LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

About the Doctors.

SIR,—In your daily of the 10th inst., appears a communication over the signature of "Pro Bono Publico."

I will not attempt to reproduce or elaborate any of his arguments. They are sound as regards the wrong done to the bona fide members of the medical profession, with whom he appears to be in laudable sympathy.

But the wrong done to the public is a gigantic one, and that it should be tolerated and suffered to exist in a country like ours, surpasses belief. In the country the evil seems to exist, and there only. Quacks cannot flourish in our cities. The man who would dare to open an office, and undertake to deal with the awful problems of life and death, without the necessary legal authority, is a scoundrel. That there is no law to prevent his doing so is monstrous, and the sooner such a law is placed upon our statute book, the better for the profession and the general public.

The first step in the process would be to ascertain who are M. D.'s and who are not. Let those who are practising without diplomas be identified and publicly exposed, as your correspondent suggests, and the public made aware of the fact can govern themselves accordingly.

Let our Government pass a bill incorporating a Medical Society, of which no man can become a member until he registers his diploma. Let a register be published, on which the name of every qualified practitioner will be placed in alphabetical order.

Now, sir, as one of the laity, allow me to make a suggestion: that every country practitioner send you a statement, certified to on oath before a J. P., giving all the requisite information as to preliminary study, matriculation examination, when passed and where, number of sessions at college, date and place of graduation, degrees, etc., etc. You will, I feel certain, publish it. Those who fail to vindicate their claim to practice will pardon us all for attributing their silence to conscious guilt, and dare not blame us for exposing them in the press.

No respectable newspaper in the Province should close its columns to such an expose, which will, and should be bold and fearless. The city men can privately hand in their respective testimonials; and, when the list is complete, THE EXAMINER can announce that every medical man may have a copy or copies for a given sum.

By that time, let us hope a bill or act of incorporation will be through Parliament.

To faciliate matters, I may say that in the following country localities practitioners are to be found. I give them in alphabetical order: Bonshaw, Belfast, Crapaud, Clifton, County Line, Clyde River, (New) Glasgow, Hunter River, Rustico, (Mount) Stewart, Union Road, (Lot 33.) The above refers to Queen's County alone; and I may have made omissions. Come, gentlemen, if you are able—and the majority of you are—come out like men at the earnest request of more than CLERICUS.

The Critic Criticised.

SIR,—You have twice charged the late horrible tragedy to the heads of families as the direct result of what you have termed the baneful custom of the country, viz: that of young men and women sitting up alone at night; and made the sweeping assertion that is a common thing for a young man to go to a farm house and be allowed to sit up with a young daughter of the house till daylight. Now, such a sweeping statement as that is very unjust, and quite uncalled for. Why you should so severely condemn one habit, even if it were a general custom, and never even mention another equally pernicious custom, one that cannot be charged to the country alone, is very strange. I refer to those parties or gatherings where young people are allowed to act just as they please, without any responsible person or persons to see that they are properly conducted. And there are many other demoralizing customs that our young people have great need to be shielded from. Even in what some call good society, there are things allowed that are not all that could be desired for their moral purity, such as drinking, card playing, reading bad literature, and various other things, all of which are equally as demoraliziug as what you have mentioned. Let us by all means uphold moral purity, but don't condemn one habit and shut our eyes to others just as bad. And permit me to tell you that even your publications are not all that could be desired for the growth of the moral purity of our young people. Young people must have good reading to feed their minds. In many parts of the country the newspapers are nearly all they have to read, and for that reason they should be made as interesting as possible, without anything profane or that would in any way lead young minds astray. Hoping that you will not take this unkindly, but in the spirit that it is given, in behalf of the rising generation who are being moulded by the influences that now surround them for good or evil, therefore it is necessary that the newspapers be free from all profanity. There is too much of the sublime and ridiculous being carried on in these days, all of which have a bad moral tendency on our young people, and if not reproved by public opinion, will eventually undermine the basis of all right action. If people are taught to think aright, there will be no trouble about their acting right under all circumstances. So, Sir, you have a great responsibility resting on you. Therefore, see that you give good food for the minds of our youth. We want a better selection than "The Pirate" next time.

Address.

To Arthur H. McLauchlan.

