

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

An Outstanding Success

TRACK and field promoters were wearing broad smiles over the weekend after that amazing display at Memorial Field Saturday.

This was the day the Island Intercollegiate track and field championships were held and the show the young athletes put on was beyond all expectations. Their feats were terrific and 22 records went tumbling before the meet was concluded. It indeed was a day long to remember as far as track and field is concerned in this province.

DAVE BOWPELL, provincial director of physical education and the real spark behind this great show, was the happiest of all men. He had worked exceptionally hard in his job of furthering track and field interest and that work surely was paying dividends Saturday. Dave was elated as records fell one after the other, proving to all the spectators that track and field is very definitely making a great comeback here in Prince Edward Island.

The various physical educators throughout the province were joining with Dave in the rejoicing. All of these young men have worked extremely hard in their respective schools at this track and field meet and it must be noted that they were very definitely making a great comeback here in Prince Edward Island.

Records Talk Beating

SUMMERSIDE High's John Poirier cracked a 31 year old record when he jumped 20 ft 4 1/2 inches. This was 7 1/2 inches better than the previous record of Ken Beer set way back in 1932 when the great jumper was attending Prince of Wales College.

Birchwood's Andy Arsenault was another culprit as far as record-smashing was concerned. Andy broke the mile and 600 metres which he had set one week earlier in the Queen's Courtyard. His mile was 4 minutes, 47.3 seconds and his time for the 600 was 2 minutes and 17.2 seconds.

But when Andy was anchor man on the Birchwood relay team, the record breaking here was truly sensational. The old mark was 4 minutes 20 seconds but Birchwood lads clipped an amazing 11 seconds off the mark.

The Prince County athletes headed the show in senior boys girls competition. John Poirier of Summerside and Sharon Clark, Kensington were the leaders in these categories. Howard Smith of Birchwood's John MacEACHERN and Queen Charlotte's Heather MacLEAN were also prominent.

Ideal weather favored this great track and field meet and undoubtedly these excellent weather conditions did much to help the breakers of the records. It was not too hot but just what who are solidly behind track and field are in their element.

And well they might be.

A Bright Future

YOU can be sure that interest will increase after this outstanding show at Memorial Field. Track and field is rapidly catching on and marks should continue to topple quite regularly from now on. The track and field fever is with us and the province is taking more and more seriously than they did a few years back.

THE various physical educators throughout this province have a real challenge thrown at them now. They will try to be the very best of their ability to get the utmost out of their young athletes. Undoubtedly there are a lot of fine young competitors who have not yet shown their abilities at track and field yet. These boys and girls will be enticed by these physical educators to take more and more interest in the province's athletic life.

The future is bright for track and field and the men who are promoting it with such vigor have every reason to work that much harder after Saturday's glowing success.

Randy Coming Back

RANDY Edwards who coached minor league ball here several years ago is coming back to his home in Charlottetown for the 1963 summer.

The Charlottetown Playground Commission is setting a list from The ABC's of the Club who will be returning to Randy to conduct the minor program during the summer.

Randy and his wife and two children are expected in the provincial capital about the last week of June. Mr. Edwards is at present teaching in Illinois.

Final Qualifying Match Staged by Riflemen

The final qualifying match, from which will be selected the eight-man team to represent the province at the annual Inter-Atlantic Rifle Match, was staged at Sussex, N.B., June 15, was fired Saturday afternoon at South Point range.

According to word given out by the executive committee of the Charlottetown Rifle Club, the lineup of the team along with the captain and coach will be announced early next week.

At Saturday's event, F.Sgt. Mike Susick, Summerside RCAF; Trp. James Jones, Summerside, both finished with 96 out of a possible 100 points. With Susick getting the nod for top honors by virtue of the best score of 400 yards 33 against Jones' 28.

In class two, Trp. Eldon MacLean, Charlottetown, finished on top with 97, close behind him each with 95, were Trp. Edgar Jones and CPO Stan Bowles. Followed are the leading scores in each class:

CLASS ONE
F.Sgt. M. Susick (84), (N)
Trp. H. Jones 98
Sgt. G. MacLean 98
Lt. M. MacLean 98

Probable Pitcher

Probable pitchers for today's major league game are listed and last records in parentheses:

American League
New York, Terry (5-4) at Baltimore Barber (8-4), (N)
Chicago, Bushard (5-2)
Los Angeles, Osteen (5-1), (N)
Detroit, Lelich (6-1) at Cleveland, Lattman (1-2) or Grant (2-3), (N)
Minnesota, Paschal (7-4) at Kansas City, Fowler (6-2), (N)
Boston, Wilson (4-4) at Washington, Cheney (4-1), (N)

National League
San Francisco, Sarraf (7-3) at Chicago, Jackson (7-5)
Los Angeles, Miller (5-2) at Houston, Drost (2-2), (N)
Milwaukee, Hendley (4-3) at New York, Wiley (4-3), (N)
Cincinnati, Purkey (1-2) at Pittsburgh, Cartwell (2-6), (N). Only games scheduled.

