ascendant. There is another and still more important distinction, and this is of the thinking and the unthinking, or rather of those qualified to think, and to judge, and of those who from a variety of contingencies, are unable to comprehend and decide upon matters confessedly of great intricacy, and sometimes baffling the understanding of the most informed and considerate. How many of those whom it is purposed to assemble on Thursday, are capable of forming a correct decision on two questions, upon which, men the most enlightened, the most informed, and best qualified to judge, are unable to come to a satisfactory conclusion? Who will appear on the platform there capable of enlightening the ignorance of the great mass of those present? particularly if it be as anticipated, and fondly wished, a monster meeting—like all monsters, deficient in intellect, and obedient to the caprice of the moment, rather than the voice of reason.

And in what time is this monster meeting to be convinced of the necessity of instructing their representatives to pursue one particular course in preference to another? Six hours at the very outside, during which time, none but those immediately round the hustings or the platform will have heard one word in ten. How mauy persons will be able or willing, to address this highly respectable and enlightened audience? It will soon be seen who are, or are likely to be the majority, and as usual at all those miscellaneous assemblages those who are at all likely to be in the minority, will be hooted, interrupted, and cried down, a small mob of partisdns around the hustings will easily effect this. How many of those present who can hear will be able to comprehend the arguments, if they condescend to use any, or even the language, of the speakers? how many who understand english imperfectly and who will have no one capable of enlightening them as to what is going on, and lastly what will be the proportion of those who are really and truly electors and those who are not? Under all these circumstances therefore, what ought to be the conduct of the members elect? Simply, we should say, to hear all and say nothing. This will be a party meeting without doubt, and even if it were not, it could not be expected to express the sentiments of the majority of the Electors. It may, and probably will happen, that those who take a different view of the matter, will call a meeting at another and more leisure time, more numerously attended than the one expected to be held to morrow. The man who needlessly allows fetters to be placed upon his hands or his feet, can hardly be said to be in his perfect mind, as little can he be said to be wise, who puts or suffers fetters to be put upon his will or his tongue. It is the duty of the Representatives of the first District of King's County to avoid giving pledges to either party, as much as it is their duty to hear what either side advance, and to give to both their most careful consideration. They will in this case go into Parliament free and unfettered, and of consequence looked up to with respect. If they make themselves the tools of a party, and that composed of not the most sensible and enlightened of their constituents, and led by others not themselves, the reverse will inevitably follow. We have hitherto taken it for granted, that, the members elect will not be so far forgetful of their own dignity, as to think of attending a meeting, the calling of which implies a want of confidence, or a desire to dictate, though indeed there is another and very cogent reason why, they should appear there, and this is simply, because they are not invited, it being the electors and not the elected, that are requested to form themselves into this monstrous meeting.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE for AUGUST contains some very excellent and interesting articles. "The narcotics we indulge in" is an ably written paper but is the first only of n prominent continuation. The narcotic qualities of Tobacco and the Hop are those treated of; we do not agree with the writer but will suspend our judgement till we see the continuation. "South American Travel and adventure," will repay the perusal. The episode of the Esquina is highly wrought and touching in the extreme. "Napoleon and Sir Hudson Lowe." This is a review of a book published by John Forsyth M. A. entitled "The History of the Captivity of Napoleon at St. Helena" it is intended as a vindication of the conduct of Sir Hudson Lowe against the calumnies of the French and other writers, and the reviewer sums up the character of the book in the following passage, "Mr. Forsyth's style is admirably fitted for his subject—fair, forcible, and argumentative. By his work he has done credit to himself, and cleared the character of a brave, an honest, and a high-minded English soldier and gentleman. We know no ampler panegyric on the uses or the successes of authorship."

"New Readings of Shakespear." Those who admire the national drammatist, and who does not?—will find much to amuse as well as interest under this head. "The Insurrection in China" and "France in 1853" speak for themselves. "Lady Lee's widowhood part VIII" is a continuation of that novel and completes the contents of the number.

Married,

At Shediac, on the 19th inst. by the Rev. Mr. Allen, Wesleyan Minister, Mr. William Copp, to Dorcas Ann, youngest daughter, of the late John Rowe, formerly of Charlottetown.

On the 22nd inst., at St. Eleanors, by the Rev. J. H. Read, B. D., Rector, Mr. Charles Hunt, Merchant, of St. Eleanors, to Julia Anne, only daughter of the late Thomas Billing, Esq., of Billingsgate, New London.

At Pictou N. S. on the 24th inst., by the Rev. Dr. Evans, Superintendant of Missions, the Rev. J. R. Narraway, of Charlottetown, P. E. I. to Hannah Mary, youngest daughter of the late Mr. Ephraim Close of Hanley, Staffordshire, England.

Launched,

On Thursday the 15th instant, from the Shipyard of Captain John Kennedy, St. Peter's Bay, a Brigantine of 198 tons, called the Sarah Jane, built expressly for the Newfoundland market, Her model is of the American Clipper build, combining perfect symmetry with great strength and superior fastenings, and reflects great credit upon Captain K. who superintended every portion of the work, upon which no expense was spared. She went off the ways, which were 200 feet long, into her destined element in beautiful style, amid the plaudits of several hundred spectators.

The Wonder of the World!

Devine's Compound Pitch Lozengs.

THE Great Remedy is at last discovered, and COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA. COSTIVENESS AND CONSUMPTION have lost their terror, and vanish as as if by magic before this Sovereign remedy. Was it ever before known that, Hopeless cases of Consumption were crred for less than $5?

Truly, if any individual is to be pitied, and needs sympathy, it is the consumptive,—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the outer flesh."

"Some bloom as roses bloom, and live as roses live,
A single morning space!"

While others, in more mature life,—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected,—in the hectic flush, the painful cough,

"The prints of their parting steps appear."

All we ask is this one question:—If you have got mucous membranes, or any other members of the body that are "heirs to ills."—are you not interested in this great remedy, DEVINES' COMPOUND PITCH LOZENGE.

Sold by W. R. WATSON and T. DESBRIASY & Co., at APOTHECARIES' HALL.

To all to whom the same may Concern.

WHEREAS there is now in the possession of me (Charles Haszard, Justice of the Peace for Queen's County) a Boat of about 17 or 18 feet Keel painted green with zinc on the bows and coppered on the keel, and copper fastened, which said Boat drifted on shore near to Bell Vue, on the night of the 2d of September instant.
