

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 23, 1884.

Editorial Notes.

Business in the United States continues dull; and there is just enough uncertainty about the political situation to make that the most absorbing topic of the times.

The Toronto Globe reports that the offering of medals for the best farms is one of the most useful of recent methods adopted by the Arts and Agricultural Society for the improvement of farming in Ontario, and declares that the publication of the description of these model farms has a most beneficial effect, and cannot fail to stimulate many to better management of their farms.

There was another disgraceful, destructive and well nigh fatal drunken brawl in Charlottetown, on Saturday evening. Particulars in another column. Lately the Inspectors have been doing good work in the country; they ought now to turn their attention to the slums of the city; and all good citizens should, by giving them information and moral support, assist in enforcing the law.

As already reported by THE EXAMINER, the applications for Sir Leonard's new loan exceeded the amount required by £600,000, and the loan was obtained at an average of 2s. 6d. in the pound, above the minimum of 91. This is the best loan ever placed by Canada; and commenting on it, the Montreal Gazette says:—

"This result is eminently satisfactory, marking a new stage in the progress of the credit of the country. Ten years ago, in the fall of 1874, Sir Richard Cartwright placed the first Canadian 4 per cent. loan, the nominal price being 92, but the amount actually realized was only about 87 1/2 per cent. Four years later Sir Leonard Tilley negotiated a loan bearing the same rate of interest, netting therefore 95 1/2, since which time the credit of the country has so greatly improved that Canadian four per cent. have sold within a few months on the London market at 106. The present issue, realizing something like 4 1/2 per cent. more for a 3 1/2 per cent. bond than Sir Richard Cartwright obtained a decade ago for 4 per cent., indicates the substantial growth of confidence in the country entertained by capitalists abroad, and may be considered as permanently establishing the borrowing rate of the Dominion at 3 1/2 per cent. The proceeds of the loan are to be invested mainly in the Pacific Railway, in payment of the loan made to the company last session, and of the original subsidy, which is being so rapidly earned."

A Nomination.

It is a little remarkable that amidst all the rumors in circulation about Governors and Judges to be appointed, the name of the Hon. Louis H. Davies, M. P., ex-Premier, ex-Attorney-General, has not occurred to anyone. There can be no doubt that under his administration the Governorship would become a live institution. Mr. L. H. Davies, at the head of the Council Board, surrounded by Messrs. D. C. Martin, D. Farquharson, S. F. Perry, J. R. McLean, Henry Beer and Benjamin Rogers, as his constitutional advisers, would be the ideal of a "Great man in Council," and if some gushing, but not very well read, admirer should apply to him Milton's description of Beelzebub, no great harm would be done. The question of Arbor-culture, now receiving so much attention, would, no doubt, derive an impetus from Mr. Davies' management of the Government grounds. A veritable "upas tree," planted and nursed under his care and surrounded by the bones of animals slain by its poisonous exhalations, might serve as a symbol of "our glorious system of Free Education." It might be that a salary of $7,000 per year would be no inducement to one accustomed, in days gone by, to doing so much better. But "little jobs" might still be obtainable. If the Attorney General of the Island could take retainers and refreshers from the Dominion to work against the Island, why cannot a Governor do the same thing? In this way there might be "millions in it," and if so it would suit Mr. Davies admirably. The appointment could not fail to be satisfactory to the Davies wing of the Grits. The Laird faction could not complain because they have already seen one of their number a live Governor. As for the perverse and unreasonable Tories, all that could be expected from them would be a "chorus of reciprocal malignity" (vide Davies' GREAT speech in the Commons.)

St. Peter's Schools.

CLOSE OF THE SCHOOL YEAR—"THOROUGHNESS" THE WATCHWORD—THE SCHOLARS ENTERTAIN THEIR PARENTS AND FRIENDS—LIST OF THE PRIZES.

The closing exercises—before the holidays—took place in St. Peter's Boys' Schoolroom, on Saturday evening. There were an interested audience of parents and friends, and a very pleasing entertainment, consisting of dialogues, readings and singing, by the scholars. The essays by Masters Ernest Earle, on the important subject of "whales," and Gordon Alley, on the "present position of General Gordon," were well up to the standard of such juvenile efforts; and the readings, including those of Masters W. L. Strickland and F. Churchill, though a little too fast, were very good indeed. The Rev. W. B. King, master of the Boys' School, said, in the course of a few remarks, that the school work of the past year had been satisfactory to himself, and he thought, also, to the scholars. "Thoroughness," he said, was the watchword of the school—not that the scholars should learn a great deal quickly, but that whatever they learned they might know well. Rev. G. W. Hodgson, distributed the prizes as follows:—

Drunken Row.