Winsloe Takes Game

Winsloe triumphed St. Mike's 7-1 in the National Softball League fixture Sunday afternoon.

Winsloe's first baseman, registering ten strikeouts during the contest. Winsloe was the starter and loser for the St. Mike's club.

Stars To Practice Tonight

A practice has been called for on Memorial Field this evening at 8 o'clock. Coach Buck Whitlock asks for a full turnout.

The BYC Bowling League elminated a successful season with a banquet at the Rod and Gun Club last night. The numerous trophies up for grabs during the season were presented during the course of the evening League champs, captained by Des Whitlock, are Ann Murphy, Brenda Ryan, Noretta MacLean and Gene Bradley.

NHL Makes Rule Changes Affecting Goals, Stalling

By W. R. WHEATLEY
MONTREAL (CP)—The National Hockey League made several changes in its rules—altering goals and stalling—Monday's opening games of the three-day annual meeting amid a flurry of news items.

Nobody was admitting anything, about possible changes. One of the rumored deals would send Eric Nesterenko, Chicago Black Hawks forward, to New York Rangers.

In another unconfirmed trade in the making, Toronto Maple Leafs would give up Dick Duff, last rookie Gary Darrett for Murray Oliver of Boston Bruins.

The Hawks meanwhile, kept a close secret the name of the man who will succeed first Rudy Plouffe as coach. Billy Aronoff, who coached the Buffalo team to the American Hockey League championship last season, has been prominently mentioned. Ray himself professed no knowledge of the change in his status.

CONSIDER KYLE
Another reported consideration was Gus Kyle, who last season wound up coaching St. Louis of the Eastern Professional Hockey League, and there was also a report that general manager Tommy Ivan of the Hawks would double up his job and handle the coaching as well.

Along with Nesterenko, the Hawks were reported ready to put several other players on the trading block. NHL rules committee decided that a bench penalty will be assessed against any team whose players persist in staying off the ice after stoppage of play, remaining at the bench or skating around centre ice.

Replacements for goalies, whether by a skating forward or not, cannot be made until the replaced goalie is within 10 feet of the bench.

All goalies must wear individual numbers, under another rule change, instead of the regular goals and extra wearing numbers. There can be no stoppage to play if a goalie wants to repair or otherwise adjust his mask as there is for other equipment.

The committee decided that referees will have no part here after in deciding assists. That will be left entirely to the scorer. The referee still retains the right of naming goal scorers.

One suggested change that misconduct penalties apply to players who hang their gloves on the boards was rejected. The penalty still applies to players banging their sticks.

When there are coincident penalties for fighting, the rules committee decided that the referee can assess an extra two-minute minor penalty against the aggressor.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.

Other important business will be transacted.

SETS IMMEDIATE GOAL
The immediate goal is to win for the third time, and second time in a row, the United States Amateur Athletic Union decathlon championship at Corvallis, Ore., next month.

At least three men have figured in Yang's career — M. Thibault, Drake and the man he immediately succeeded as the decathlon champion, Rafer Johnson, a former student at UCLA.

As a boy, C. K. indulged in all sports possible but he preferred baseball. It was Mathias who ignited his interest in the 10-ribb one of the demanding, 10-event decathlon. He was on a tour of Asia in 1954. He won the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne, Australia. He finished a creditable eighth.

But perhaps even more important, he met Johnson and Drake in Melbourne. Injuries eventually kept Rafer out of the games but he and Drake took a liking to the tall, serene young fine student at a senior college.

The result was obvious. When C. K. decided to study in the U.S., he enrolled at UCLA. Yang won the U.S. national AAU in 1959 when Johnson was president of the Summerville Men's Golfing Association, is calling the annual meeting at the clubhouse tonight at 9 p.m.

The nominating committee will bring in a slate of officers for the year 1963, and all male members are asked to be present.