HORSE AND BUGGY for sale, cheap. Enquire at EXAMINER Office. — [Sept. 22]

JUST RECEIVED, every variety of Bulbs, at the Agriculture Store, from five cents and upwards. — Oct 4, 3m

MR. R. LUTTRELL, formerly traffic superintendent of the Intercolonial Railway, has received the appointment of superintendent of one of the local roads just opened in Ontario.

PASSENGERS coming by railway to the Exhibition will see standing at the station our white horses and carriage, into which they can jump without asking any questions and get driven to Rocklin House. 3m

TEARE'S DIRECTORY. — Quitting advertising in dull times is like tearing out a mill-dam because the water is low. Either plan will prevent good times ever coming. Teare's Directory is the harbinger of a commercial revival, and no wonder, it has already received so large a circulation.

THE condition of St. John's fire department reminds a reader of the "News" of the following lines, familiar twenty-five years ago, and which are not confined in their application to that particular section:

When fire is cried and danger is high,
"God and the firemen" is the peoples cry;
But when 'tis out, and all things righted,
God is forgotten and the firemen slighted.

At the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court this forenoon, R. Gallant, drunk and incapable, was fined $1 and costs for four days. Christopher Axworthy, arrested for disorderly conduct, was discharged. James Rush, drunk and incapable, was fined $1 and costs for four days. John Langhan, drunk and disorderly, was $4 or twenty days. Daniel McDonald, for the same offense, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment. Bernard McCarvill, drunk and incapable, was fined $1 or four days.

LITERARY LABORERS. — Imagine a railway laborer, who, after mending roads all day, would read Petrarch, Schiller, Victor Hugo, Dante, Goethe and Beranger, and write verses. Yet this is what, according to the literary papers, Alex. Anderson, a Scotch railway trackman, does. His strongest poems are those relating to his life as a "surface man" or track mender. He writes of the engine bounding along its track:

Yet I glory to think that I help to keep
His footsteps a little in place,
And he thunders his thanks as he rushes on
In the lightning speed of his race,
And I think he knows when he looks at me
That though shaped of clay I stand,
I could make him as weak as a three hours
child.
With a paltry twitch of my hand.

The Future of the Canadian Cattle Trade.

There is likely to be an immense business done in the cattle export trade next year. There is no appearance of the restriction which England has placed on the importation of American cattle being removed, and we now learn that restriction may possibly be extended to sheep as well. The veterinary surgeon in charge of the Levis cattle quarantine, says the Montreal Star, is of opinion that the cattle trade next year will exceed that of all previous ones, and cattle exporters in Montreal and Toronto are said to entertain a similar opinion. The exportation of horses, too, is on the increase, while we see by the telegrams that "an enterprising dry goods firm in Quebec has commenced exporting potatoes to Europe." Then we notice that the Great Eastern is to be employed in the cattle trade between America and England; and these indications point to these new branches of our export trade as rapidly increasing.
