OSLO, (AP) — Norway's former speed skating champion, Oscar Mathisen, 65, apparently shot and killed his mentally-ill wife, and then committed suicide in their apartment, police said Tuesday.

Summoned by worried relatives, Mathisen's apartment in Oslo's west end, and found the lifeless body of the grand old man of Norwegian winter sports sprawled on the floor, a pistol in his hand.

Mrs. Sigrid Mathisen, 66, had been killed by a shot from the same gun, police said. They refused to issue further details.

Mathisen, in the years 1908-1915, set 14 world speed skating records, 18 Norwegian records, and won five world championships, three European championships and six Norwegian championships.

Will Give Stewart Benefit of Doubt

DETROIT (CP)—Marshall Dann, sports columnist for the Detroit Free Press, said Monday night if Gaye Stewart had denied saying Montreal Canadiens had orders from higher up not to shake hands with Detroit Red Wings after the American team won the Stanley Cup, he will give him all the benefit of the doubt.

After Detroit won the National Hockey League championship 3-1 in overtime Sunday night from Stewart's team, Canadiens failed to skate over and congratulate them on their win.

"The report of Stewart's statement was obtained from a reliable and extremely accurate source," said Dann. "But if Stewart has denied it, I will give him all the benefit of the doubt."

Landy Misses Four-Minute Mile

MELBOURNE, (AP) — Job: Landy, still in quest of the elusive four-minute mile, missed it again Monday night in his farewell race before invading Europe. But he turned in one of his greatest performances when he was timed in 4:02.6.

Running in a special event at the Bendigo showgrounds with a couple of pacemakers showing the way for the first half, Landy turned in his sixth mile in less than 4:03 since he first won world acclaim in December, 1952.

A comparatively slow third quarter, after the pacemakers had dropped back, cost Landy his chance at Gunder Heagg's world record of 4:01.4.

As it was, only six faster mile races have been recorded and Landy ran three of those. He laid off competition for several weeks in preparation for this final effort before making his first trip out of Australia.

Late this month Landy will leave for a tour of the Scandinavian countries and then will go to the British Empire games in Vancouver.
