dian lives in a house, and there he met quite a company, who listened to him attentively, and asked questions. In Queen's county he was able to call the attention of the Indians to the bread which came down from heaven—which, of course, was Mr. Rand's doctrine. At Brookfield four Indians came to hear him preach. He read and expounded John VI. At Gold River he called on a squaw, and prayed with her and a host of children. From Fredericton he writes that "there is evidently a deep and increasing attention to the truth on the part of the Indians. When I go there, even on a week day, the silence of the Sabbath rests over the village. There is no trouble speaking to them of their souls' salvation," &c.

It would be worse than waste of room to publish much of the balderdash of the Missionary, who tells us that sometimes the Lord gives him "boldness in prayer, and says come let us reason together."

But he does not even pretend to claim any converts, as the fruit of his thirteen years' work, except Ben Christmas and family, who are a decidedly dear bargain at $14,000. He tells his dupes, however:—

"I do see streaks of daylight in the east; the day star is distinctly shining above the horizon, the harbinger of day. I do believe that the hour is coming and is now come, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God," &c.

By which, of course, this meek man means that the Indians will soon hear Mr. Rand's voice, and follow him if the subscriptions flow in freely.

A son of Ben Christmas—a fine little fellow four years old, and called "Silas," after Mr. Rand himself, died. He hopes Ben was made better by this affliction, which he determined to turn to account. He would have his "first Protestant funeral among Indians." He says the Indians gathered about the child and prayed for the repose of its soul, which is, of course, a falsehood, and like other missionary falsehoods very palpable. The mother assured Mr. Rand she only pitied the Catholic Indians, as she had been in the dark herself. The body of a young man who died the same day was borne to the Indian Chapel, and Mr. Rand had the impudence to take the child's coffin also to the Chapel, and to force his ministrations on those who did not want him, preaching a funeral sermon, he says, for both.

This impudence should be honoured and rewarded, and when this year, Mr. Rand goes from house to house he should be dealt with more liberally. If he has made no converts but Ben Christmas—whose white choker has graced the dock of our Police Office more than once—he at all events sees streaks of daylight in the East; he has talked to Indians who would allow any white man to talk to them, and he has abused the helplessnes of those Indians by forcing himself into their Chapel, when they had taken to it the dead body of one of them, and interrupting their prayers by what he calls a funeral sermon, which was no doubt an abuse of all they held most dear. He should be paid well. $1,000 a year is not enough for such services."

Rev. Silas Rand's first Protestant funeral amongst the Indians, and his funeral sermon did not do all the good to the solitary Mic Mac convert, Ben Christmas, that he anticipated. We take the following from the Acadian Recorder:—

BEN CHRISTMAS.—Many of our citizens who have contributed towards the fund which was instrumental, combined with other things, in securing the 'conversion' of this somewhat notorious individual, will doubtless be interested to know something of his whereabouts and movements. We are informed by a gentleman who recently arrived here, that he met Ben on the steamer whilst on passage from Portland to Eastport—the latter officiating in the capacity of a Federal recruiting sergeant, and displaying an unlimited quantity of Greenbacks, with which potent inducement he was en route to secure the services of some of his aboriginal brethren for the Federal army, an undertaking in which he was somewhat successful. Ben was intoxicated at the time, and his vocabulory of profane expletives was apparently very extensive. Those who heard, and appreciated his fervent declamations on the floor of the Temperance Hall and elsewhere, will view those signs of degeneracy with sorrow.

Ben was decidedly a dear bargain, to the Mic Mac Missionary Society, at Fourteen Thousand Dollars.

