NOTES OF THE PAST MONTH.

By An Observer.

RUSSIA.

There has been no attempt this month (so far) to blow up trains, palaces or cities in which the Czar happens to be, so we suppose we must chronicle a quiet month. As everybody expected an explosion of some kind on the anniversary of the Czar's accession, none took place; for, as the French say, it is the unexpected that happens. The Czar, hedged in by soldiers' bayonets and policemen's sabres, showed himself to the people from a balcony for the space of several minutes, bowed several times, and was not assassinated—so we suppose everything must be considered as having gone off successfully. General Melikoff seems to be the right man in the right place; not afraid to strike when a blow is needed, but not striking without necessity. A few months of his administration will test the staying powers of the conspirators. We doubt that they will be found very great.

It seems to be the fashion just now whenever any of the minor Powers grow warlike to lay the blame on Russian and English intrigues. China and Japan are showing their teeth at each other, and as the former has also been unusually "cheeky" towards Russia, it is asserted that England is backing China, and that, consequently, Russia befriends Japan.

UNITED STATES.

In the absence of any events of much importance, California and the doings of Kearney and his friends have attracted much attention. Unfortunately for that State, rowdiness and blackguardism in the persons of Kearneyites have got hold of political power—and are acting according to their kind. The respectable members of society find themselves compelled to form an Association something like the Vigilance Committees of an earlier period. The Kearneyites passed an iniquitous and intolerant law against the employment of Chinese labourers in the State. A United States Circuit Court has declared the law unconstitutional, and the Kearneyites, vowing vengeance, are threatening to "abate the Chinese nuisance"—in other words to massacre the Chinamen; but it is not probable they will do more than talk. As the Chinese are industrious, frugal, thrifty, and sober, we can understand their being very offensive to men whose characteristics are the reverse of theirs; but to get such a class of labourers is a real advantage to any country, and to take no higher ground, we are sure the American people are far too shrewd to drive them away.

OUR OWN PROVINCE.

The Legislative Council has evidently conscientious views on the subject of suicide, so it again refuses to execute itself; and we are prevented from making our experiment of having but one Legislative body and that one elected wholly by manhood suffrage. When we get this we shall have the honour (if we are not mistaken) of being the first country in the world that has ventured on this. We, however, quite agree with a correspondent of the EXAMINER that property will not be any the less safe when the Council is abolished. Once before, P. E. I. struck out an original idea for herself, and made the experiment of a modern Parliamentary Constitution with no officials in the House. The experiment was eminently unsuccessful, and we learned that we were not wiser than all the rest of the world. If we could get our own way about the Legislative Council it might turn out better.

Deficits are the order of the day, so if we have one, we are at least in good company. Great Britain, Canada, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, P. E. Island, from greatest to least, are suffering the same thing.

We must either lessen expenditure or increase taxation. One thing should at once be done: an account for capital opened, and the receipts in payment for lands not spent as income. For the last few years the money so received has been spent in building the New Asylum, which is quite justifiable, but before that time it was spent as income. Now that most of the $800,000 has been drawn and paid for lands, it will be shameful to spend the tenants purchase money yearly. But the truth is the people are so fearful of taxation, and politicians so play upon these fears to suit their own ends, that they find themselves driven to all sorts of expedients to avoid levying necessary taxes. It may be, however, that this question will not be so important a one as we suppose. The tenants in several parts of the Island are beginning to grow restless, and to discover reasons why they should not pay any purchase money, or, at all events, should pay less, or certainly should not pay interest. When we recollect how it was impressed upon them that they ought not to pay rent, because the land which their labor had made valuable belonged to them, and not to the Landlords, we can scarcely wonder at their asking how if it was oppression to pay to a Land Lord it can be liberty to pay to a Land Commissioner. The fact of the Land Office being now made a political one, will certainly not make that Department any stronger to resist the pressure which it is evident will soon be put upon it. It is a fact not without significance that the amount received this year at the Land Office falls short of the estimates.

The people of Charlottetown are alarmed at the idea of having to pay not only thousands of dollars for their own streets without receiving a cent of road money, but also a share of the general assessment. We think, however, a satisfactory compromise can easily be found. Let the tax be levied that will satisfy the country—then let the citizens treat it with the same lordly indifference with which they have treated the poll-tax, and it will not hurt them in the least. The city poll tax for 1879 amounted to $2,980, of which $56 were paid!

OBITUARY.

The sudden death of Mr. Holton has deprived Parliament of one of its ablest constitutionalists, and the country of one of its most highly respected public men. The really touching scene in the House of Commons when on account of his death an adjournment was moved, shows that the presence of the Great Leveller gives that "touch of nature" which makes even political opponents akin.

MISCELLANEOUS.

On the 3rd, an attempt was made to assassinate General Melikoff.

Grissell, the naughty English M. P. was committed to Newgate prison on the 3rd.

The Local Parliament met on the 4th.

On the 9th a despatch was submitted to the Legislature from the Secretary of State, announcing that the Privy Council had decided that Prince Edward Island is not entitled to make any claim on the Fishery Award which any other Province in the Dominion would not be entitled to make.

The death of Donald Currie, late Collector of Customs, occurred on the 10th.

On the 10th, Sir S. L. Tilley delivered his budget speech.

The dissolution of the British House of Commons was announced on the 10th.

On the 12th the Senate passed the Insolvent Bill.

On the 20th, Hon. William Campbell, Commissioner of Public Works, was elected by acclamation.

On the 23rd, a most successful (Easter) Grain and Cattle Show was held in this city.

On the 23rd, the Bill to abolish the Legislative Council of this Province was defeated by the vote of the President.

On the 25th, an attempt was made to assassinate Hon. George Brown.

The celestial city is still to be the capital of New Brunswick, though it had a narrow escape from losing it, however.

The venture of sending sheep and cattle from here by the "Prince Edward" proved very successful.

Remedy for Hard Times.

Stop spending so much on fine clothes, rich food and style. Buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing; get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of running after expensive and quack doctors or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, and makes the proprietors rich, but put your trust in the greatest of all simple pure remedies, Hop Bitters that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see better times and good health. Try it once. Read of it in another column.
