FOOTBALL.—A correspondent writes regarding the football match between the Star and Anchors. He claims that the Stars did not get fair play in the second half, and charges the referee with showing partiality and being ignorant of the rules of the acted according to the rules the score would have been altogether in favor of the Stars.

EXTENSION LADDER.—The new extension ladder bought by the Fire Department from the Gutta Percha Rubber Company, Toronto, will prove a valuable addition to the equipment of our fire brigade. The ladder is in two pieces, and the total height is fifty-five feet. By means of an endless chain it may be lowered any distance required. Chief Engineer L. Rge and the firemen are well pleased with the ladder.

announced the voting takes place on Thursday 22nd, of July. The votes will be finally summed up and the result declared by the returning officer on Monday, 26th, of July at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

ISLAND WORKMEN PRAISED.—Mr. Lees, of Chicago, who is here superintending work on the Messrs. Rattenbury's new pork packing establishment, speaks in the highest terms of the amount of work performed by the men engaged in the erection of the building. "I have never met a better lot of workmen," said he to THE EXAMINER today, "and I have had a good many men working under me in my day.
I would pit them against any similar number of men to be found anywhere. Their capacity for work is simply enormous."

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

(From The Morning Guardian.)

"A publication of rare artistic taste is being issued from THE EXAMINER Office. It is a work descriptive of Prince Edward Island and will be keenly appreciated wherever introduced. Printed on the best of paper, profusely illustrated with life like scenes of the garden province and written in a pleasing and graphic manner this publication should afford hours of delightful reading to many thousands of people. The history of the province is accurately dealt with, followed by a description of its pioneer life, when the early settler's axe was heard in the heart of the unbroken forest, clearing sufficient land on which to erect a log cabin. From early morn till dewy eve this work continued, until the seed, potatoes carried often on the settlers back from the nearest port, were placed on the burnt land, to be covered with earth by means of a hoe.
Then the march of progress is described, until attracted by the reports of prosperous times, shiploads of immigrants began to arrive from England, Scotland and Ireland; these to begin life's battle anew to the music of the woodman's axe. Considerable space is also devoted to Charlottetown, including descriptions of its public works, public building, churches, and various institutions. In this connection appear the photos of Lieut-Gov. Howland, Hon. L. H. Davies, Hon. F. Peters, Stipendiary Magistrate Haszard, Mayor Dawson, the city Councillors, city clerk and Chief Large of the fire department as well as views of many of the public buildings private residences and other scenes of the capital.
An account of the resources of the province and several rural views also find a prominent place in the pages of this work.
A fitting conclusion is a pleasing reference to the Island's wealth of sea and forest where fishing and shooting so largely indulged in, cause camping out to be the ideal life of the sportsman. More than ordinary ability is evident on every page making it a work the circulation of which should be encouraged by every possible means. A few hundred dollars thus spent in presenting so attractively to tourists the charms of this province might be the means of bringing thousands of dollars to its shores."
The book will be ready for delivery about the 21st inst. Advertisers should make instant application if they have not been already called upon.