CANADA.—The most important topic of Canadian news is the recent defeat of the government. The Finance Minister moved that the Speaker leave the Chair while the House went into committee. This was objected to, and an amendment put that the Speaker keep his seat, and that a resolution be passed that an address to the Governor-General be presented, "representing that in 1859 an advance of $100,000 was made from the public chest, without the authority of Parliament, for the redemption of bonds, for a like amount, of the City of Montreal, and in view of those facts the House would be failing in its duty if it did not express its disapprobation of an unauthorized advance of a large amount of public money, and of the subsequent departure from the conditions of the order in council under which the advance was made." Mr. McDougall seconded the amendment, and it was carried 60 against 58. We believe this is the second time Government measures have been defeated, and therefore we consider the present Canadian Administration very insecure indeed. Once Government is out-voted, a want of confidence goes abroad, which generally increases till it ends by their being totally overthrown and cast out of power.—Halifax Sun, June 22.

JAPAN.—Late advices from Japan show that a compromise had been agreed to on the question whether foreigners should be welcomed to or expelled from the country. Six Dannois had been chosen to confer and decide on the will of the nation on this point, and their decision was to be regarded as final, and would shape the policy of the Government. But two at least out of the six were understood to be bitterly opposed to foreigners, so that there were grave doubts as to whether anything decisive and satisfactory would be agreed on. In fact, what with the dissensions of this singular people, as well as their jealousy of strangers, it is not likely that any restrictions on trade will be removed at present.

BURNING OF ALEXANDRIA.—The Boston Post says—If the accounts of the burning of the city of Alexandria, by Gen. Banks's troops, are correct, it was the most infamous transaction to be found in the records of the war. The dwellings of Union men—soldiers in the Union army—were given to the flames, and their unprotected inmates—women and children—left without shelter or food. A letter from Cairo, Illinois, to the New York World says:—"As might be expected, the women desired to go along with the Federal army, where their husbands had gone. They applied to General Banks with tears and entreaties, to be allowed to go on board the transports. They were refused! They became frantic with excitement and rage. Their screams and piteous cries were heart-rending. With tears streaming down their cheeks, women and children begged and implored the boats to take them on board. The officers of the boats were desirous of doing so, but there was the peremptory order from General Banks not to allow any white citizen to go aboard. A rush would have been made upon the boats, but there stood the guard with fixed bayonets, and none could mount the stage plank except they bore the special permit of the Commanding General. Yet room was found for five or six thousand negroes that had been gathered in from the surrounding country! But no room could be found for white women and children, whose husbands and brothers were in the Federal army, and whose houses had just been burned by the Federal torches!"

SHIPBUILDING IN KING'S COUNTY.—On a recent visit to Georgetown, we were pleased to observe a fine Brig, of about 250 tons, launched there on Monday last, for Capt A. McDonald. A Brig, near about the same time, was launched from the Shipyard of the Hon. Joseph Wightman, St. Andrew's Point. There are some three or four other vessels building in Georgetown—one by Daniel Gordon, Esq., another by Captain John Westaway, and another by Mr. Michael Bourke. Opposite to Georgetown, on Montague River, may be seen a Brig on the stocks, at the Shipyard of Robert Cameron, Esq., building for Benjamin Davies, Esq., of this City. At Cardigan, a Bark of some five or six hundred tons, is being built at the shipyard of Donald Stewart, Esq., for Messrs. Owen & Welsh. We understand she is destined to take the place of the Bark Theresa, as a trader between Liverpool and this Port. This Bark is now in frame, is being diagonally strapped with iron, and if our opinion is worth anything, we should think she will be a fast sailer. Less than a mile from Mr. Stewart's yard, we came to the shipyard of Thomas Owen, Esq., close to the new Bridge at Cardigan,—here is building by Mr. Owen a very fine little Juniper brig to class seven years. About a mile above the Bridge, we observed another vessel on the stocks, the name of the owner we have forgotten. The new bridge across Cardigan River, built some two or three years since, is substantially constructed, and must be of benefit to the inhabitants of that part of King's County. It is sufficiently long, and the water of sufficient depth, to allow some three or four vessels to lay alongside and load. On looking at the Map of the Island we should think that Cardigan Bridge would be a good shipping place for the inhabitants of St. Peter's and St. Peter's Bay, to cart their produce to, in the fall of the year. Already there are some five or six houses built, and being built, at the Bridge, and no doubt in a few years there will be quite a thriving little village there. "Montague Bridge," and "Cardigan Bridge" bid fair to draw a large amount of the business hitherto done in Georgetown from that place.—Isl.

