Vehicle Registration Rates Are Increased

Deputy Provincial Secretary Wendall MacKay said last night that the increase in motor vehicle registration fees this year was made necessary by increased costs in the operation of the department itself and the increase in the cost of highway maintenance.

Mr. MacKay noted however, that the fees in Prince Edward Island "are still far below those of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick".

He said the increases were based completely on the weight of the vehicle and that the largest increase is $3. The smallest amount of increase is 50 cents.

No official announcement had been given on the increase, which is retroactive to Jan. 1, and the reason for the lack of warning was given by Mr. MacKay as "the minute (which authorized the increase) was not signed by the governor until Jan. 2."

There are two other changes in the policies of the motor vehicle branch this year. One is the fact that only one licence plate will be issued per car, but the motorist will have the opportunity of buying a second plate, advertising Centennial Year, for one dollar.

Also, it is apparent that 1964 driver's licences are being mailed to present licence holders, but the new licences must be taken to the motor vehicle branch for payment and to have them stamped.

MONTAGUE — In spite of continued sanding by the department of highways' crews many roads remain dangerous for travelling in the Southern Kings area. In Montague, several cars were unable to make the Wood Islands hill last night even though it was well sanded earlier in the day.

700 Attend Ceremony Opening Athena RHS

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

Athena Regional High School was officially opened last night before more than 700 students and parents as Hon. George Dewar, MD, minister of education, laid the corner stone and Premier Walter Shaw cut a red ribbon across the front of the main auditorium.

Dr. Frank MacKinnon, principal of Prince of Wales College, spoke to the large gathering on the importance of an education to a society and told of the plans necessary for a community to become educated.

He spoke briefly of the Greek goddess Athena, after whom the school was named. In closing, Dr. MacKinnon congratulated all those persons connected with the erection of the school for a job well done.

Premier Shaw said that he felt Prince Edward Island was at the beginning of a new period of surging interest in education and encouraged all young people to get the best education possible.

Following the laying of the corner stone, which bears the Greek inscription 'A Sound Mind In A Sound Body', Dr. Dewar spoke briefly, stating that education was no longer a luxury but a necessity.

School Principal Thomas Hall introduced Athena's teaching staff and spoke of past plans for the construction of the building.

Chairman of the school board, Earl Cannon, was master of ceremonies. School board members Horace Wright, Edwin Lewis, Keith Lord, William Millar and Robert Jardine were present. Building architect Keith Pickard, John MacDonald of the construction firm of County Tile and Supply Ltd. and school board secretary, Foster Dean were present.

Following the ceremonies a lunch was served by a combined force of the Women's Institutes of eastern Prince County and those attending were shown around the new building.

Pearson Says Government Opposes Granting Of Titles

By JAMES NELSON

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said Friday his government is opposed to recommending titles for Canadians.

He referred in a news conference after a cabinet meeting to publisher Roy Thomson as "a former Canadian," and congratulated him on being made a baron in the Queen's New Year's honors list.

But Mr. Pearson pointed out that the hereditary peerage was given Mr. Thomson on the recommendation of the United Kingdom government.

(In London earlier this week, Mr. Thomson heatedly denied that he had given up his Canadian citizenship to take up British citizenship and qualify for the title. Mr. Thomson said he would make a full statement of his position in Toronto next week.)

Mr. Pearson said Canadian government policy on recommending titles for Canadians is unchanged. It was his first statement on the subject since his government took office last April 22, and he referred to carrying on the policy observed by other Canadian governments since 1935.

CAN'T BE DUAL CITIZEN

When a reporter noted that Mr. Pearson referred to Mr. Thomson as "a former Canadian," the prime minister said:

"I don't think anyone would deny that Mr. Thomson was a Canadian. My information is that he now is a citizen of the United Kingdom.

"Our law says that a Canadian outside Canada, in acquiring other citizenship, cannot be a Canadian citizen. He (Mr. Thomson) may not have retained the technicalities of the law, but that is the effect of the law."

New Steel Trawler Arrives In Geo'town To Aid In Launch

GEORGETOWN — The steel trawler Polar Fish under command of Capt. Bert Boertien arrived in Georgetown Thursday afternoon from Souris to assist in the launching of the dragger Iceland under command of Capt. Jonas Bjornsson.

The Iceland has been on the marine slip here for several weeks and the Polar Fish broke a path through the ice in the harbor section known as the cove where the marine slip is situated.

The dragger Iceland was launched Friday afternoon and is docked on the west side of railway wharf. If present plans materialize she will sail soon for Newfoundland where she will fish during the winter months.

The Polar Fish is a steel trawler built recently at Bathurst, N.B. by Bathurst Marine Limited, the same company now locating at Georgetown, and she is similar to the ships to be built at the plant here.

This trawler has an enclosed crowsnest on her mainmast which is equipped with controls which enable the captain to control the operation of the ship from the crowsnest.

