Opening lead—king of diamonds.

From a rubber bridge game comes this hand which is not exactly a model of perfection. The hectic bidding sequence had its counterpart in the play. It turned out that East could have made five clubs, and it also turned out that South went down two at four hearts doubled.

West led the king of diamonds, on which East played low, whereupon West shifted to the king of clubs. Receiving the encouraging eight-spot from East, West continued with a club which declarer ruffed.

South now led the jack of spades to the king and took a heart finesse. At this point it appeared to declarer that he was about to make the doubled contract with an overtrick, but when he led another spade to dummy to repeat the heart finesse, East rudely interrupted the proceedings by trumping the spade.

A diamond return enabled West to lead still another spade, which East ruffed with the king, and South ended two tricks short of the contract.

The play on both sides left something to be desired. East could have insured defeat of the contract by overtaking the king of clubs to return his singleton spade. From his viewpoint, the spade lead provided a 100% guarantee of a trump trick, since there could be no way for declarer to lead hearts twice from dummy without subjecting himself to a spade ruff.

Declarer, on the other hand, neglected to take advantage of the slip in the defense. He should not have risked the possibility of a 4-1 spade break. After ruffing the club at trick three, South should have returned a diamond. Now he could not be beaten.

Assume either defender wins the diamond and returns a club. Declarer ruffs and trumps a diamond in dummy. He then takes a heart finesse, enters dummy with a spade, and takes another heart finesse, making four.

Sometimes this game of bridge is like football. The ball gets kicked back and forth.

KENSINGTON

Alison University.

His many friends will be glad to know Mr. George Semple, has sufficiently recovered following his recent operation in Prince County Hospital, to be able to return to his home in Kensington.

Dr. Morris Clark, Mrs. Clark and family of Kensington, are spending a pleasant holiday in Toronto.

Rev. L.M. and Mrs. Murray, Kensington are spending some time in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ramsey, Hamilton, have returned home from a pleasant week-end.

Mrs. Keir Crafer has returned spent in Pictou and Truro, N.S. to Charlottetown after spending a pleasant week-end at her home in Baltic.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bowser, Halifax, N.S. spent a most enjoyable week-end in Baltic, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cousins.

On Monday evening the Baltic Women's Institute entertained a large number of guests at a chicken and ham supper, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wall. A good sum was realized for the W.I. funds.

What might have resulted in a much more serious accident occurred on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keir McKay, Sea View, when their nine year old son Austin had his hand caught while helping fix a fence. He was immediately taken to the Prince County Hospital where he had it dressed and is now resting comfortably. His many friends hope he will soon be able to resume his studies in school.

Mrs. Jack Champion and Mrs. Harold Bryenton of Summerside were recent visitors of Hamilton V.C.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
