Mr. Stewart Teachers Study Group Meeting

The teachers of Mount Stewart centre held a very successful Study Group Meeting in Mount Stewart School on the afternoon of Friday, May 3rd. In attendance were Miss Riley and Mr. Ross from the Department of Education and Mr. Melville MacDougall acted as chairman for the meeting.

The discussions centered chiefly on the outlined topics which were problems with which most teachers are faced at this time of year.

In speaking of under school age children beginning school in the spring, most teachers felt they couldn't give them the necessary attention. This is especially true in the over-crowded one-room rural school.

As a result, Mr. Ross felt these children would be likely to create a dislike for school. He advised the teachers to explain the matter to the parents.

Some teachers thought a child should be graded only at the end of a year while others believed that grading could be done successfully at the end of January.

However Mr. Ross cautioned teachers to observe that every child must spend at least one year in one grade and that age and ability of a child must be considered before grading him.

He suggested that supplementary work can be given to the bright child in a grade.

Ideas of how materials and teaching aids sent from the department might be preserved and used to better advantage were exchanged by the teachers.

The question of writing the grade eight and entrance examinations for experience was discussed. Most teachers agreed that if a child is well prepared for an examination, experience is not necessary and that failure is the result of lack of knowledge, not the result of inexperience.

Failure, Mr. Ross said, will urge a child to quit rather than to encourage him.

He then mentioned that a general weakness in silent reading and arithmetic fundamentals was found in most children. He felt that the child was getting too much of the wrong kind of reading such as comics which suggest poor English.

Give the child more supplementary reading and more drill and practice in arithmetic fundamentals.

Following the discussions, educational films were shown and the meeting was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

Raises Car Ferry

Continued from page 1 up to the 1975 agreement. There should be no reference to a deficit but to a service.

Speaking on an item of $54,700 for repairs and expenses connected with official railway cars under the jurisdiction of the Transport Department, Angus MacLean Progressive Conservative, Queen's said some of these cars could be used by members of the cabinet and more economical methods of travel should be employed.

"The benefit derived by cabinet ministers is out of all proportion to the cost," he said.

Georgetown and Vicinity

Mr. Charles MacLennan of Montague was a visitor to Georgetown on Tuesday, May 20th.

Mr. Adolphus Scully was a business visitor to Charlottetown on Tuesday, May 20th.

Mr. H. F. MacPhee and Mr. J. Johnston, barristers of Charlottetown, were visitors to Georgetown on Wednesday, May 21st.

Mr. Percy King of Gasperaux, road overseer, was a business visitor to Georgetown on Tuesday, May 20th.

A Provincial Government Department of Public Works road maintainer spent several days in Georgetown recently, putting a number of the streets in condition. Many of the side streets were in a badly rutted condition, due to the heavy traffic during the early spring.

On Wednesday, May 21st, Rev. W. A. Paterson, accompanied by a group of members of St. David's United Church Young People's Union, motored to Valleyfield, where they attended a Y. P. U. rally, in the afternoon, and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Buffett and four daughters of Montreal, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Walker for the past few weeks, left a few days ago by car for California, U.S.A., where Mr. Buffett will be employed.

CLAXTON MAY

L.Cpl. Alex Osborne of Gloucester, N.S., was told of Communist disturbances in Kojé's compounds.

"Been acting up, have they? he said. "Seems a rifle butt on the head would straighten them up. Or maybe a cut in their rations for a few days. That would straighten them out."

Pte. McGee Tanch of Annapolis Royal, N.S., agreed. "Yes, that's what they need, looks like."

Reminded that cruel or unusual punishment violated the Geneva Convention, Osborne said: "They don't think of that when they deal with us."

Osborne said a friend of his had been riding in an ambulance with two wounded men when the vehicle was ambushed by Reds and all were shot.

But another Canadian soldier, Pte. Harold Rayner of St. Stephen, N.B., said he thought "if we rough them up, they probably would do the same thing to our prisoners they have up north."

And that view seemed to convince everyone that though they would not use force just for its own sake they would not hesitate to use it if necessary.

The Canadians are scheduled to go through a brief period of indoctrination and will begin guarding prisoners within a week.

Trucks arrived with tents and within minutes canvas roofs were rising over the new Kojé home of the Canadian troops.

Safe Removal Of Blue Prince Cargo

Mr. Arthur Gormley, warehouse foreman for the Newfoundland Shipping Co., returned from Picton on Friday after having completed the supervision of the removal of the cargo of the "Blue Prince", prior to the ship undergoing any repairs necessary in the dry dock.

Mr. Gormley, who is an accomplished stevedore, reports that there were no casualties among the livestock and that all were removed to the Exhibition Grounds in Picton where they are being cared for by three eight hour shifts of local Picton men.

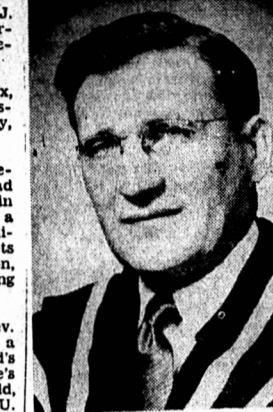

The butter and eggs in the cargo of the stranded vessel were taken by truck to Halifax, and loaded on a steamer which left immediately for St. John's.

