THROUGH THE SIEGE. Local and Other Items.

"Well," said Mr. Scroggie, "I am through alive."
"You certainly seem to be in a fair state of preservation," said his friend. "What did you come through, it I must ask the question?"

"Through the late siege of gay festivity," said Mr. Scroggie, "and I have only one thing to thank for it."

"What's that?"
"That is the fact that I knew enough to lay in a stock of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

"Lay in what?"
"A stock of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," repeated Mr. Scroggie.

"A stock of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets! What for?"

"For good and sufficient reasons. You know my son Harry was married? Well, he is, and they invited me to come and stay over the Christmas holidays with them—put in a week of it, in fact."

"Did you go?"

"Oh! I went all right. But I bethought me, and bought half a dozen of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Harry's girl came from the city—used to work in a lawyer's office—nice, sharp, bright girl, pretty too, but she don't know anything about cooking. Went two weeks to a cooking school though and you can't tell her anything. Well, I went up and stayed seven days."

"And you've come back unscathed?"

"Without a scratch."

"And you account for it by—"

"Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. With their assistance I withstood the attacks of all the fancy dishes you can learn the art of spoiling in two weeks. But it was a fearful ordeal. I don't know where I would be if it hadn't been for Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Harry was completely prostrated, and the worst of it was I didn't dare to offer him any Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for fear of insulting his wife's cooking—him a newly married man!"

IT WAS A DRAW. For 10 round bout on the evening of the 30th, between Dick O'Brien of Lewis and George and George B. of Charlottetown resulted in a draw. The fight took place at Lewis.

A COMING TEST.—An interesting event will take place at Boston on January 8th, when Mr. J. J. Gallagher, the well-known and popular traveling representative of the Standard Oil Co., will wedded to Miss Marie Adams, daughter of the late Sen. or Michael Adams, of New York. The many friends of both Mr. Gallagher and prospective bride will wish them every happiness.—Moncton Transcript.

NEXT SEASONS WHEELS.—It is announced that there will be no change of any appreciable change to the models of construction of next season's bicycles from those of last year's pattern and build. Inquiry among dealers has elicited the fact that, while in quantity and workmanship improvement will be made where possible, the models in both chain and chainless wheels will be practically unchanged. With most manufacturers there is a tendency toward lighter machines, while with a few the coarser brake or "free wheel" will be featured.

P. E. I. COMMERCIAL COLLEGE was reopened on Tuesday after the Christmas holidays. Up to the present date, the attendance has been good, and judging from the number of new students coming in this year the enrolment will be considerably in excess of that of the previous one. The work done by this college has not been excelled anywhere, and our young people are, fortunately taking advantage of the opportunities held out to them. As the principal is a thoroughly practical shorthand writer of large experience his students receive the full benefit of his personal teaching.

S. A. FESTIVAL.—The Juniors' Festival and Christmas Tree at the Salvation Army on New Year's evening brought out an audience that quite filled the hall. It was a pleasure to listen to the children singing and reciting their various pieces so faultlessly and the generous applause throughout, and the expressions of delight at the close testified clearly to the appreciation of the work of Miss Jennie Harris and her fellow-workers. The closing piece was the "Song of the Clock," which proved to be the tanner piece. Junior demonstrations at the Army are ever welcome and will be sure of generous patronage.

BOUGHTON ISLAND SCHOOL.—The semi-annual examination of this school took place at the schoolhouse on Friday, the 22nd ult. A goodly number of officers and visitors were present. The examination reflected great credit on the teacher, Mr. Cameron, for the manner in which he has advanced the school under his charge for the short period in which he has been engaged. We believe and know that Mr. Cameron has been a successful teacher, and his thoroughly good work shows itself here as elsewhere. Mr. E. Allen and others assisted the teacher at the examination. Prizes were distributed by the teacher and others; also confectionery, to the delight of the children. We were a long time without a school here, but now we have a good teacher and the people appreciate the same. JOSEPH H. ALLEN, Secretary.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The half yearly examination of the Ten Mile House School was held on the 22nd ult. in the presence of the trustees and a large number of the ratepayers, who followed the children in the different examinations with great interest. The pupils were examined by their teacher, Miss Emma Hughes, in geometry, history, grammar, arithmetic and other branches, and displayed a thorough knowledge of the subjects taught, as well as first class discipline in their conduct. Quite a large number of prizes were distributed and a feast in confectionery, cakes, etc., was provided by the ladies of the district, whilst the prizes were given by the teacher, Miss Hughes, who was also the recipient of a handsome present from one of the pupils. The examination afforded ample proof of the ability and industry of Miss Hughes as a teacher, and all present were well pleased with the progress made since she took charge of the school.