A JEWELRY STORE IN JEOPARDY.

On Saturday evening, about seven o'clock, the jewelry store of Mr. E. W. Taylor, on Queen Street, was the scene of a miniature riot. A drunken brawl took place on the street near by, and a mariner named Nicholson, who assaulted, or had been assaulted, by a number of wharf laborers, etc., sought refuge in the store. He was followed by a dozen or more into the rear workshop, and the fray was continued. The scene which took place there beggars description; and how the glass cases on the counters of the show-room, clocks on the shelves, and ornaments escaped destruction is a mystery to all who witnessed the melee. When the writer entered the store the procession of cut faces and bloody noses, which passed outward, was truly ludicrous; but as he passed into the workshop it was more serious. Tables were upset; tools were forcibly removed, and a bunch of humanity "rough-and-tumbled" over the floor, saturated with water from a bucket, and blood from their wounds. They were hustled out quickly, but one remained—Nicholson. Just previous to the exit of the majority a bottle was fired through the rear window, but did no serious damage. The gang in the rear were told to move off or something serious might happen then. They did so; but an inquisitive boy, bound to see all going on inside, mounted the window sill and hung on to the frame. Just then Nicholson drew a revolver and discharged it at the window, saying: "I must protect myself," or words to that effect. The boy dropped with incredible quickness, and it was difficult for a time to believe he did not fall by a bullet wound. Luckily the bullet passed out of the window about fifteen inches from the boy, and his fall was no doubt owing to a nervous shock. Nicholson then gave up the pistol, and the police on arrival took him in charge. He was arraigned before the Stipendiary Magistrate this forenoon and discharged. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of the others engaged in the melee.

The new National Line steamship America arrived at Queenstown from New York, on the morning of the 18th inst., in six days, fourteen hours and eighteen minutes. A fog prevailed in the lower bay, and she was over an hour passing the bar. She has beaten the record between Sandy Hook and Queenstown by two hours and thirty-nine minutes. The best previous passage was made by the Cavalier Oregon last April. She reached Queenstown in six days, sixteen hours and fifty-seven minutes. The Gulf liner Alaska had previously made the passage in six days, eighteen hours and thirty-seven minutes. "We have not reached our limit of speed yet," said a representative of the National Line yesterday. "We have room for four more boilers in the America, but we don't think we will need to put them in to beat six days."

THE Vossische Gazette of Berlin states that Bismarck emphasizes his decision to annex Argus-Prussia to the German possessions in southwest Africa by ordering the men-of-war Elzabeth and Leipzig to join the corvette Moira and proceed to the waters of the Cape of Good Hope.

N. B. & P. E. I. Methodist Conference.

(Special Correspondence of the Examiner.) SECOND DAY—THURSDAY.

After devotional exercises, the journal was read and adopted.

Rev. Robert Duncan, on behalf of the Trustees of St. Andrew's Church, asked permission to sell the parsonage lot and house in order to pay off a mortgage. Referred to the Memorial Committee.

Manitoba Conference sent a telegraphic greeting, to which a reply was forwarded. Nominating committee reported the formation of several committees.

In reply to the question "What preachers are to be ordained?" the name of Mr. Thos. Pierce, from the Fredricton district, was reported. But through illness Mr. Pierce had not been present at the District meeting. The Fredricton district was empowered to examine him. Mr. Samuel Howard, B. A., from the Miramichi District, and Mr. Artemas C. Bell, from the Sackville District, were reported as having travelled three years. They were to be continued on trial. Mr. Geo. F. Dawson, of the Miramichi, and Mr. James Tait, of the Sackville District, were reported as having travelled two years. They were to be continued on trial. Mr. Robert Clements and Allan P. Taylor were reported as having travelled one year. Mr. N. McLaughlin, from the P. E. Island District, was received as a preacher on trial.

In answer to the question "What preachers have died since last conference?" the President stated that no minister had died. The Doxology was then sung. In reply to the question "Who are the Supernumeraries?" the names of Revs. H. Daniel, J. R. Narraway, A. M.; Henry Pope, D. D.; Geo. B. Payson, Wm. Tweedy, and S. R. Sprague, from the First District. Rev. W. K. Pepper's application was referred to a committee. Rev. F. W. Harrison and E. Mills were reported from the Fredricton District. Revs. H. Pickard, D. D., and J. Prince were reported from the Sackville District. From the St. Stephen District the name of Rev. C. W. Dutcher was reported. From the P. E. Island District the names of the Revs. F. Smallwood and J. V. Jost were reported. Messrs. A. P. Taylor and G. F. Dawson were recommended for admission to Mount Allison College.

