Drama Festival Executive Meets

The Drama Festival Association executive held its first meeting at the Queen Hotel recently. The president, Mrs. Fred Gates, presided.

Several committees were appointed and many important problems were discussed, among which was the Junior Drama Festival.

After much discussion, it was decided to hold Junior Drama Festivals at various centers throughout the Island. These would be adjudicated on or before April 30, 1953, and substantial prizes would be presented to the winners at each centre.

War Memorial Service Held At Nine Mile Creek

An impressive service of memoriam was held yesterday afternoon at Nine Mile Creek with an exceptionally large attendance of people from the surrounding neighborhood who gathered to honor their sons who gave their lives in the two Great World Wars

Speakers for the occasion were Major A. H. Peake, past pesident of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion, and Rev. (Hon. Maj.) W. J. Enright. Both speakers dealt with the general theme of the sacrifices made by those who died in the cause of freedom, the significance of the wearing of poppies on Armistice Day and what Flanders Fields, and all the other battlefields, should mean to those who are left to carry on.

Chairman of the proceedings was Mr. Charles M. Sinclair, president of the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion. Hymns were sung prior to and after the laying of the wreaths, and an innovation was noted when instead of the bugle notes for the Last Post and Reveille, a piper played two stirring Laments.

Strange Events In Russia Arouse Some Speculation

By William L. Ryan
(Associated Press Foreign News Analyst)

The strange goings-on at the Moscow Bolshevik revolution celebration, coming so soon after equally strange shenanigans in connection with the Soviet Communist Congress, arouse some interesting speculation.

One of the most important questions raised is this: Is the struggle for Kremlin power already in full swing?

The developments last week suggest there now are nine top leaders under Stalin. Two who were in the old 12-member politburo have lost prestige—A. N. Kosygin and A. A. Andreyev.

One striking thing is that both rose to their high positions under the wing of Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

With the dropping of these two from the top-rung leadership, Molotov is beginning to run out of Allies. The only remaining one who might be considered a partisan of Molotov is Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, the U. S. S. R.'s financial wizard.

Molotov's picture continues to be paraded prominently, but there is no good reason to take this too seriously, particularly in view of George M. Malenkov's obviously superior position.

Rising along with Malenkov is N. S. Khrushchev, whose aggressive attack at the 19th all-union party congress pushed Andreyev downward. Khrushchev has won out on agricultural policies which now seem to have the endorsement of Stalin.

With the emergence of what looks like a new and young leadership, the old is being pushed steadily into the background. The word "Bolshevik", once hallowed in Soviet Communist ranks, is gradually to disappear. It has been erased from the name of the party.

The word "Bolshevik" means member of the majority, thus implying that there might possibly be a political minority.

The possibilities of the big ... leadership will bear close watching, with the thought ... that the Kremlin bosses will do all possible to confuse us.

FOUND DEAD — Mr. William Vessey, 45, was found dead in his room at 41 Pownal Street yesterday. Coroner Dr. L. E. Prowse was called and after examining the body and questioning others in the rooming house, decided death was due to natural causes and an inquest was not necessary.

SERVICE STATION ENTERED —Burglars entered Nelson's Service Station, Grafton Street East over the week-end and escaped with a quantity of cigarets and Prestone anti-freeze. Entrance was reported to have been made by breaking a glass in a door and turning back a lock. A dog was left loose in the service station as a guard. He was found locked up in a back room Sunday morning.

He entered U.N.B. in September of this year. One of the Otty L. Barbour Memorial scholarships of $100. a year for two years has been awarded by the university to George T. Needler, a student in first year science. Mr. Needler is a son of Dr. A. W. H. Needler, St. Andrews, N.B., well known in this Province.

Bus Drivers Reject Settlement Offer

SYDNEY, Nov. 9 — (CP) — Thirty-six bus drivers and garage workers of Highland Bus Lines rejected a proposal Saturday which would bind them to a contract before settlement of their dispute over retroactive pay.

The proposal, made following a meeting between Labor Minister MacKinnon and a representative group from Cape Breton communities affected by the 2 1-2 month-old strike, calls for a 15-cent hourly wage increase, a one-year contract and appointment of an industrial inquiry commission to study the issue of retroactive wages.

The employees said the findings of the commission should be made before the contract was signed, otherwise they would have no bearing on the issue.

They asked that the commission be set up immediately.

The strike, which affects three of Cape Breton's four counties, began when a conciliation board halved their demands for a 20-cent hourly increase.

Look For Lifting Of Steel Controls

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9 — (AP)— Election of Dwight Eisenhower as President may hasten a fade-out of government controls in steel distribution, use and inventory, Steel Magazine says today.

Even if the Democratic administration had been retained in power, the weekly metal-working magazine says, controls might have been lifted before their statutory expiration next June 30. Reasons for this, Steel says, were an increase in capacity and production in the industry and "attainment of a plateau in defence production."

Last week steel production was 106 per cent of capacity, down one-half from the preceeding week.

Steel capacity is continuing to grow, Steel says, and "after-effects of the steel workers' strike are being washed out and the pressure from defence needs is levelling off."

"Formal admission the steel supply is improving," Steel says, was made in the defence production administration's recent removal of a "most critical" tag on cold-drawn carbon bars, hot-rolled carbon bars and semi-finished steel, plates and seamless tubing.

The magazine says these items "are still the most difficult of all steel products to obtain, but they are classed now as being only in short supply."

Promotion For R.C.M.P. Members

R.C.M.P. promotions, effective November 1, have brought advancement to two well known members of "L" Division with headquarters at Charlottetown, according to information released by Inspector Churchill.

Cpl. M.F. Hagan has been promoted to Acting Sergeant and Constable T.J. Keefe, to Acting Corporal.

