ELLEN'S DIARY

Old Man Winter May Have Something Up His Sleeve

These days Winter is surely a-wearying. In sunshine we catch that bright sparkle on the mill-stream, which indicates his present departure. And today in the mildness of showers which bared somewhat the white-spread fields, and thawing brooklets trickled down the yards "This is the last of Winter," he said.

"On the calendar at any rate" James smiled. "At the same time we still have our wintry days. Why "he smiled over the quaint remembrance "I've helped break roads along the fields through April's snow, in my day. Island folks have been lost, and some have perished, too in blizzards which came later than this in the year!"

Beneath mostly overcast skies. Winter strolled along the farmlands. A white-bearded old fellow, neither short nor tall, thinish but wiry he is, eyes cold, blue. Dressed comfortably he fancied in a long ulster of thick cloth, like those worn by men of the now long ago; a cap of Astrachan over his ears, a lengthy crimson scarf about his collar. And on his feet sturdy long-legged boots, hand-made of leather. Gloved? Mittened rather, they were both practical and pretty.

"Who'd a thought, ..." he said softly today giving a long sigh as he looked down from a hill-top on the far side of the stream upon a snowplow making its smug way out and in the road below. Or who in early days could have imagined there would dawn a time when almost all travelling would be done in machines? Yes, this day and every day of the year. It is well, ... but I do miss the music once so familiar: the ring of horses' hoofs and the glint of their silver shoes; the creak of the sleigh-runners and the dear sound of bells across the snow. Oh well, it's all for the best.

HAPPENINGS

The R. C. A. F. Association No. 201 Confederation Wing, held their annual reception and dinner dance at the Charlottetown Hotel last evening. The guests included His Honor Lieutenant Governor F. Walter Hyndman; Mayor E. C. Johnstone, and Group Captain J. E. Creeper, Commanding Officer of R.C.A.F. station Summerside. Special speaker for the evening was S.L. J. A. A. Aitken. Approximately 150 people were in attendance, a delicious hot turkey dinner was served, music was supplied by Art Cantwell and his Mariners. Mr. David A. Leckey, president of the local wing greeted the guests. The charge to the newly elected executives of the wing was read by Mr. John M. Larambee.

Mrs. Leigh Warren, Longworth Avenue, entertained her friends at a delightful St. Patrick's party at her home on Tuesday evening. A most enjoyable program was carried out, with the guests supplying several readings and musical numbers, those participating were Mrs. F. G. Osborne, Mrs. Bruce MacLaren and Mrs. H. D. Davison. The accompanist for the evening was Mrs. Jack MacNair. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Warren assisted by her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Taylor and Mrs. W. W. MacLeod.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus J. Murphy, Fitzroy Street, entertained recently for friends at their home when Bridge was in play. The attractive decorations were carried out in Shamrock effect.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Beck, Montague, left on Monday for Saint John where they sailed Tuesday on the Empress of Britain for an extended trip. They will tour the British Isles and go on to the continent where they will visit many places of interest. A main feature of their trip will be to renew acquaintances with family connections in Scotland.

The Trinity Friendship Club met on Tuesday night at the Trinity Social Hall. The worship service was conducted by Bob and Helen Mayhew and was based on the Easter theme, a business meeting followed. In connection with the study of the comparison of various christian religions, elder's James Peterson and Louis Phelps of L'Assommoir, spoke to the group on the Mormon religion, illustrating their talk with a flag-nel-graph. The members also enjoyed two sacred duets sung by the guests. Following a short question and answer period lunch was served.

MARY HAYWORTH

From The Calendar Angle Age Is Not A Handicap

Dear Mary Haworth: I am a widow of six months. Lately I have been looking around for work; but at 52 I am "too old," it seems. (Yet I am young-looking for 52!)

From your experience, do you think it would be best for me to take a course in typing, to be a receptionist? Or is the comptometer course easier to learn? Or should I keep waiting, perhaps for something else? I was a sales-clerk during the Christmas holidays; but department store work doesn't pay enough—at 96 cents per hour in my town. Every friend has a different view of what I should do; and my two brothers live far from here, so I have nobody to advise me—and I must do something right away.

I shall be watching for your comment. Y.S.

OPENS DOORS

Dear V.S.: It has been a fact of life for many years, and the truism still holds true, that stenographic competence is a smart woman's best passport to the inner sanctums of the business world—where she comes to the attention of the big bosses who run the show.

Nowadays, as in the past, expert and pleasing secretarial skills are in short supply—and therefore in lively demand in business houses, large and small. Indeed, just the simple ability to do a fair job of typing is a job-credential, in the present market.

So, if you have time and money to spend, on an investment basis, to insure yourself a better break in the field of future earnings, by all means take the typing course. And while you are about it, learn something of shorthand, bookkeeping and filing.

INDIAN RIVER W.I.

