His Honor then delivered the following Speech, proroguing the Legislature:—

Mr. President and Honorable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly:

In the absence of the Lieutenant Governor the duty of administering the Government having, by appointment, devolved upon me, it affords me much pleasure to thank you for the attention which you have given to the various subjects recommended to your consideration at the opening of the session, and also for the labor bestowed on the general business of the Province.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly:

I thank you for the supplies which you have granted for the public service.

Mr. President and Honorable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly:

The measures enacted by you during the session will, I trust, under divine blessing, result in the material progress of the Province. In returning to your homes I feel assured that you will devote your energies to promoting the welfare of our people.

The Guard of Honor, which was under command of Captain John A. Longworth, No. 2 Battery, G. A., was made up of 100 men, drawn from No. 2 Battery, the Engineer Corps, and the 82nd Battalion, with the Artillery Band. The salute of fifteen guns from Fort Edward was fired by a detachment from No. 1 Battery, under command of Captain H. McL. Davison.

Trade With the States.

THE Hon. Daniel Gordon submitted to the House of Assembly the following resolution, in amendment of the resolution submitted by the Leader of the Opposition:

Whereas, The Dominion Parliament did, in the year 1879, place on the statute book of Canada a standing offer of reciprocal Free Trade with the United States on the same basis as the Treaty of 1854, and the Government of Canada in 1874 and again in 1887 invited the American Government to a full consideration of the trade relations of the two countries;

And Whereas, The said offer and invitations were not met in a friendly spirit by the American Government, but the said Government have shown clearly that no measure of Free Trade with Canada will be considered by them except on such terms as will ruin our trade with other countries, destroy our political independence and result in an oppressive system of direct taxation;

And Whereas, All questions of trade and commerce are, under the British North American Act, assigned to the exclusive control of the Federal Parliament;

Therefore Resolved, That this House, while anxious for as full a measure of free trade with the United States as the interests of this country will permit, do not accede to the request of the Legislative Council by appointing a committee to prepare an address to the Governor-General on the subject of the trade relations of Canada and the United States.

This resolution commended itself to the good sense of a majority of the representatives of the people. We feel sure that it will commend itself to the good sense of the people themselves.

The City Bill.

In the House of Assembly last evening, Mr. Bell moved that the House go into Committee for the further consideration of the Act amending the "Act of Incorporation of the City of Charlottetown."

After some discussion, Mr. Rogers moved the following amendment:

Resolved, That the House do not now resolve itself into a committee of the whole House to further consider the bill to be entitled "An Act to amend the Act of Incorporation of the City of Charlottetown."

The amendment on being put was carried on a division of 15 to 13.

Back in the Thirties.

In the issue of the Prince Edward Island Register for the 15th June, 1830, we find the following advertisement:—

This is to caution all persons from trusting my wife, BRIDGET MULLIN, or my account, as I will pay no debts of her contracting.

JAMES MULLIN.

Charlotte-Town, June 9th, 1830.

Here is Bridget's defence, as it appeared in the following week's issue:

This is to give notice that JAMES MULLIN, who inserted a notice in last week's Register, cautioning the public against crediting me on his account, has used me shamefully—for he would have left me to starve on the passage but for the kindness of the Rev. Mr. MacDonald and some others of the passengers—he has altogether neglected me since our landing—and the only notice he has taken of me was by advertising me in the newspapers. But I blame his mother for the whole, for until she interfered we lived happily together. All I had to do was to work, although my brother set him up in business. This is, therefore, to caution all young women against marrying the said James Mullin, pedlar, as he is already the lawful husband of

ELIZABETH MULLIN.

Notes at the East.

Mr. James Stewart, of South Lake, road supervisor, with a gang of men, have been repairing roads at Lakeville and other places where repairs are much needed.

Mrs. Lemuel Morrow sold, a few days ago, to Sterns Brothers, of Souris, one hundred dollars' worth of butter; and her son, Alfred Morrow, sold, at the same time and place, to that firm, an ox for forty-five dollars.

The East Point fog-horn blew its first blast of the season on Friday morning last, and could be distinctly heard six miles distant against the wind.

Active preparations are being made for fishing, and quite a fleet of new boats added to last year's, both on the north and south sides.

Among the many staunch farmers of North Lake may be mentioned Mr. John A. Morrow, who has a fine farm, a large orchard, and a good stock of horses, cattle, etc.

Farmers are fairly under way with their spring work.

"A Page From Canadian History.

