Dwelling Burned At Cambridge A fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the home of Mr. Everett Irving of Cambridge yesterday morning, at 11 A.M. It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Irving were at home at the time, and noticed the fire in the upstairs section of the house. Before long the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to put it out, despite the added assistance of neighbors who had gathered. With their assistance, however, a considerable quantity of furniture was saved. None of the other buildings were damaged, but a near-by woods was in danger of catching at the height of the blaze. No report on the estimate of the damage is known, although it is reported that it is partly covered by insurance.