THE WAR NEWS.

OUR readers will perceive that, as usual, we give in our present No., a considerable amount of space to war news, received by telegraph and otherwise. But still there is nothing decisive from the Army of the Potomac. That there has been terrific fighting, and enormous carnage, are facts which do not seem to admit of any doubt; and that the Northern Army has suffered most, may be inferred from the vagueness of the reports which are given to the public by the army correspondents who are in the interest of the Federal Government—by the absence of the usual amount of boasting, and by the very high price of gold, which reached 230 in New York on Wednesday last. A very good sign of the times, although it does not indicate that the Federal arms have been successful, is that the Peace Party are gaining strength throughout the Union. Eminent persons who formerly advocated a war policy, to the extent of extermination against the South, now openly proclaim their desire for a peaceful seperation from the so-called rebels, whose extermination or subjection seems to be as far off as at any time since the commencement of the war, and who are daily inflicting enormous havoc on the forces brought against them. We fervently hope, in the interests of humanity, that the counsels of the Peace Party will speedily prevail, and that this most horrible and barbarous war will cease to disgrace the civilization of the age.

STEAMSHIP COMMERCE.—This splendid vessel arrived again on Saturday last, on one of her periodical trips from Boston and Halifax. She had a large freight and many passengers, and will leave again this evening for the usual places on her route.

MACEVOY'S HIBERNICON, OR A TOUR IN IRELAND.

This really beautiful and magnificient painting of Ireland and its scenery, of which our Eastern and Western cotemporaries have spoken so highly, will, during the following week, be exhibited in Charlottetown. This painting is exhibited under the direction of Professor J. MacEvoy, who is favorably known in the city of Boston, where, a year and a half since, he exhibited the Hibernicon with a decided and unparalleled success. The Hibernicon was painted by the two distinguished and popular French artists, Duflouc and Fonchore, and represents the principal cities, public buildings, magnificent lakes, mountain and even river scenery of Ireland. The vocal illustrations are selected from the immortal Irish melodies, which will successively accompany the paintings, and be sung by a company of talented and distinguished artists. We cannot speak too highly of this fine work of art. It is in reality equal, if not superior in design and artistic excellence, to anything of the kind ever exhibited in this country. We cheerfully recommend all our friends and patrons to visit this grand entertainment whenever they may have an opportunity to do so.

ANOTHER FIRE.—On the night of Saturday, the 12th inst., the Dwelling House and out-house belonging to Mr. Duncan McDonald, of Lot 52, were entirely destroyed by fire, together with almost every thing they contained. Shortly after the family had retired to take their customary repose, after the week which was just closing, they were awakened suddenly by the alarm of fire, to a startling reality of their awful position. The fire broke out in the out-house where the cooking stove had been removed at the approach of the hot weather, which seems to be the unlucky cause of the unfortunate accident. The dwelling house being in the lee of the other Building, was soon in flames; and by the time that Mr. McDonald had succeeded in placing his family beyond the reach of immediate danger, it was beyond the reach of preservation, and on account of the rapidity with which the flames spread to every part of the building, any attempt to save the furniture, or household goods, were rendered so extremely hazardous that almost everything had to be abandoned to the ravages of the devouring element; nor was it without much serious difficulty that the barns, stables, and other outhouses were prevented from sharing a similar fate. Mr. McDonald's loss from this accident cannot be less than £600.—Isl.

