

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 14, 1888.

Editorial Notes.

The New York Herald's Washington correspondent says it is probable that General Harrison will call Congress together immediately after his induction into office.

It is now said that in accordance with a recent decision of the Navy Committee, the British Government will shortly announce an admiralty scheme to build eight first-class men-of-war, a score of swift cruisers and many torpedo vessels.

Returns made to the Department of Agriculture, at Washington, show that after three years of low yields potatoes give an average of about 80 bushels per acre—nearly up to the yield of 1879.

The Amherst Gazette points out that as one result of having had a Grit Municipal Council for the past two years in Cumberland, twelve of the sixteen assessors are Grits, and seven of the nine revisers are of the same political stripe.

The revenue of the Dominion for the first four months of the current fiscal year is of a most encouraging character, the total being $12,949,053, as against $11,702,951 in the corresponding period last year, an increase of $1,200,000.

London advices state that a conference to consider the Pacific cable project will be held shortly, at which most of the leading houses interested in Canada and Australasia will be represented.

The Empire's London cable says that the whole question of crofter emigration will be raised in the House of Commons shortly upon a vote to defray the expenses of those sent last season for settlement in Manitoba.

The newspaper men of the Old World are not one whit behind their brethren of the new in the matter of enterprise. While the German Emperor was at Naples recently a reporter disguised himself as a waiter and went on board the vessel where the Emperor and King Humbert were luncheon together.

There must be a good deal of dissatisfaction in Halifax concerning the manner in which business is transacted by the city council. At a recent meeting Alderman Mosher gave notice of a motion instructing the Recorder to prepare an act for submission to the Legislature at its next session.

John Palmer, of Dorchester, N. B., who celebrated his 100th birthday a few weeks ago, has just received a renewal of his eyesight. He had been using spectacles for 50 years, but is now able to read without them without difficulty.

It may not be that marriage is a failure, but an exchange says it is a fact not without significance that the late President's popularity has steadily waned since he became known as the husband of Mrs. Cleveland. The little lady threw the President into the shade.

Boils, carbuncles, and other skin eruptions indicate that the system is endeavoring to reject poisonous acids, and that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is imperatively needed. It is the most reliable of all blood medicines.

Last Night's Concert.

The concert in St. James' Hall last evening was largely attended, and, judging from the applause which greeted the different numbers, those present thoroughly appreciated the efforts made for their amusement.

The vocal solos by Mrs. Roome and Miss Harris were well sung; but Mr. Wilson did not appear to good advantage as on former occasions. The duet of Misses Harris and Crabbe was nicely rendered, and the choruses by the choir were very good indeed.

The readings by Rev. James Carruthers and Mr. George Peake were well received. "Mark Twain's encounter with the interviewer," by the first named gentleman, creating much amusement.

The instrumental duet by Miss Brown and Mr. Earle was well played, as was also the duet by Miss Crabbe and Mr. Earle.

Master James Hyndman played his violin solo like a little man, and Mr. Earle accompanied the different performers with his usual skill.

Just before the concluding chorus, Rev. Mr. Carruthers thanked those present for their patronage, and announced that on Tuesday evening, 27th inst., Rev. John Read would deliver a lecture on "Fashion," and extended a special invitation to the ladies to attend.

The Whitechapel Murders.

Says a London despatch to the Boston Herald:—Nothing more, of course, is known regarding the Whitechapel murderer. The newspaper reporters, who might do something, are baffled by police obstruction, for the regular force is in horror lest some outsider should detect the criminal.

London advices state that a conference to consider the Pacific cable project will be held shortly, at which most of the leading houses interested in Canada and Australasia will be represented.

THE TORONTO GLOBE has done wisely in placing its Christmas number before its readers somewhat in advance of the holiday season. This will give those who desire them an opportunity to secure copies in time to send to friends, even though they be at a long distance. If the promises of the Globe are kept (and all must admit that the Globe always redeems its pledges), this Christmas number will be the finest souvenir that a Canadian can send to friends abroad. The scene from Vancouver Park, British Columbia, reproduced from one of the best of the paintings of Mr. L. R. O'Brien, president of the Royal Canadian Academy of Arts, would alone make this publication a memorable one. But this is only one of many excellent features. Canadian literature will receive a notable contribution in this magazine if the authors whose names are mentioned in connection with it do themselves justice, as no doubt they will. Every line of reading matter and every illustration is being prepared specially for the work, and the management of the whole is in the hands of the Globe's ablest men. The advertisement published elsewhere cautions the public to order early. This is a caution which should not be neglected, as the edition of all such expensive works is necessarily limited. Arrangements have been made by which any newsdealer may receive orders. If ordering through a newsdealer is not convenient, orders may be sent to the Globe direct.

The Lady Godiva must have had exceptional ally long hair since it completely concealed her lovely person. Since Ayer's Hair Vigor came into use such examples are not so rare as formerly. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but it gives it a rich, silken texture.

A McNeill will close out without reserve 100 lbs apples, all kinds, at the Market Square, next Friday, Nov. 16, at 1 o'clock.
