Knowles Says Strong CCF Needed To Keep PM In Check

Stanley Knowles, deputy leader of the CCF party, said Thursday night Prime Minister Diefenbaker "thinks the government of Canada is his government."

He told a public meeting at Summerside that if by chance Canada is to have another "Diefenbaker government it is imperative that he Mr. Diefenbaker be held in check by an opposition that is on its toes."

"That rules the Liberals out, and they really are going out this time," he said. "I sense all over Canada a realization that the CCF must this time become either the government or the official opposition."

The statements were included in excerpts from the text of a speech issued to the press before delivery.

CRAFTY DEVICE

Mr. Knowles accused Mr. Diefenbaker of using a "crafty device" to bring about dissolution of the last Parliament and the March 31 federal election.

Mr. Diefenbaker made a speech as to why he had to have an election but denied opposition groups the basic right to reply.

"It was the one-man complex at its worst," he said. "It looks as though the motion to abolish the closure rule was just stage play, for here was closure in the extreme, the closing out of parliament itself, with no one being given the right to say a word except one man."

RODE ROUGH-SHOD

The Conservative government during the last Parliament rode rough-shod over the rights of Parliament in a way that "ill befits a party that called for Parliament to be fully informed; for Parliament to be supreme."

"Let no tory talk about the rule of law, about respect for the chair. The only law they know is the law of expediency. They have made it crystal clear what they would do to the rights of Parliament if they had a clear majority."

Many Parents Attend S'Side School At Home Program

The annual "at home" night at the Summerside elementary and high schools followed by a fashion show by girls of the senior grades were enthusiastically attended last evening by a large number of parents and friends.

The supervisor, Mr. Clarence Mercer, and the teachers were present in their various classrooms to greet the large group of parents, some of whom were seeing the interior of the new High School for the first time.

Teachers and parents discussed various school problems, inspected the several departments and facilities provided and talked over student progress.

Undoubtedly many came away feeling a close tie with their school, its teachers, as well as a knowledge of present day teaching methods and some of the problems involved.

The fashion show in the Civic Auditorium, which followed was largely attended also, as girls from grades ten, eleven and twelve home economice classes modelled a wide range of apparel from sports wear to evening dresses. The items modelled were made by the girls as part of their home economics training under the instruction of Mrs. Allison MacLean and Mrs. Davis Lidstone.

Commentators for the show were Jean De Lancey, Anita Yeo, Hester MacPhee and Barbara Cameron, while Barbara Beaton was chairman and welcomed the gathering.

The show was opened by selections sung by the High School Glee Club comprised of approximately 40 boys and girls and the hour long program featured a piano solo by Donnie Schurman and vocal selections by Catherine Rankin and Ruth Cairns. Mr. Gabriel Chiasson supplied the musical backaccompanied the vocalists at the ground for the modelling and piano.

Granary Is Lost In Fire

Fire of unknown origin at the farm home of Mr. Gerritt Loo, Springfield, on Friday evening resulted in the loss of a building used as a granary with the contents, a machine shed and machinery, and in damage to one end of the main barn.

Kensington firemen responding to a call for help were delayed in reaching the scene of the fire when the snow plow on duty in the area became ditched in attempting to clear the farm lane and could only be moved when a second plow was brought into action. The fire equipment then moved in and brought the fire under control.

The fire was discovered before 10 p.m. when a commotion among the sheep at the barn attracted Mr. Loo's attention. Sparks igniting hay stored in the barn created a serious danger, and the firemen remained on duty until 2 o'clock the following morning.

Plows Aid In Getting Patient To P.C. Hospital

Daniel MacPhee, 65-year-old resident of Springton was rushed to the Prince County Hospital through drifts and swirling snow, Wednesday night, suffering from a gall bladder infection. ## No Decision On Wellington Fire Equipment

Trade Board Will Ask For Harvard St. Paving

On a motion of Mr. J. Frank Arnett, the Summerside Board of Trade last night decided to petition the town to complete the paving of Harvard Street from the C. N. R. crossing at the east of the town to a point where it joins Water Street. Furthermore it was decided that the town be asked to make Harvard Street a through Street.

The board signified its strong support of the move to get people out to vote on March 31st. One thousand car stickers will be purchased and distributed as part of the board's efforts to encourage everyone eligible to exercise their franchise.

Some discussion took place on the proposed change in the C. N. R. Service and the installation of a railiner between Moncton and Charlottetown. The general opinion of the board was that no objection to plan be voiced at present or at least until more information is available. it was felt that if such a change would improve the present service and would be beneficial in other ways to the public then the board would be in favor of it. The president is to write the Maritime superintendent for detailed information on the proposed change.