The members of Baltic Women's Institute entertained the members of Indian River Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. Bruce Riley, Baltic, on the evening of March 4th.

The members of each institute held the business part of this meeting separately. Indian River W.I. opened their meeting with the creed, followed by the Institute ode. Eleven members answered roll call by naming a woman famous in History, Sick and School Committee gave their reports which were discussed. Ways and Means Committee reported $80.10 made on card parties.

Correspondence was then read and discussed, after which both Institutes came together for the programme and conclusion. An interesting panel discussion was presented by Donald MacDonald having five different groups of five members each.

Two interesting contests were presented by Mrs. Edgar Mathews. Bingo was then played conducted by Mrs. Gordon Cousins. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by the members of Baltic W.I.

Mrs. Hubert Gillis rendered several piano selections and Donald MacDonald sang two vocal solos, then all joined in singing "Should Auld Acquaintances Be Forgot" and "Good Night Ladies". Mrs. Leslie Ramsay, president, on behalf of herself and all the members of Indian River thanked the hostess and all the members of Baltic W.I. for their kind invitation to such an enjoyable evening, and that Indian River would plan to entertain Baltic W.I. in the near future. Meeting closed with the National Anthem.

too, if you can carry that extra load of cost and effort. TRANSCENDS AGE

Age, after 50, is a handicap to employment not so much from the calendar angle, perhaps, as due to negative factors in the older person's behavior or appearance, somehow related to emotional deterioration. If senior citizens are truly alive in mind and spirit—and in that sense vital, young and attractively kept up—and if they have real job usefulness (knowledge and industriousness); and a modest cooperative approach to new situations (not a wary self-serving attitude) they will stay in the main stream of what's going on.

Also, of course, in facing "the last of life, for which the first was made" (as the poet Browning said), you should get acquainted (if you aren't already) with the general drift of the purposes of God, in human experience. For superbly simple instruction along that line, to bring you into harmony with God's provisions for your enduring welfare, you might read Norman Grubb's fine book "The Deep Things of God" (published by the Christian Literature Crusade), M.H.

YOUNG LOVE DENIED

Dear Mary Haworth: When John and I fell in love two years ago, my parents objected to marriage because we were too young, they said; and he wasn't able to support a wife. I was 17 and he 23. Now he is 25 and has a good job, and I also am working—and still my parents say we shouldn't even consider marriage, because of our different faiths.

I want to please my parents and receive their blessing; but how? I love John and he loves me and we want to marry; yet I wouldn't marry him behind my parents' back. Please advise me. S.L.

GET HELP

Dear S.L.: Parents can be mistaken about some things. And as your parents are adamantly opposed to John, for first one reason and then another (which means they just don't like him), I advise you and John, together, to talk to your pastor and his, about your personal qualifications for making a sound "mixed" marriage. In loyalty to each other, you and John may decide to proceed without your parents' blessing—and if your spiritual directors find you fit to be good teammates, M.H.

SPRINGFIELD W.I.

Fourteen members of Springfield Women's Institute met for the March meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence Haslam. The president presided and opened the meeting with "School Days", followed by the Mary Stewart Collect. Roll call was answered with "My Favorite Teacher". Minutes were read. Reports given and letters of appreciation read, and other correspondence discussed.

The sum of $5.00 was voted towards the adoption of a child in Europe or Asia. Mrs. William Haslam who had visited the school reported that a new water fountain was needed.

It was decided that any person wishing to send to Fairfield should take their woolens to Mrs. C. Sinclair's before the April meeting. W.I. News subscriptions were paid.

Mrs. Claude Barrett convened for the program on Education conducted a questionnaire on the subject and also had a contest on "Letters". Prizes were won by Mrs. Sutherland MacKay and Mrs. Clarence Haslam.

Each member had an old picture of themselves on display and Mrs. Sutherland MacKay guessed correctly 12 out of 14 pictures.

Lunch was served by the committee, assisted by the hostess, and for a change consisted of soup, toast and crackers instead of the usual sandwiches, cake and cookies.

Meeting closed as usual to meet again in April at the home of Mrs. John Hickox.

GREENWICH W.I.

The regular meeting of the Greenwich W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Cyril Sanderson on Thursday, March 12th. The meeting opened with the creed. Nine members answered roll call with an Irish joke. Three visitors were present and a new member joined.

Correspondence consisted of letters from the Musical Festival, Crippled Children Fund, and soil conservation. The treasurer reported that the card proceeds to date were $60.00.

Mrs. Harry Ratliff read an interesting paper entitled "Are Our Teachers Good Enough?", after which the members held a discussion on it. The hostess then served a delicious lunch and was thanked for her hospitality by Mrs. Leith Sanderson.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Lorne MacLaren.

MLLVIEW W.I.

Mrs. Victor Grant presided over the March meeting of Millview W.I. on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. George MacEachern.