Benediction by Rev. H. Daniel.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING.

The conference educational meeting was held in Centenary Church, Rev. J. Read, President, occupied the chair. There was a very small audience. After devotional exercises the chairman made some remarks. The Rev. C. H. Paisley read the report. The returns from districts were as follows:—

Table with 2 columns: District Name and Amount. Includes St. John, Fredericton, Miramichi, Sackville, St. Stephen, P. E. Island, Expenses, and Showing an increase of.

Showing an increase of $10.32

Rev. J. S. Allen made a long speech. He was followed by Dr. Pickard, who made a capital speech. Rev. D. D. Currie made a humorous speech. A collection amounting to $7.56 was taken up. Rev. D. Pickard pronounced benediction.

THIRD DAY—FRIDAY.

After the devotional exercises the journal was read and approved. Rev. R. Duncan submitted the report of the Missionary Committee. It was received. Rev. R. W. Weddall, B. A., read the report of the Conference Special Committee. It was received and adopted by clause. A long conversation ensued, in which several took place, relative to the mode adopted for assessing the circuits for the General Conference expenses. At the close of which a resolution was passed referring the whole matter to a new committee to reconsider it. Rev. J. C. Berrie read the Sabbath School report which was adopted. Journal Secretary read a list of Sabbath appointments. Several brethren were excused from the Conference over the Sabbath. Morning session was concluded by the Benediction.

FRIDAY EVENING'S SABBATH SCHOOL MEETING.

On the platform were Revs. D. D. Currie, J. C. Berrie, Jas. Crisp, W. M. Tredrea and H. J. Thorne, Esq., the Rev. W. W. Brewer in the Chair. Rev. J. C. Berrie read the report, which expressed thankfulness for the success of the past. There had been an increase in the number of schools to the extent of over 600. Sorrow was expressed that there had been a decrease of 300 learning the catechism. He then gave the following figures: 172 schools, 1,199 officers and teachers, 9,521 scholars, 406 conversions, 13,694 volumes in the libraries, $1,008 for missions, $2,538 for Sabbath Schools purposes, and $98.58 for the Sabbath School Extension Fund. He concluded by recommending our own literature.

The chairman made some appropriate remarks. He referred to the energy of the past. He referred to the rebuilding their homes, stores and churches. Next to the great supreme command—"Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature," is the equally divine command—"Suffer little children to come unto me." He prayed that the smile and benediction of the Master might rest upon the little children on the platform. He also made reference to the beautiful flowers on the platform. Next to his love of children was his love of flowers.

Rev. Mr. Tredrea was the next speaker. His topic was the work of the Sabbath school teacher. He claimed that most of the successful workers and ministers in the church came from the Sabbath school. The first qualification of the teacher was conversion to God. No teacher could thoroughly succeed without preparation. Next he should be deeply interested in his work. He should know his class and his lesson. A teacher must come to his work in high spirit. Diligence is requisite. A serpent's wisdom and a dove's harmlessness were needed. Men differ. The Apostles were unlike. There is the same difference among scholars. Diligence was mentioned as being necessary. All should have something to do. Labor ought to be divided. Give one part of the lesson to one scholar, and the other to another. Expect success. Men in ancient times expected large blessings. After singing a hymn the Rev. James Crisp spoke on "the importance of truly religious training." He made reference to the religious training of the Jewish youth. Great results flow from early religious teaching. Youthful faculties are active. Character is formed in early life. In youth the mind is easily impressed. The moral character of the child is formed on the principle of imitation. Religious instruction should be given because youth is a time of great dangers. There are many bitter fountains that entice the young. Religious instruction is necessary because youth is a critical time. There are many instances of short periods of time deterring long and indelible periods. The face of our Lord Jesus Christ is adapted to all the wants of human nature. He prayed that God might bless our Sunday School workers. After singing, "I love to tell the story," E. D. Whiteside, Esq., then gave an address and a black board exercise. He expressed pleasure at seeing so many children present. Our master used illustrations. Listen: "Behold a sower went forth to sow." "Consider the lilies of the field." He drew a straight line on the board, then he stated that man and God were virtually one. He cut the line and said this was what there had been done. Next he drew a line through the other at right angles. This is what Christ had done, united man and God by the Cross. He gave several other illustrations. The audience were delighted. It was most interesting and instructive. The singing was perfect and general. The scholars occupied the platform and the side galleries. It was the most interesting held for many years at a conference gathering in connection with the N. B. & P. E. I. Conference. A collection was taken up in aid of Sabbath School Extension. Benediction by Rev. J. C. Berrie.