Mr. Russell Phaneuf asked the board what progress was being made on the publication of the industrial survey book which the board is sponsoring. Mr. Mungall replied that several of the firms which he had asked to submit certain data had not replied up to the present and that it was necessary to have this information in order to complete the book.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mr. MacLaggan and was held at the plant of Jenkins Bros., Ltd. This is in keeping with the practice of the board of holding their regular monthly meeting at the place of business of the various members.

Last night, following the business part of the meeting, the members were taken on a tour of the Jenkins plant where its operation was fully explained by Mr. Jenkins. Expressions of appreciation for his hospitality and his cooperation were voiced by the members of the board who were also treated to a delightful supper which highlighted some of the products of the firm.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Jenkins was presented by president MacClaggan and heartily applauded by every member present as their appreciation for a very wonderful evening.

Snow Plowing Important In Election Says Minister

Hon. J. George MacKay last night told an O'Leary Liberal meeting that although snow plowing was a provincial matter, "when Federal elections are called in the middle of the winter, snow plowing becomes a very important part of the campaign."

Realizing that until the previous night the snow fall had been heaviest in the Western part of the Province, Mr. Mackay said the Highways Department had made every effort to see that the needs of Prince County were met.

FOUR TO A DISTRICT

To this end, extra plows were brought from Charlottetown and Summerside so that at least four plows were operating in each district of Prince. Altogether from eight to ten extra plows were in operation, over and above the normal compliment for the County.

To further illustrate the effort which the Department exerted on behalf of the County, Mr. MacKay said that out of 42 plows operating in the Province, sixteen were working in Prince.

The Minister noted that snow clearing in the Province is a comparatively new activity. Prior to 1938, he said, no attempt was made to keep the roads open after Christmas. Only six plows were in operation at that time and these were engaged mainly in keeping the roads open near Charlottetown and Summerside.

GREAT ADVANCES

He reported that since the war the Department began building up a stock of road building equipment with snow plow attachments so that in 1950 the number of such units had increased to 29.

Now, he said, with the program of widening roads the fleet of plows has been increased to 66 with several contractors' units available if required. In addition to this, there are 16 sanding crews.

Speaking on behalf of Liberal candidate, J. Watson MacNaught, Mr. MacKay outlined the future road building program of the Government.

He strongly attacked the platform of the Conservative Party stating that Mr. Diefenbaker had won his election through promises just as had his predecessor, R. B. Bennett.

He claimed that the farm stabilization act "about which there had been so much ado" was in effect nothing different than that which had been in effect under the Liberal Government.

NO RELIEF HERE

He said Diefenbaker was attempting to relieve unemployment in Prince Edward Island by voting $200,000 for a survey of the possibilities of a causeway. "I wish someone would tell me how an economic survey of the Northumberland causeway will bring five cents to our unemployed," said Mr. MacKay.

The Minister reminded his audience that the Liberal Government had pjoured millions of dollars into P.E.I. in such things as social assistance, Trans Canada Highway, Old Age Pensions, Family Allowances, the Hillsboro Bridge and other measures.

Mr. MacKay said the reason why the Government had not brought down a budget before dissolution of Parliament, they were afraid of the reaction of the people when they would learn of the huge deficit that had been piled up during the few months the Government was in power.

80 Garages For Slemon Park

The construction of 80 car garages for the permanent married quarters at Slemon Park, R. C. A. F. Station, Summerside, to begin as soon as the frost is out of the ground was announced yesterday by Dr. O. H. Phillips, P. C., candidate for Prince County.

There are presently no garages in the permanent married quarters.

The work is to be done by a local labor force, using materials supplied locally and will be under the supervision of the R. C. A. F., at a reported approximate cost of $80,000.

Dr. Phillips has been striving for action on this project for some time and confirmation was received yesterday.

Scientists Sure Satellite Burned

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) Explorer II probably burned to dust in a plunge toward earth, scientists decided Thursday. The would-be U.S. satellite definitely did not go into orbit.

The scientists said a 40 - inch rocket that was supposed to boost the satellite to gravity - defying speed failed to ignite and Explorer II behaved like any other surface - to - surface missile.

Scientists ruled out any other possibility such as a failure of the satellite's radios which would have left it circling the earth in silence.

They said it was not known why the automatic ignition system in the last stage failed after the first three stages functioned perfectly. It would be very difficult to find out the reason, they added.