Her hull is double-plated from the bow to the 'midships for ice-breaking purposes and she can be used for both trawling for fish and sealing.

CNR Confirms Ferry Service Record In '63

Passenger and vehicle traffic on the Border-Cape Tormentine ferry service set an all-time record in 1963, according to figures released yesterday by the Moncton office of Canadian National Railways.

Last year, 516,540 passengers, aside from those transported by train, used the service. This was an increase of 33,749 over 1962. There were 24,274 passengers carried by trains—an increase of 5,493 over 1962.

In 1963 some 214,478 vehicles were carried by the ferries. This was an increase of 16,203 over the previous year.

A CNR spokesman said the increase last year was "bigger than expected and an all-time record."

HUGE OIL

escort will be taken over for the final leg of the journey by the Tupper.

It was reported last night that the Tupper will slip from her berth here, shortly after 7 a.m. today, and will break the ice around the Railway Wharf, and then proceed out to rendezvous with the Macdonald and Irvingstream.

NO TROUBLE EXPECTED

William Connolly, district manager of the oil company said last night, that he doesn't anticipate that the Irvingstream will have any difficulty in making port with her cargo of slightly over 6,000,000 gallons of assorted fuels and gasoline for the local bulk storage plant.

Mr. Connolly stated that it will take about 48 hours to pump the cargo ashore, but he said that company officials had no concern should another cold snap arrive before unloading is completed, as, during her overhaul the Irvingstream was reenforced to handle a fair depth of ice.

Apparently it is the feeling of company officials that as shipping is being permitted to travel the St. Lawrence throughout the winter, they see no reason why attempts shouldn't be made to maintain Charlottetown as a year-round port.

The company has already built an icebreaking tanker of approximately two million gallon capacity, in the Saint John Shipyards, but she was not available to make this trip as she is still undergoing sea trials.

Centennial Year Program Mapped For School Pupils

By BERNIE RAINE

Mrs. Frank Ross, Parkdale, chairman of the children's events sub-committee of the centennial committee, said that school children across the Island, will be launched into competitions in penmanship and scrapbooks to begin the children's events for Centennial Year. There will be cash prizes for the top five winners.

The committee expects to hold one competition per month for the six-month period ending in June and climaxing the competitions with giant rallies for school children throughout the province in the first two weeks of June.

TWO EVENTS

The penmanship competition is the January competition, while the scrapbook competition will take place from January to Oct. 31.

A Centennial penmanship Award will be awarded in the January competition as well as cash prizes.

Mrs. Ross believes that the scrapbooks will form a very valuable contribution to the recording of the events of this year for posterity. This competition is open to schools, grades or even enterprising individuals. For this project there are three separate groups: grades five and six, grades seven and eight, and grades nine and 10.

In each group there will be five prizes of $25, $20, $15, $10 an $5. The prize- winning scrapbooks will be displayed in various sections of the province.

PROJECT DISPLAY

The committee has acquired a room in the Basilica Recreation Centre in Charlottetown where exhibitions of the various projects undertaken by the children will be displayed. "We intend to make this display an impressive one so that the children will feel that it is an honor to have something on display there during Centennial Year," Mrs. Ross says.

Projects planned for the following months include wall murals for February with their theme as Confederation; March, a community history; April, a series of spelling matches with a Centennial Champion; May, a public-speaking competition with the theme as one of the Fathers of Confederation, and finally in June, the children's rally days.

The themes chosen for the various projects have been so planned that the children will have to do some digging into the past for material. "There is a rich heritage in some of our communities which we are in danger of losing if it is not preserved now," Mrs. Ross said.

RALLY DAYS

One of the biggest undertakings of the committee is the rally days planned for June. The province has been divided into a number of sections so that the children can gather at central spots where the events can be carried out. The rallies will start off around 9.30 in the morning with a mass parade, each school marching under its own banner. Special speakers will then address the children on Confederation, and Centennial medallions will be handed out. In addition, it is also hoped that a picture of the Fathers of Confederation can be presented to each school.

After this part of the rally, each area will then plan its own events. In most of the areas, there are groups already making plans for this big day. The areas have been chosen roughly on a regional high school basis, but in no case will there be more than 600 children gathered at one spot. Some of the regional high school areas have had to be split because elementary school children will also be taking part in these parades.

OTHER EVENTS

Specific projects have also been planned for the children of the province. These include the learning to sing "O' Canada' in both English and French, and "The Island Hymn"; the planting of at least one maple tree on Arbor Day in May; a provincial centennial bicycle rally. The committee also hopes to pursuade all schools to have a flag pole and flag outside the school building.

In addition to the prizewinning monthly projects exhibited at the Basilica Recreation Centre during 1964, there will be a number of crafts on display. These will consist of items such as dolls dressed in 1864 costume; models of the Provincial Building; model of the "Victoria" which brought the Fathers of Confederation to Charlottetown, and three-dimensional models of the Fathers of Confederation. This children's exhibit will also have articles from a typical school of the 1864 period.