We have been requested to state that a new Charlottetown Horticultural Society has been inaugurated. The officers are Hon. T. H. Haviland, (Mayor) President; Hon. Charles Young, and Mrs. E. Palmer, Vice Presidents; Benj. DesBrisay, Esq., Treasurer; and John Lawson, Esq., Secretary pro tem. The object of the Society is to promote the extension, cultivation, and improvement of gardens and orchards. A committee consisting of five Ladies and an equal number of Gentlemen has been appointed, and is to meet this evening. Due notice will be given of the proceedings. In the mean time we wish the Society may succeed in its aims, one of which, we are told, is by a judicious use of premiums for the first and best articles exposed for sale, to encourage the formation of a regular market in the city, at which every species of Horticultural produce may be purchased at cheap rates.—R. Weekly.

IMPORTATION OF STOCK.—We understand that the Government have ordered, for the use of each of the Counties in this Island, the following Stock:—1 Clydesdale Horse, 1 Ayrshire or Durham Bull, 1 Leicester Ram, 1 Leicester Ewe, 1 Southdown Ram, 1 Southdown Ewe; in all 3 horses, 3 bulls, and 12 sheep. The purchase of these animals will exhaust the grant of last Session. We believe that it is contemplated, next Session, to appropriate a sum sufficient to procure one or two superior Blood Horses. Is it not practicable to resuscitate the Agricultural Society, and to attempt the formation of a Stock Farm? Our chief dependence is our agriculture, and we regret to say that, so far as Stock is concerned, we are going astern.—Isl.

The number of deaths from crinoline in London for the last three years is said to equal the loss of life by the Santiago fire.

[EXTRACTS FROM NEWSPAPERS.]

On reference to a return made to Parliament, and ordered by the House of Commons to be printed, 7th June, 1861, it will be seen that the increase of Duty for the year, paid by the "QUEEN," was £2567, being upwards of £1000 more than paid by any other office ever yet established in this City.

[From Gore's General Advertiser, Oct. 24, 1861.]

"Indeed, we believe that we are perfectly justified in saying that no other Company, within the same period, ever attained so large an income in either the Fire or Life Departments as the Queen Insurance Company. In making this statement, we make no exception even in favor of our older local companies, namely, the Liverpool and London, the Royal, and the Lancashire Insurance Companies."

[From the Civil Service Gazette, Nov. 2, 1861.]

"Among these important institutions stands eminent for its solidity, as well as for its success, "the Queen Insurance Company," which last week held its annual meeting of proprietors in Liverpool. A reference to the ample report in another page will fully satisfy every reader of the signal progress made by this association since its foundation. Such success is, indeed, rarely attained; and it attests at once the excellence of its management, and the public confidence in its constitution."

[From the Liverpool Mercury, Nov. 2, 1861.]

"It must be gratifying to the public generally, and especially to the proprietors, to find that its income during the past three years has increased at the rate of £20,000 per annum. We believe that no other Company, within the same short period, ever attained so large an increase either in the Fire or Life Department. This speaks highly for the activity and zeal of the management, while the promptness with which all the claims, arising out of the late disastrous fire in London were met testifies to their financial ability and the care and prudence which marked the investment of these funds."

A WORK ENTITLED

"Sar obair nam Bard Gaelach,"

—OR—

The Beauties of Gaelic Poetry,

—AND—

LIVES OF THE HIGHLAND BARDS;

—WITH—

Historical and Critical Notes,

—AND—

A Glossary of Provincial Words.

By Norman McDonald, Esquire.

A MR. CHISHOLM is now travelling in the Island soliciting subscriptions for the above work, which comprises, in English, Biographical sketches of thirty-five different poets,—and, in Gaelic, selections from the works of each author, with English translations of a few of the best lyrics; the whole interspersed with explanatory and critical notes in both languages, thus rendering the publication a work of surpassing interest to the lover of song and the admirer of true poetic genius, and indeed to every Highlander, or person of Highland descent, who, amid the degeneracy of our times, still retains some partiality for the land designated in song, "Tir nam beann, nan gleann, Sriam breacan."

The work consists of about 350 pages, printed on good paper, with small clean type and close matter, and is bound in different styles to suit fancy.

Orders for the above work will be received at the "Vindicator" Office. The price varies in accordance with the style of binding, from 9s. to 12s. 6d. and upwards, Halifax currency.
