PIED PIPER, BROUGHT UP TO DATE

Youngsters haven't changed too much since the days of the original Pied Piper, finds RCAF Sgt. Dave Drew, who discovers himself unwittingly re-enacting the old legend with children of Air Force personell stationed at the No. 3 Fighter Wing base in Zweibrucken, Germany. On a visit to the base with the RCAF's Training Command Band, the Guelph, Ont, sergeant finds that a piccolo has much the same effect as the pipes of the original Piper did long ago, only 200 miles from here in the storied city of Hamelin.

More Inflation From Steel Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—The inflationary impact of the steel strike, which cost the United States an estimated $1,118,000,000, will be felt into 1957 SteelMagazine says.

The metal working weekly says another significant effect on the walkout will be on other wage negotiations. It predicts that other metalworking unions will boost their asking price.

In estimating the strike's cost, the magazine says the loss in steel product sales amounted to $880,000,000,the steelworkers lost $200,000,000 in wages and workers in other industries affected by the strike lost $38,000,000.

"The scramble for steel, plus price increases certain to come, add up to a frantic fourth quarter," the magazine says.

WILL NEED SCRAP

A recent survey of metal users disclosed that it will take almost a third of them 30 days to get inventories back to the pre-strike level, Steel said.

Steel ingot production inched up one percentage point to 15.5 per cent of rated capacity (381,593 net tons) during the past week. The pre-strike operating level was at 95 per centof capacity (.3382,-798 net tons).

Steel said scrap will be in demand when the steel mills start operating again.

The magazine's price composite on steelmaking scrap climbed $1 last week to $47.50 a gross ton, a record for July. The finished steel composite, which has been on an uptrend this month, remained stationary at $131.27 a net ton.