Explorer II, six-inches in diameter and more than 6½ feet long, probably plummeted into the earth's atmosphere some 1,900 miles from Cape Canaveral where it was launched at 2:28 p.m. AST Wednesday. It carried with it the 40 pounds of still unburned solid fuel in the last stage rocket.

DIED FIERY DEATH

Its own high speed and the friction of the earth's atmosphere produced enormous heat and the metal satellite died a fiery and sudden death.

The statement, coming 24 hours after the four-stage satellite carrying Jupiter - C rocket was launched, was made jointly by Maj.-Gen. John B. Medaris, army missile chief; Dr. William H. Pickering, jet propulsion laboratory director, and Dr. J. E. Froehlich, satellite director for JPL.

KENSINGTON

A robin has been making himself at home on the lawns of the J.A. MacKenzie home at Kensington. Quite disregarding the fact that he should have joined those of his kind on their southward journey, he joins the birds that normally remain here all winter when they gather to partake of the food placed for their benefit. On the other hand maybe the little fellow guessed that there would be lots of places worse than P.E. Island in which to spend this particular winter which has favored us so noticably, at least up to mid-February.

Mrs. Crawford Picketts, Kelvin, left on a trip to Boston, Mass., on Saturday, February 15.

Debby Nelson, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nelson, Kensington, had the misfortune to break a bone in her leg when she fell while climbing at her home. Friends and schoolmates wish her a rapid recovery from her injury.

Mrs. John R. Cameron, Kensington, left on February 14 to visit her mother, Mrs. Vincent at Saint John, who is seriously ill and has been rushed to the hospital where it is expected she will undergo a major operation. Mrs. Cameron and her husband had returned only a few lays previously from Saint John, N.B.

Friends of Mr. Eric Sudsbury will be pleased to know that he is making a good recovery at his home at Kensington, since his return after undergoing surgery at the Prince County Hospital, Summerside.

Miss Roberta Hogg, Commercial student at Summerside, spent the past weekend at her home at Kelvin Grove.

Mr. Errol Caseley who is taking Commerce and related subjects at St. Dunstan's University, Charlottetown, spent the past weekend at his home at Kelvin. Bur.

Liberal Meeting Held Last Night In O'Leary Theatre

Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, Liberal candidate in the Federal election, was the main speaker at an enthusiastic meeting in the Verdun Theatre, O'Leary last night.

Other prominent speakers were Hon. George MacKay, Provincial Minister of Highways, Mr. Fred Ramsay, M.L.A., and Mr. Prosper Arsenault, M.L.A.,

After expressing his pleasure at the large attendance, Mr. MacNaught dealt with election issues making particular reference to the social welfare program brought in by the Liberal Governments over the years. He gave assurance that an unemployment insurance program for truckmen would be considered by a Liberal Government if elected, in spite of apparent difficulties. He felt that these difficulties could be ironed out in the same manner as was problems in connection with fishermen's insurance. Prior to the June 10th election an insurance scheme for farm labourers was being worked out by the Liberal Government.

The speaker dealt at some length with the innumerable promises made by Mr. Diefenbaker and said that a project could not be considered definite unless included in the estimates.

TO PAVE ROAD

Hon. Mr. MacKay announced that an asphalt plant would be set up in West Prince this summer and that tenders had been called on thirteen miles of permanent paving between Alberton and Tignish.

Mr. Ramsay also spoke of the proposed paving program in West Prince and urged support for Mr. MacNaught in the forthcoming election.

Mr. Arsenault congratulated the people of O'Leary on the construction of three fine new buildings last year, a Federal Building, hospital and a new church.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Arnold Wood, president of the West Prince Liberal Association.

Adjudicate 4 One-Act Plays

On Tuesday evening, March 4th, four one-act plays were presented for adjudication by the Miscouche High School. The plays were "Jimmy the Genuis", by Grade X, "Squaring It With The Boss," by Grade XI "Les Deux Extremes" by the French pupils, "How Many Marys" by Grade XII.

After the plays had been presented Father Adrien Arsenault, director of dramatics at Saint Dunstan's University gave a very constructive criticism of the four plays. He praised the youthful actors and actresses for their fine performances in each of the four plays. He encouraged them to continue their interest in dramatics and urged them not to be satisfied to sit at home and be entertained by others. Father Arsenault was substituting for Mrs. Elizabeth Willet, who was confined to her home through illness.

These four plays are entered in the High School class of the Junior Drama Festival. There are two other classes, one for schools of three rooms or over and one for all other Island schools.
