who was practising at Grand Falls. He told R.C.M.P. that his certification papers had disappeared.

Will Address Joint Meeting Of Service Clubs

The Kinsmen and Kiwanis clubs of this city will be joint hosts on Nov. 23 at The Charlottetown when the guest speaker will be Mr. G. W. St. John Chadwick, senior secretary at the United Kingdom High Commission, Ottawa.

Mr. Chadwick will make a brief speaking tour of the Eastern Provinces this month prior to leaving Canada after two years in his present post. A native of London, England, where he was born in 1915, he received his education at Cambridge University where he won a scholarship in modern languages. He later studied at the Sorbonne, Lausanne and Bonn.

Mr. Chadwick joined the Army in which he served until 1940 when he was transferred to the Colonial Office. Three years later he was posted as secretary to the Parliamentary Mission to Newfoundland and later attended several aviation conferences in Bermuda and Newfoundland. In 1949 he was attached to the United Kingdom delegation to the United Nations at New York.

The author of several books on travel in Persia and Russia, he is married to the former Miss Madeleine Boucheron of Paris, France. They have two sons.

N. B. Dairymen's Annual Meeting

SUSSEX, N. B., Nov. 20 (CP)—Lower butter production, a higher cheese output, a small decrease in the number of dairy cattle and balancing increase in other cattle types were reported today at the annual convention of the New Brunswick Dairymen's Association.

C. Frank MacDonald, Moncton, was re-elected president. At a meeting of the New Brunswick Butter Makers' Association, Andrew Stewart, Fredericton, succeeded Kennedy McKnight, Sussex, as president.

Angry Scenes As Police Halt Lottery

QUEBEC, Nov. 20 (CP)—Chairs were smashed and a crowd of 9,000 roared angrily last night as Provincial Police entered the Quebec Coliseum and seized stubs to be used for the drawing of an automobile and a refrigerator.

When news of the police action was announced on loud-speakers before the final event of a wrestling program, spectators booed, and tossed bottles of pop. A police official who tried to explain the situation was shouted down.

Police seized the refrigerator, but not the automobile because the bill of sale was not signed. The situation took a serious turn when about 4,000 people refused to leave the premises, shouting they wanted their money back. Chairs were tossed and smashed, part of the wrestling ring was taken down.

The last of the demonstrators filed out of the Coliseum around 1 a.m. this morning. No arrests were made. Lt.-Col. Leon Lambert, Provincial Police director for Quebec district, said today that organizers were given advance warning that their drawing was illegal and that police would crack down on any attempt to carry it through.

Fairview W.M.S. Annual Bazaar

The Fairview Baptist W. M. S. held their annual mite-box opening and bazaar at the home of Mrs. Irving Leard, Tuesday evening, Nov. 18, with a goodly number in attendance.

The meeting opened by singing "Jesus Shall Reign" with the President, Mrs. Paige Nunn, presiding. The Scripture was read by Mrs. J. R. Neill from the eighth chapter of Second Corinthians, verses 1-15, followed with prayer by Rev. H. Barber.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and the roll call was answered by each member responding with a verse of Scripture, containing the word "give," and handing in their mite-box.

Demara Not Saying Why Enlisted As Doctor Cyr

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 20 (CP)—Ferdinand Waldo Demara Jr. is not telling anybody why he joined the Royal Canadian Navy under the assumed name of Dr. Joseph Cyr.

The man whose strange adventure has intrigued the continent, will be released shortly, following establishment of his identity by a naval board of inquiry.

In Ottawa last night it was announced he is Demara, an American originally from Lawrence, Mass. He is being discharged from the service for entering it under false papers. He was alleged to have used those of Dr. Joseph Cyr of Grand Falls, N. B.

But why he did so is still a mystery—even to high naval officers here who conducted the inquiry. "He has not told us," a top-ranking officer said today. "And, of course, it does not come within the scope of the official inquiry to ask him why."

"So far as we know he is a doctor. At least no one without medical knowledge could have done what he did in Korea," a top-ranking officer said today. "And, of course, it does not come within the scope of the official inquiry to ask him why."

A check with the Attorney General's department showed it would be legal to defer the election.