Home-made Easter Bonnets highlighted the entertainment, and many laughs were enjoyed. Mrs. Walter Crane's bonnet was deemed the craziest and so carried off the prize.

Eleven members answered roll call. Three visitors were present and one new member was welcomed to the group. The committees gave their reports and new ones were appointed for the next four months.

The teaching of music in the school was discussed and it was decided to have the music teacher return as soon as possible.

Island Shipbuilders Are Remembered In England

Post Marked U.K. is a program of great interest and makes for good relationship between Great Britain and Canada. Last Sunday morning it had an especial appeal because the name of Prince Edward Island was mentioned several times.

Arthur Busch was describing Witsable, a town in England with a good, but not large harbour, which has been known as quite a shipping centre. He drew attention to the fact that the ships in former days had been built in Prince Edward Island. Later on in the broadcast the shipbuilders names were mentioned. They were Burdett, Leturkey and Ellis. Then the Witsable oysters were described as being world famous. One of the ladies, who was an authority on oysters, described the best way to eat them. Do not use the fancy sauces or even lemon. Just put the oysters in your mouth, chew them and swallow.

So all in all, with ships and oysters, Prince Edward Island and Witsable have much in common. Membership fee of $5 was voted for Music Festival. Education convener reported having arranged for films to be shown in the school on April 1st.

Mrs. Wilbert MacKenzie gave an interesting outline and talk on 4-H Club work. Sewing material was given out to members from the Red Cross.

Mrs. Jos. Smith gave a demonstration on reversible quilt making and also read a "Master-Mix Recipe".

Mrs. Stuart invited the members to her home for the April meeting. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Roll call was answered with a verse of scripture containing "Joy". Offering was received amounting to $3.95 and dedicated by president. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Killem gave a message on the theme, "The Fruit of the Spirit is Joy", also explained the Bible questions on chapters 4-5 of St. Mark. Ena Docherty read from the study book "Go-

NORTH RUSTICO W.M.S.

The North Rustico W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. N.S. MacLure on Thursday evening, March 12th. The president, Mrs. W.L. Toombs presided and conducted the worship period, on the theme "The Universal Mission of Israel". Hymn "O Master of the Waking World" was sung, followed by prayer. The scripture reading was taken from the book of Jonah and questions were asked for discussion.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Myra Laird, and approved as read. Nine members and one visitor answered roll call with a verse of scripture. 19 cards were sent, and five home calls made. The mile collection amounted to $1.53, and Easter thank-offering $7.75. Mrs. W.C. Pursey read a letter from Mrs. Harold Laird, and Miss Irma Toombs read one from Florence Hardy. Commission on cards amounted to $4.48. The treasurer, Miss Irma Toombs reported that $50.16 had been raised so far this year. Mrs. Earl Simpson read a chapter of the study book, and Mrs. Roy Woolner will have charge of the same at next meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. W.L. Toombs. The singing of the last two verses of hymn 261 brought meeting to a close.

SENDS CONDOLENCES LONDON (Reuters) — Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko sent condolences Wednesday to Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker on the death of External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported.

CHURCHILL W.M.S.

The monthly meeting of the Churchill W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. Lewis Darrach with an attendance of all members and two visitors. Meeting opened with call to worship taken from Psalm 84 Verses 11 and 12 read by the president, followed by singing Psalm 81 "O Come let us sing unto the Lord". Scripture reading John, Chapter 15, verses 10-20 was read by Mrs. Lewis Darrach. Bible Exposition on the theme, was read by Mrs. Alex MacPhee. Mrs. Killem and Mrs. Garfield MacFayden then offered prayers. Hymn 444 "Come We Tisat Love The Lord" was then sung.

Roll call was answered with a verse of scripture containing "Joy". Offering was received amounting to $3.95 and dedicated by president. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Mrs. Killem gave a message on the theme, "The Fruit of the Spirit is Joy", also explained the Bible questions on chapters 4-5 of St. Mark. Ena Docherty read from the study book "Go-

MY FAMILY LOVES THIS RASPBERRY Double-boiler Pudding!

Grease upper pan of double boiler generously. Measure into pan
1 1/4 c. (10 oz. can) canned raspberries and syrup
1/4 c. granulated sugar
2 tps. corn starch
Mix well and set aside.

Sift together
1/4 c. once-sifted pastry flour
or 1/2 c. once-sifted all-purpose flour
1 1/2 tps. Magic Baking Powder
1/4 tsp. salt

Beat
3 tps. shortening
Blend in
1/2 c. granulated sugar
1 egg
Combine
1/2 c. milk
1/4 tsp. vanilla
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind

Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with flavored milk, combining lightly after each addition. Turn into double-boiler over raspberries. Cover closely and cook over boiling water until batter is cooked—about 1 1/2 hours—add boiling water, if necessary, to under pan.

Turn hot pudding out onto a deep serving dish. Pass chilled custard sauce or pouring cream. Yield: 4 or 5 servings.
