THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO. OF NEW YORK

ASSETS, NEARLY $109,000,000.00

The Wealthiest Company in the World.

BEYOND COMPARISON.

The following examples of current payments in 1885 on policies issued by this Company are beyond comparison; therefore they must stand alone unchallenged, as showing the best results attained by any company:

Name and Address.	Amount of Policy.	Additions.	Policy and Additions.
Chas. Brewer, Boston, Mass.	$10,000	$14,501	$24,501
H. A. Venable, New York.	10,000	4,717	14,717
E. B. De Meaux, Paris, France.	10,000	1,884	11,884
Francis Thompson, Charlottetown, Mass.	5,000	3,114	8,114
Thomas Talbot, N. Billerica, Mass.	10,000	5,336	15,336
J. J. Bergen, Brooklyn, N. Y.	5,000	3,287	8,287
G. G. Spencer.	5,000	6,729	11,729
John Downing, Trug, N. Y.	5,000	6,639	11,639
John P. Howard, Englewood, N. Y.	5,000	8,229	13,229
W. F. Babcock, San Francisco, Cal.	3,000	3,284	6,284
Totals.	$65,000	$90,840	$155,840

The face of the policies amounted to $68,000; the policy-holders received in addition as a profit upon their investment $60,840, or a total of $128,840.

The above are not isolated or remarkable payments selected during many years of business, but taken from a long list of such claims paid in 1885.

Such splendid results have never been reached, nor nearly approached, by any other company.

Three Rivers Dairymen's Association.

A MEETING of the above Association, held in New Perth School House, on April 20, was largely attended by the people of this place and other sections of the country. James D. Dewar, Esq., President of the Association, occupied the chair, and introduced to the audience the Rev. Mr. Gillis, of Cardigan, who delivered a very interesting lecture on "Life in the Highlands."

The rev. gentleman commenced his lecture by giving an account of the origin of the Highland races, and then related instances of cruelty inflicted on his countrymen through an unjust system of land tenure. He reviewed the history of the crofters, giving an account of their occupation and mode of living; that as they live on crofts or small farms containing six acres of land, and are only tenants at will, it affords no incentive to exertion, as they may be ejected at any time; but as the darkest cloud has its silver lining, there is a bright side to eviction, as emigration is almost the only alternative, while if left in undisturbed possession of their holdings, being so much attached to the hills and vales of their native land, they would sooner remain in misery at home than cross the Atlantic to the "Empire beyond the sea."

The learned lecturer referred to the fact that as the gloom of ignorance and superstition vanishes before the light rays of education, the Highlander is sure to make his mark, having long since distinguished himself in the pulpit, the university, and the halls of legislation. The rev. gentleman concluded his lecture by expressing the wish that the time is not far distant, when all of Celtic extraction, whether the descendants of Scotchmen, Welshmen, or Welshmen, will, casting aside all antagonistic sectional prejudices, cultivate feelings of friendship, and live harmoniously together. At the close, addresses complimenting the lecturer, were delivered by Messrs. John Hamilton, Robert Dewar, John MacLean, and William Kean, after which a vote of thanks was given to the lecturer, to which he suitably replied.

The meeting then adjourned. The next meeting of the Association will be held in New Perth, on July 13th.

Elmira Literary Institute.

On Thursday evening, the 22nd ult., the members of the above-named Society met in their Hall for the purpose of bringing their Debating Club to a close for the season. After the routine business of the Institute had been gone through, Mr. Thomas Pierce was elected chairman for the evening.

The President (Mr. John McEachern) then addressed the meeting, and very ably reviewed the working of the Institute during the season just closing, and noted with pleasure the progress made and the friendly and harmonious feeling existing among all members, which clearly indicates the many benefits derived from well-organized institutions of this kind. He was followed by John F. Mellick, F. McPhee, J. J. Campbell and F. J. McKinnon, all endorsing the sentiments expressed by the President, and congratulating the members upon the favorable auspices under which the Society was closing.

Since its re-organization this Society has met on Thursday night of each week, for the purpose of discussing subjects pertaining to the moral, intellectual and mental culture of its members. The following are a few of the many subjects discussed, viz: "Which is the better form of Government—Monarchical or Presidential?" "Are Political parties a benefit to the State?" "Which confers the most benefit on Society—the Platform or the Press?" "Was the sending of Napoleon Bonaparte to St. Helena justifiable?" "Which exercises the greater influence in the Formation of Character—nature or education?" "Which is the most profitable investment for Farmers—Crop-raising or Stock-raising?" "Which is the greater field for oratory—the Pulpit or the Bar?"

Besides the many important subjects discussed several entertainments, consisting of essays, readings, recitations, dialogues, speeches, &c., &c., were given by the members.

A lecture was also delivered by Alexander Robertson, of Red Point, Mr. R. took for the subject of his lecture, "Small Things," which was a great literary treat. The lecturer very ably showed how many great undertakings fraught with the most wonderful consequences to men and nations, originated from very small things. By way of example he reviewed the "Crusade Wars," "The Taking of Quebec by Wolfe," &c. &c. From this and several other lectures which he has delivered, Mr. Robertson has gained for himself the reputation of being a clever scholar, and an eloquent lecturer.

Madrid, having recovered from the shock of the murder of its bishop, is counting on a novel sensation when the assassin is garrulous. As he is a priest, the civil authorities his degradation from the ranks of the clergy. Two bishops and two priests will tear all his sacerdotal vestments from him, and then a bishop will scrape his shaven crown with a knife to remove all trace of consecration. This ceremony was last performed in 1852 in the case of a priest named Merino, who tried to kill Queen Isabella.

Thomas Merrill, who disappeared from East Woburn, Mass., 25 years ago, leaving a wife and children and some property, and who was supposed to be dead, turned up the other day in Woburn. He is 85 years old and is in good health. He has been out west.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Misrepresentation Corrected.

Sir.—The following resolution, moved by Bro. Jas. Carruthers, and seconded by Bro. L. U. Fowler, was unanimously adopted by Wellington Division S. of Tem. on the evening of 27th ult:

"Whereas, It is evident from an item in the Summerside Journal of the 26th inst., that some individual devoid of the virtue of truthfulness has been maliciously misrepresenting the members of this Division; and

"Whereas, The Editor of the Journal, although apparently conscious that the communication was unworthy of a place in public print, yet, by inserting in his local column a condensed extract therefrom—liable, not improbably, to convey more damaging impression than the publication of the letter in full, has abetted the vile slanderer;

"Therefore Resolved, That this Division in justice to its members and in vindication of its honor, repel the baseless detraction; and

"Further Resolved, That said resolution be forwarded to the Editor of THE EXAMINER for publication.

A Lecture on "Success."

On Monday evening, the 26th inst., a very interesting and instructive lecture was delivered in Junction Road School-house, before a large audience, on the above subject by Mr. Donald B. McLeod of that place. The lecturer most ably and philosophically defined the true elements of success in almost all the various pursuits of life. He dwelt particularly on industry, perseverance, self-reliance and determination as essential to success, and dealt some severe blows on those habits of vice to which many are so easily addicted, such as idleness, use of tobacco and intoxicating liquors. His many comparisons and apt illustrations were peculiarly happy