Sgt. Hagan is a native of this Province, having been born at Kelly's Cross, who after training at Regina was posted to Vancouver and Kamloops B.C. He was attached to Charlottetown from 1941 until 1948, when he was transferred to Alberton where he remained in charge until September, 1951, when he returned to the headquarters staff at Charlottetown.

Cpl. Keefe is a native of Banff, Alta., who after training was assigned to duty in the North West Territories, followed by a period at Charlottetown, but most of his service in this province has been at Alberton. Cpl. Keefe, in co-operation with Cpl. Warner who is now stationed at Alberton, won distinction in the capture of the Lauzon gang of bank robbers near Covehead race track several years ago. He was awarded the King's Police medal, as was also Cpl. W. H. Warner, for the splendid work on that occasion.

Officers Hope For Strong Action In Korea

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO, Nov. 9.— (AP) — United States military men here hope that President-elect Eisenhower will decide to end the Korean stalemate by increasing the Allied forces and whipping the Reds.

These military leaders acknowledge that such a course would be costly. But they hope for an increase in the United Nations forces with soldiers available close at hand.

The months of haggling over the prisoner-of-war exchange have allowed Chinese and North Korean Communists to dig in so deeply that the forces Gen. Mark Clark commands would not be able to break through their lines.

But by increasing that force and flushing the enemy out into the open where planes could get in their best licks, the present stalemate could be turned into a war of manoeuvre.

A war of manoeuvre is what the Communists do not want.

U.N. forces in Korea haven't staged a major offensive since Gen. George C. Marshall, then secretary of defence, visited Korea in 1951.

That's when, high U.S. officers believe, the decision was made to ston fighting and try talking.

However, the talking worked to the enemy's advantage and gave him a chance to build up.

Now, these sources believe, it's time to start fighting again and not talk until the Communists are beaten to their knees.

It is wrong to think that the President-elect would make any major decision regarding the armistice talks at this time. The issue of prisoner exchange has passed from this command to a diplomatic level at the United Nations.

Three Decisions Possible

But, as President, Eisenhower could make three military decisions which could put the Communists back in a mood for talking, officers here think.

They are:

1. Bolster the infantry of Gen. James Van Fleet's Eighth Army with several divisions from Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa.

2. Increase the number of Republican of Korea forces now holding more than one-half the frigid front.

3. Order a major offensive, perhaps as early as next spring.

It has been felt in the past that use of Chiang Kai-Shek forces in Korea would merely transplant the Chinese war to Korea and thereby increase the complications.

But sources here now wonder if that is not a risk that will have to be taken.

Chiang would probably let a few divisions go, providing the United States gave him assurance against the possibility of a Red invasion of Formosa from the mainland.

A major offensive wouldn't have to go in the front door.

There are some good beaches along the North Korean coast behind enemy lines.

Baptists Hold 116th Anniversary

Celebrating the 116th year since the founding of their Church here, two very large congregations attended special anniversary services at the Baptist Church yesterday.

The morning and evening sermons were preached by Rev. J. Murray Armstrong, minister of the Baptist Church in Sussex, N. B., and president of the Maritime United Baptist Convention. In his forenoon sermon Rev. Armstrong took for his subject "Christ Died For Our Sins" and elaborated on the sacrifices which He made for the peoples of the world. The evening sermon was titled "Lost and Found" and was based on the age-old story of the Prodigal Son and emphasized the fact that all may return to the Fold of God.

Services were handled by the church pastor, Rev. James D. Davison, while the music and singing was under the direction of Mr. Royston F. Mugford, organist and choir director of the church

Anniversary Services At Local Church

An anniversary and thanksgiving service was held at Central Christian Church yesterday at both the morning and evening sessions. In the morning the subject of the sermon was "This Is My Birthright" while in the evening the title was "In the Glory Of His Presence". The special services were in commemoration of the 55th Anniversary of Central Christian Church. Participating with the pastor, Rev. M. D. Dunbar, were Mr. Preston Beck, morning soloist who was heard in "Bless This House", the Church's male quartette and the Bonshaw male quartette.

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Monthly Meeting

The need in the city of a film council was the topic of the address delivered by Mr. Stan McInnis of the National Film Board to the Charlottetown Junior Chamber of Commerce at their regular monthly meeting held at the Rendezvous November 6th. President Ignatius McDonald was in the chair.

The speaker who was introduced by Fred Pound spoke on the development, aims and local organization of the National Film Board. Many rural areas now have highly successful film councils and he felt that in order to maintain proper and equitable distribution such a setup was a necessity in Charlottetown. The address which was highly informative and well received was followed by a question and answer period.

Following the reading of the minutes by Secretary Brian Cudmore each member was re-affirmed in a ceremony conducted by charter members Stan Lancaster and Jack Morris.

It was reported by Walter LePage that the Chamber's new business room was completed and ready for occupancy, and all the members were invited to inspect it following the meeting.

Henry McWilliams was appointed to fill the vacancy on the Board of Directors caused by the departure of Walter Duffy. Committees were appointed and the new organization is as follows: Past President, Fred Pound; President, Ignatius McDonald; recording secretary, Brian Cudmore; corresponding secretary, Walter LePage; treasurer, Dave Andrew; directors, Ed Hodgson, Gordon Gay, Ralph Dumont, Henry McWilliams.

Committees: Ways and Means, Henry McWilliams, Gordon Gay, and Dave Andrew; membership and Assimilation: Jack Morris, Fred Pound and Stan Lancaster; Municipal Affairs, Walter LePage, Ed Hodgson; Publicity, Don McNeill, Joe Landry; Junior Chamber International, Bob Younker; Extension, Fred Pound; Programme, Earl Nicholson, Alf Doyle; Liason to Board of Trade, Ed Pineau, Bud Norman; Entertainment, Jack Bone.
