

Announcement

We have much pleasure in announcing that we have made arrangements, commencing with the New year, with a gentleman whose name stands high in the literature of Canada, to conduct a Literary Department in the columns of THE GUARDIAN to be devoted especially to the literature of Canada. This department will be published once each month, and the gentleman to whom it has been entrusted, and who, by the way, prefers to remain anonymous in order to favor independence of opinion, intends making it as thorough and interesting as possible. The department will contain an original article, reviews of current literature and other notes on literary topics. We feel sure our readers will appreciate this new enterprise—the first of the kind ever attempted by a Maritime Provincial journal. That the people of this Province are by no means deficient in literary taste we firmly believe, and are expecting this announcement to be followed by a large increase of subscriptions.

HOW TO MARK YOUR BALLOTS.

A WORD TO VOTERS.—As there is a possibility of a mistake occurring in the manner of voting, we wish to make it quite clear to all our readers that they should vote against, not for the petition. Those in favor of the petition are they who promoted the present agitation, and desire a repeal of the Scott Act. Place the voting sign, therefore, in a line with the words "against the petition."

For the Petition.

Against the Petition, X

Be sure and mark an X opposite the words "Against the Petition," and don't put any other mark on the ballot else the vote will be void, and the ballot thrown away.