On Monday evening, 28th ult., His Honor R. R. Fitzgerald, Q. C., Stipendiary Magistrate of Charlottetown, delivered his lecture on the above subject at Monticello, King's County. The Hall was well filled with an attentive audience.

The scene of events referred to in the lecture was laid in early colonial days. The subject-matter concerned Christian missionaries—the lives they lived and the trials they endured in the endeavor to benefit the Indians.

The speaker paid passing notice to the political situation of Europe at this time, and depicted in brief but graphic terms the death-struggle there taking place between the influences of the Renaissance and the forces of Rome.

His honor then referred to the colonizing spirit of the seventeenth century. It was an age of adventure. Every vessel which crossed the ocean brought her quota of traders, settlers, or explorers, to seek fortune or fame in the great western continent. In the van of these came the Christian missionary.

The varying fortunes of New France—now Canada—for half a century were detailed, as the lecturer described the sufferings, indignities and tortures to which Jesuit pioneer missionaries had been subjected by the Iroquois.

The learned gentleman discussed the merits of those Jesuits as men, apart from their sectarian tenets. One, who had undergone excruciating tortures, but had escaped from his persecutors, voluntarily returned to the Iroquois Country and this time he was mercilessly put to death. Considering the true heroism with which the gentle cultured scholar exposed himself to the known horrors of Indian barbarity it would appear that "Few more God-like men than he ever trod the earth."

In moderate but firm words Mr. Fitzgerald denounced those who would imperil the public safety by stirring up religious discord between the Catholic and the Protestant now living in peace in this free country, the soil of which has been watered by the blood of heroes.

In conclusion, Mr. Fitzgerald outlined a plan for the formation of a small library, so that the younger people might be able to spend their winter evenings pleasantly and profitably. He appealed to those present to pay more attention to the history of Canada—a history which, in record of unselfish devotion and courage, could not be surpassed by that of any other nation.

Delivered in the most perfect manner and in choicest language, the lecture throughout exhibited a spirit of patriotism and fairness, while the air of calm and dignified thought underlying the rich and appropriate phrases, created on his auditors an impression scarcely less grand than did "that solitude surrounding Quebec," of which he spoke, upon the brave pioneers of Canada.

After remarks complimentary to the lecturer, a unanimous vote of thanks was presented and acknowledged, and then the audience quietly dispersed.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Tea and Fancy Sale.

THE Tea and Fancy Sale in aid of the Convent de Notre Dame, opened in the Lyceum this afternoon, and will be continued this evening. The ladies having the management of the affair in hand have made excellent arrangements, and are determined that the bazaar and tea shall even surpass their former successful ones. The fancy tables, tea tables, and refreshment tables, are well stocked, and the ladies in charge may be depended upon to see that every attention is paid those who patronize them. To-night St. Dunstan's Band will be in attendance, and arrangements have also been made for violin and piano music. There will also, we understand, be an election for the most popular young man, and other amusements. Let there be a large attendance.

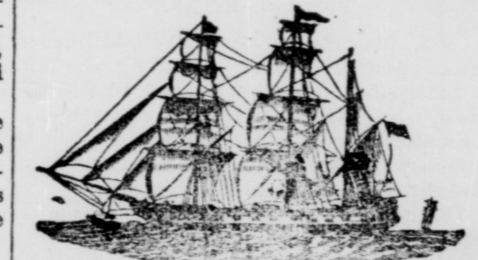

The Seal Fishery.

SUCCESS OF THE NEWFOUNDLAND VESSELS—GOOD EFFECT OF THE PROTECTORY LAW.

Advices from Newfoundland are to the effect that seals are more plentiful this season than for the last ten years. The skins have risen in price, and are now worth $1 each. The catch up to May 1st was 2,005. Four steamers which went to the Gulf have not been heard from, and fears are entertained that they are beset with ice. The seals brought in this year are splendid, a majority of the pelts weighing fifty pounds, the average being from 30 to 50 per cent. better than an ordinary year. The reason is that they were not taken until about the 24th of March, when they were well grown. The Neptune's cargo of 225 seals weighed 508 tons 8 cwt., which was equal to 345 seals of the average weight of other years. The crew of 307 men received $53 each. The Greenland's seals weighed 320 tons and 13 cwt., and the crew shared $41 each. Three years ago a law was passed with a view to lessening the destruction of old seals, which had been going on recklessly for many years, and threatened the ultimate extermination of the animals. The new law, prohibiting killing of seals after April 20, the time when formerly the killing of old seals began, and also prohibiting any steamers leaving port for a second trip after the first of April. The goods affects of this are already apparent.
