

THE CADRE

A Student Union Production

Kent J. Bruyneel
Editor-In-Chief

Richard T. Haines
Managing Editor

Heather E. Christie
Graphic Design

Leslie Walker
Production Editor

Sarah K. Murphy
News Editor

Ryan O'Connor
A & E Editor

Marc MacDonald
Sports Editor

Brian Herrell/Brady Grant
Circulation

Danica Jackson
Photographer

Janice Muir
Advertising Manager

Comrades:

Jim-Beaux Lieyeah
Jeff Coll
Stephan McQuaid
David MacDonald
Kelly Mason
Brian Herrell

Leo Cheverie
Stephan Macleod
Tim Aiken
Carley Brandon
Matthew Hogan
Sherri MacKenzie

Propoganda: The Cadre is published by the student union of U.P.E.I. The Cadre is a member of Canadian University Press (C.U.P.) The Cadre is the founding member of the Cadre Press Syndicate. Est. 1969.

Contact: Send letters to Dead Letter Office, Basement of Main Building (06) or eMail: newspaper@upe.i.ca.

since 1969

Cool Love

by Ladies Love Coolbreeze

Dear Coolbreeze: I don't have a clue how to dress sexy. Whenever I see supermodels wearing skimpy outfits I think to myself, "Gee, none of my clothes look like that." How can I change my wardrobe into one that will make men drool over me?

Velvet Pants Vicky

Dear Vicky: If you think sexy, you will look sexy. So you don't have to alter the clothes you are wearing now. Just think about people eating bananas, or gerbils running in a maze. If you wish to keep your thoughts pure, the key to attracting drool is steak. Put a T-bone in your purse.

Dear Coolbreeze: I have a policy to never date people that I work with, but I've been thinking of changing that policy. It's not like I'm actually going to start dating my co-workers, I rarely date anybody and I work for my family's convenience store so I'm related to everyone that works there. Should I change my policy?

Dirk the Clerk

Dear Dirk: I'm against dating co-workers for three reasons. First of all, you can't discuss their quirky habits with people you work with because they won't appreciate how funny their bathroom habits really are. Secondly, they will know you're cheating on them when you lie about having to stay late at work. I won't tell you the third reason because of a court order that forces me not to discuss the matter. Oh to hell with it, if you are going to date a co-worker, make sure they don't talk to hand puppets.

Dear Coolbreeze: My girlfriend

asked me to take an STD test before we had sex, but it seemed strange. There were lots of other people in the room and all of the questions on the test were about mathematics. It didn't seem to have anything to do with STD's. I'm worried because I got the test back and I only got a 58. I passed it, but I want to study before taking it next time to see if I can do better.

Wayne "The pull-out-couch" Muffins

Dear Wayne: You idiot, you took an economics test, not an STD test. You must have went in the wrong room or something. In the future remember that an economics test has math questions on it, an STD test has questions about zookeepers and requires you to pee in a cup. I should warn you that this is similar to an engineering exam, except you don't have to be spanked by a man in a lab coat.

Dear Coolbreeze: I feel like I'm different. Every time I watch a movie with nudity in it, I find myself excited. If I even glimpse a nipple or a scrotum I find my heartbeat speeds up and I start to sweat. Is this reaction normal for a sixteen-year-old boy? Or do I need help?

Billy Red Slacks

Dear Billy: The human body is something you should be ashamed of. The way you are reacting to naked bodies is unnatural, unhealthy, and has the potential to traumatize you for the rest of your life. You need help quickly. The next time you are excited by boobies, put a boiling hot teabag down your slacks and scream out, "God made us naked so we could wear nice clothes."

END