DEAR BROTHER,—Having recently learned with deep regret of your intention in a few days of leaving the Island to seek your fortune in a foreign land, we, in behalf of "Flower of the Forest" Lodge, I. O. G. T., deem it our duty, as a small token of the esteem in which you are held by us, to present you with these few parting lines, conveying as they do in a feeble manner our feelings of heartfelt sorrow at your unexpected departure.

During your brief sojourn amongst us, and since you became a member of our Order, we have noted with no small degree of pride the great interest you ever manifested in anything tending to the advancement of temperance in general and of this society in particular.

Whether in discharging the duties of an officer in connection with the Order, or in the more responsible position of teacher in our District School, you have always so conducted yourself as to win our most unqualified respect and approbation, and we feel sure that in a distant land you will not fail in whatever sphere of labor you may engage, to give a like degree of satisfaction so essential to success in this life.

In conclusion, dear Brother, rest assured that wherever you may in future cast your lot you will carry with you our earnest and sincere wishes that you may in all your undertaking be eminently successful, that you may be guided through life by an All-Wise Providence, and shall we never meet on earth, that you may join us in that better land whither we are all so rapidly hastening.

REPLY.

To Wallace McIntyre, Dingwell Coffin, Frederick Pigot, Minnie M. Coffin, Fannie McIntyre, Janie Coffin, and all the members of "Flower of the Forest" Lodge.

DEAR BROTHERS AND SISTERS,—It is quite a surprise to me to learn by the above lines that my humble services have been so much appreciated by you. I feel confident that I look upon my stay among you with no small degree of pleasure. In regard to my connection with "Flower of the Forest" Lodge, I may say that it was the hearty co-operation of all the members at all times that enabled me so feebly to discharge my duties. My connection with the District School was a pleasure to me, on account of the friendly, obedient spirit shown by the pupils. I may say that wherever my lot in life may be cast, the many pleasant days spent among you will always have the foremost place in my memory, and should I live to come to P. E. Island again, Savage Harbor will not be the last place I will come to, and should we never meet again on earth, may we all meet in that place where there shall be no parting.

ARTHUR H. MCLAUCHLAN.

Savage Harbor, April 10, 1888.

Vernon River Bridge Heard From.

A meeting of farmers residing in this locality was held in the Seal River School House on Wednesday, the 18th inst., for the purpose of discussing the Weights and Measures Act.

Mr. Robert C. McRae was called to the chair, and the undersigned appointed Secretary.

The subject was ably discussed from the various standpoints, and the views of the different speakers were given freely and to the point.

After a full and lengthy discussion by the leading farmers of the district, the following resolution was moved by Mr. Owen Sullivan and seconded by Mr. John McGillivray, and carried by a large majority of the meeting, there being only four dissenting voices:

Whereas, Several public meetings have been held in different sections of the country in reference to the best method of shipping potatoes, viz., by weight or measure; and

Whereas, At some of those meetings resolutions were adopted which do not fairly represent the general feelings of the farmers in this locality; and

Whereas, It is the opinion of this meeting that a measure of capacity can be made to give justice and satisfaction to both farmer and trader.

That in view of the limited time which the farmers have to do their shipping in the fall of the year, especially in the southern section of the country, it is materially in their interest to secure the speediest way of discharging their loads; and

Whereas, We believe, in the interest of farmer and trader alike, a measure of capacity would best serve their purpose, and be far less liable to abuse; therefore

Resolved, That it is the firm opinion of this meeting that a measure of capacity containing 24 imperial gallons, would be a just and fair measure, to contain two and one half bushels.

After a unanimous vote of thanks had been tendered the chairman for his impartial conduct in the chair the meeting was brought to a close.

F. MACDONALD, Secretary.

Giving up Polygamy.

The annual conference of the Mormon Church, which has closed a four days' session, brought to Utah people from all the States and Territories where there are Mormons. The feature of the occasion was an epistle signed by Wilford Woodruff in behalf of the twelve apostles, which differs materially in tone from similar papers issued by his predecessor. It is an exhortation to the people to live pure lives, being simply such an epistle as any bishop or pastor of a Christian congregation might present to his flock. The avoidance of any mention of the continuance of the practice of polygamy in the epistle goes for to show that the Mormons are sincere in their declarations that they have abandoned polygamy. There is no evidence of a polygamous marriage having taken place for more than a year.
