Lost, Wednesday night, on Prince Street, between St. Paul's Schoolroom and the Free Church, a lady's Gold Ear Drop. The finder will oblige by leaving it at the EXAMINER Office.

FLOYD SMITH and his wife Mariah (colored) were hanged by an armed mob of 30 or 40 persons, Nov. 4, near Hernando, Miss. Both had been arrested and lodged in jail at Hernando, Oct. 20, charged with murdering a little white girl of six years, left in their care by its mother.

THE EXAMINER does not refer to the Patriot as a standard of "honor, good faith, and manliness." The Patriot's little lecture is thrown away. Our faith in the ability of Mr. DeBlois to show that his political course has been pursued from a conscientious and truly honorable motives is just as strong as ever it was.

MISSIONARY SERVICES.—The Rev. Dr. McDonald, Japan Missionary, will preach to-morrow evening in the Prince Street Methodist Church, a sermon in behalf of the Canadian Methodist Church. The annual Missionary meeting will be held on Tuesday evening. The address of Dr. McDonald on that occasion will deal not only with Missionary facts, but also the customs and usages of Japanese life.

THOMAS DOWD and Eliza Ward were arraigned for the murder of Thomas Edward Ward, at St. Andrew's, N. B., on the 14th Nov.; they pleaded not guilty. Dowd used the words "Not guilty before God and man." He applied to the Court for counsel to defend him; the judge said that he would consider the application, but that in any case he would see that he gets a fair trial. Mrs. Ward applied to have summonses issued for witnesses she wished to have examined. Her request was complied with. The trial commenced on the 15th.

A DOUBLE CRIME.—European newspapers bring the intelligence that a brewer named Wetzel, at Courtaunce, Switzerland, has just been sentenced to death for a double crime of peculiar atrocity. In order to extricate himself from financial difficulties, he set fire to his brewery, which he had over insured, causing thereby the death of one of his men, who perished in the flames. He then poisoned his wife with arsenic, in order that he might be free to marry a woman with money, and so further retrieve his damaged fortunes.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Patriot reports that, at a public meeting held in Graham's Road Schoolhouse, several temperance speeches were delivered by Messrs. G. Mallett, T. Hayden, D. McLean, W. Pillman, Newton McLeod, J. Cann and others. All of the speakers waxed eloquent in their portrayal of the evils of intemperance. They all favored the immediate adoption of the Canada Temperance Act by this Island. The correspondent adds that: Judging from the applause which greeted their remarks, a strong temperance feeling must prevail in that locality, which, if the opportunity will present itself, will do good service in sweeping the last loathsome relics of intemperance from Queen's County at least.

APROPOS of the robbery of A. T. Stewart's grave, the New York "Times" makes the startling suggestion "that a city burial ground is an enclosure easy to be rifled, and that many other bodies have been removed by resurrectionists. Greenwood and Woodlawn and other suburban cemeteries are watched with such unceasing vigilance that desecration is well nigh impossible, while from the fact that city burying grounds are in such exposed localities they are supposed to protect themselves, as it were. If the men who stole Stewart's body could accomplish the deed after advertising it by one unsuccessful attempt, how many others, interested in the perpetual concealment of their deeds, may have hitherto practised their abominable profession with success."

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.—FRATRICIDE AND SUICIDE.—Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 11.—A terrible tragedy occurred at West Chenago, eight miles north of this city on Sunday noon. James and David Tabor, brothers, have disagreed for some time about a division of property. On Sunday David went to the barn where James was husking corn. They quarrelled, and David, seizing a pitchfork, knocked James down, and stabbed him in the chest fifteen or twenty times. He lived only a few minutes. David then went to the woods and blew his own brains out with a shot gun. Both were well to do, and both middle aged. David leaves a wife and four children. James was unmarried.

A LONDON despatch of the 12th, says:—Howden, the winner of the boat race, yesterday, has been matched to row Hanlan over the Tyne course next May for $1,000 a side. [Despatch does not say whether the stakes are to be $1,000 or £1,000 a side—probably the latter. Edward Hanlan leaves for England early in January.]

In his sermon on Sunday evening at the Central Presbyterian Church, Mr. Mitchell read the splendid description of the ideal woman in the 31st chapter of Proverbs, and pointed out that she possessed the seven cardinal virtues: purity, veracity, skill, thrift, self-sacrifice, prudence, benevolence. "These," said the preacher, "make up the sum of female excellence, even as the seven colors of the rainbow constitute the bright and beneficent light of the sun."—Toronto Mail.

RATHER VERDANT.—A miss who was about to take her first ride on a train, stepped aboard of a crowded car at a station between this city and Mount Stewart. Enquiring for a seat, she was ordered by a saucy fellow who occupied one near the door to "go up stairs," and, so saying, he pointed to the small door in the corner of the car. She gently opened the door, looked around, closed it again; and, after casting a glance of horror at that saucy fellow, she made an exit, amid peals of laughter from the passengers.

AN Ottawa despatch reports that the Duke of Edinburgh will accompany the Governor General and party from Halifax to Ottawa. Arrangements are being made for excursions from all parts of the Province, and a monster reception to their Excellencies is being organized. Addresses will be presented from St. Andrew's, St. George's, St. Patrick's, and St. Jean Baptiste Societies, O. Y. Britons, Catholic Union, Royal Black Preceptory, City Council, Public Schools, Board of Separate Schools, and the Ottawa Typographical Unions.

MICHAEL WHELAN, rigger, in justice to his character, requests us to state the following in reference to a recent charge of larceny which was preferred against him in the Police Court: Mr. Whelan is watchman for the official Assignee on the Duncan estate. On Wednesday week he missed a piece of rope from a raft which belonged to the estate; and on Monday last he saw a similar piece on the vessel of Michael Malone. Believing it to be that which was missing, he took it and informed Mr. M. that he could not get it until he proved that it was his. Mr. Malone summoned him to Court; both made their respective statements, and Mr. Malone withdrew the charge.

A SAD shooting accident, which will probably be attended with fatal results, occurred at the residence of Mr. Geo. Mutch, French Fort, this morning at nine o'clock—the victim being a step-son of Mr. Mutch's, named John Sneeston, who is about fifteen years of age. The little fellow—early this morning—completed a scoop for the purpose of lifting bran from the bottom of barrels, and at nine o'clock he was stooped over a bran-barrel showing Mr. Mutch how it worked. Standing near him at the time was a young man named George Scantleberry, who was examining a loaded breach-loading gun. As the boy turned to show the scoop to his step-father, the gun, in the hands of Scantleberry, went off accidentally, and the charge of heavy gooseshot struck the boy on the edge of the hip and passed across. Some of the shot found their way out, but the greater portion of the charge lodged in the centre of the abdomen. Dr. Jenkins was immediately summoned. On arriving he removed all the shot possible, dressed the wound and did all in his power to relieve his sufferings. The Doctor remained until the boy got over the shock. He reports the wound most dangerous, and we regret to learn that the chances for the recovery of the little fellow are very few. Mr. Scantleberry, in whose hands the gun went off, feels much depressed.

Died.