Mr. Gormley advises that the extent of damage could only be appraised by a legal survey, and when this was determined, the work of making the necessary repairs would be commenced at once and continued until completed.

WOKING, England —(CP)—Herbert King did not appear in court when fined for driving without a licence. He wrote: "I have taken over a farm with 100 pigs and 200 chickens and if I leave them I shall be liable to a fine for cruelty to animals."

Graduates From Queens

Mr. Elmer G. MacInnis (above), son of Mrs. Catherine MacInnis and the late John A. MacInnis, Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering at Queen's University Commencement Exercises on Saturday morning, May 17th.

Mr. MacInnis received his early education at Armadale school and later matriculated at Prince of Wales College. During the war years, he was a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force and upon discharge entered Queen's University, Kingston. He has accepted a position with an engineering firm in Boston, Mass. Mr. MacInnis is married to the former Georgina Trainor, R.N., West Royalty, Charlottetown.

Back In Jail After Second Brief Escape

With an ingenuity worthy of a better cause, two prisoners who were being transported in the "paddy wagon" from the City police station to Queen's County jail on Friday, picked the lock of the handcuffs by which they were linked together, and made a dash for it. The prisoners dashed out and made their bid for freedom, in the direction of the Exhibition Grounds.

Within a matter of minutes, five City police officers, headed by Sgt. A. J. Dowling, and a detachment of 10 members of the R.C.M.P., under Sgt. "Doug" George, were closing in on the escaped men, who were rounded up after half an hour of liberty. Csts. Fred Plimock and George Cass, who made the arrests at the rear of the Exhibition Grounds, met with no resistance from the prisoners.

The same pair escaped from jail on the previous Saturday, made off with a car and after crashing into several parking meters, headed into and partly demolished the front of the Modern Cafe on Queen Street, before being caught up with, by City Police.

Earlier in the day the two men had appeared before Magistrate, K.M. Martin in the City Police Court, once charged with jailbreaking, reckless driving, theft of a motor car, and obstructing the police, while the other was charged with jailbreaking and theft of a car. Both were remanded for one week for sentence. A further charge against each, that of escaping lawful custody, will be brought this week.

Is Impressed By Visit To Canada

Previous to his leaving by air for Montreal at noon Friday Bishop Jacob of the Church of India, who had been the house guest of Lt.-Col. and Mrs. K. S. Rogers during his stay in the city, gave his impressions of Canada as gathered from his recent coast to coast tour, and also spoke of the changes taking place in the social and domestic life of India, due to the spread of Christian influence.

"Canada is a country of boundless opportunities," Bishop Jacob said. "Its resources are a constant source of amazement to me as I travel from place to place and they are unfolded to me by sight and from my reading. I can only picture for your country an equivalent progress to that of the United States, in even a shorter time."

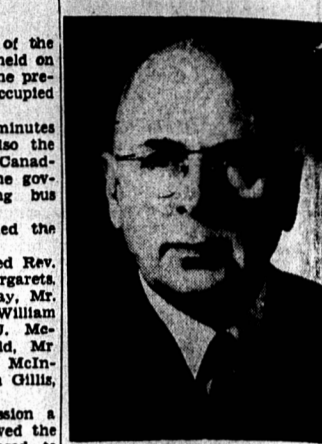

When asked about India, the Bishop said that Communism cannot possibly gain a foothold in there. "The terrible experience of the people of Korea is well known to even the most illiterate, and the inroads made by Communists in Bombay and two or three other centres, have come to a dead stop, he said."

In speaking of the recent election, he explained that 350 million persons over 21, voted, while 3 million who failed to register, did not vote. A reluctance on the part of women to give their names for registration was the chief cause for this omission. 60 per cent more women than men voted at 22,000 polling stations.

In commenting on the labour situation there, Bishop Jacob said: "I am sorry to say that the 8-hour day is unknown except for railway employees. Even people holding Government positions are required to work much longer. I am hoping however that something will be done shortly to relieve this situation and make life more pleasing to vast numbers of over-worked people."

Bishop Jacob will continue his tour from East to West across the United States, beginning in New York this week, before returning to his native India.

Celebrates 50 Years With Company

C. A. E. (Chester) Duffin

MONTREAL — Chester (C.A.R.) Duffin, secretary and sales manager of Davis & Lawrence Company (Canada) Ltd., manufacturing pharmacists, was recently honored on the occasion of his golden anniversary with the firm. He is also a director of both the Canadian and U.S. branches of the company.

Starting with Davis & Lawrence in 1902, Mr. Duffin has held almost every position with the company. In the early days, when travellers were conveyed by horse and buggy, he called on every territory in Canada and Newfoundland.

"Selling in those days," he recalls, "was good if you could gross $200 in a month. And often your success depended more on your horse holding out than on your own sales ability."

Today, Davis & Lawrence products are sold in almost every country of the world. The product that started the company in 1839, "Painkiller", continues to enjoy wide acceptance. In 1950 the company was appointed sole Canadian distributors for U.S. Vitamin Corporation and affiliates, Casimir Fuel Laboratories, Inc., and Professional Laboratories, Inc., of New York.

At the dinner held in honor of Mr. Duffin's 50 years of service, a presentation was made by Mr. F. W. Ballentine, vice-president, on behalf of Mr. G. D. Lawrence, president of the company.
