DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it: A X Y D L E A A X R is L O N G F E L L O W. One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Veteran Outfielders Lead Baseball Hitting Parade

NEW YORK, (AP)—Johnny Wryostek of Philadelphia Phillies and New York Yankees' Gene Woodling, a pair of veteran left-hand hitting outfielders, lead the major leagues in batting with the 1953 season two weeks old. Wryostek, who batted .365 last season, is setting a torrid 500 pace in the National League. He's hit safely in 10 straight games, compiling 17 hits in 34 at bats. Woodling, a .309 hitter in 1952, tops the American League with .472 on 17 safeties in 36 trips. The Phillies' Connie Ryan is second in the National League at .390. Ryan, an 11-year man, owes much of his robust mark to his success against Pittsburgh. He had six-for-six off the Pirates' pitching on April 16 and five-for-five in the first game against the Bucs Sunday. Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee Braves leads in home runs with six. Roy Campanella of Brooklyn has driven in the most runs, 18. Runner-up to Woodling in the American League is Dave Philley of Philadelphia A's. Philley has 29 hits in 47 at bats for a .426 batting mark. Boston's Dick Gernert, who has accounted for all Red Sox home runs, is the American League top man in the department with four. Walt Dropp, Detroit's big first sacker, has the most runs batted in, 11. Bob Lemon, Cleveland right-hander and Alex Kellner, Phila-

Would Boost Pay Of Prime Minister

OTTAWA, (CP)—George Cruickshank, Liberal member for British Columbia's Fraser Valley, told the Commons Monday that Canada's prime minister should be paid more money. Mr. Cruickshank, during consideration of the prime minister's estimates, said he took exception to the figure of $15,000 for the prime minister's annual salary, as not enough. The prime minister also gets a $4,000 annual indemnity as a member of the Commons, plus a $2,000-a-year tax-free living allowance and a $2,000-a-year motor car allowance. Mr. Cruickshank said the leader of the country, no matter who he might be, "ought to be properly rewarded." It seemed strange that a civil servant could make as much as $30,000 a year while the prime minister, with the whole burden of the country on his shoulders didn't make anything like that. The British Columbia member said it might be embarrassing to bring up the matter while Prime Minister St. Laurent himself was in the House, but it shouldn't be. The prime minister was the leader of the country and should be regarded as such irrespective of party. Mr. St. Laurent thanked Mr. Cruickshank for his speech. He said that whoever is the prime minister of Canada the most "worthwhile" compensation he can get is the feeling that he is always trying to do the best he can for the country at large. Toronto Man Seeks To Buy St. Louis Browns

TORONTO, (CP)—Jack Kent Cooke, president of Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, revealed Sunday night he has been trying for three months to buy the franchise of the American League St. Louis Browns. "If we had a 30,000 seating capacity at Maple Leaf Stadium here, we'd be able to swing the deal," said Cooke, who also owns a radio station and has magazine publishing interests. "We'd have to form a syndicate to finance purchase of the franchise." The Toronto baseball park now has a capacity of about 20,000, including some standing room in the stands. Cooke, in an interview, gave no details of the negotiations beyond saying he has been talking with Bill DeWitt, vice-president of the St. Louis club. It is reported such a franchise including all players owned by the selling club, would be worth more than $1,000,000. The Browns tried to switch their franchise to Baltimore this season but the American League owners voted against it. Baltimore, like Toronto, now has a team in the International League.

Canadian Unit

Continued from page 1 and friends packed the rotunda. On Parliament Hill, Brig. Gregg returned to the unit of which he is honorary colonel the colors it had left behind when it sailed for Korea in 1952. Then Prime Minister St. Laurent addressed the men lined up on the vast lawns in front of him, saluting them in the name of all Canada. He told them, as he had told a bewildered young French-speaking soldier who wrote him from Korea—and later died in action—that Canadians are fighting there because Communism committed in Korea an aggression which ultimately would roll up to the shores of Canada herself if it were not stopped in its tracks. Mr. St. Laurent said: "... we wanted the Communist aggressors to learn that aggression did not pay. We were convinced that if the U.N. did not stop aggression in Korea, Korea would be only the first step towards bigger aggression elsewhere and that sooner or later, Canada's turn would come. "And events are beginning to show that your efforts and those of all your comrades in the U.N. forces in Korea are getting the results you want to achieve. By helping to check the Communist aggression in Korea, it is our hope and belief that you have helped to reduce the chance of Communist aggression here at home."

March Through Streets

From Parliament Hill the unit's soldiers from Eastern Canada—the westerners didn't come east—marched through downtown streets with bayoneted rifles over their shoulders, colors flying and band playing, privileges accorded when Mayor Whitton granted them the freedom of the city. At a later luncheon in the Coliseum, they drank beer and ate chicken and bit by bit they began to drift away before the speeches began again. But before the last of them went they rose to a man to say "thank you to Peter" in three cheers for the brisk and buoyant lieutenant-colonel who led them through their year of trial. Peter Bingham said "thank you" but he had already said his cheers for them. In a quiet moment, as they first took their chairs, he looked up, raised his glass and drank a quiet toast to the men who had followed him.
