Workmen's Compensation Board Annual Meeting

According to the annual report tabled in the Legislature by Hon. Eugene Cullen, Minister of Industry and Natural Resources, of the Workmen's Compensation Board, there were approximately 1,000 claims filed last year; this compared to the 901 of the previous year.

The report stated that the main reasons for the increase were attributable to two causes, more accidents and higher medical costs.

Last year, according to the figures produced for 1952, there was $67,318 paid out while in 1953 it was expected that at least $72,000 would have been dispensed by the Government. In making the report the Department felt that more firms were taking advantage of the coverage offered by the Government and that the annual increase in the credit balance shows steady progress towards the Reserve Fund objective of $500,000.

The report also offers assurance to employers that those with good accident records can be certain that the accident rate will be soundly studied and a wholesale revision of rates will not be made before that. However, the companies with a low accident rate can be reassured that they will receive any help necessary in the way of low rates.

The report also noted that the fact that they had assets of approximately $10 million dollars last year, compared with $9 million dollars the previous year had added to the coverage of local firms. Included in the report was the financial statement of the official auditors, H. R. Doane and Co., which showed a balance on hand of $322,000 as assets.

May Most Dangerous - The list of accidents shows that May is the month most likely to see the greatest number. Last year there were 103 with 60 of them causing temporary total disability. In August there were 102 accidents, closely followed by July with 100. There was only one claim filed during the year for a fatality, and that came in October. Over 424 accidents required medical aid only and they were considered to be in the minor accident class.

Most of the accidents occurred in Queen's County where 469 claims were made. Of these 248 required medical only and 205 needed temporary disability. In Prince County there were 313 claims with 138 needing medical aid only and 166 eligible for temporary total disability. There were 117 claims in King's County with one fatal accident and 73 applying for temporary total disability.

Most of the accidents consisted of bruises, contusions, cuts and lacerations, with 247 being listed to these causes. Dislocations and sprains with 57 were next in order, followed by 47 eye and ear injuries and 31 burns, including shocks.

It is interesting to note that in 69 cases accidents were caused by workmen being struck by tools. At the same time there were 102 victims of accidents when they were handling materials worked with. Flying particles accounted for 87 of the accidents while 32 persons were caught on, in or between machinery.

Fed Road Accidents - Oddly collisions involving automobiles and trucks accounted for only 11 accidents and none of them were fatal. Slippery surfaces caused 32 accidents and tripping over objects caused another 18. Falls from ladders and stairs or ramps, platforms and other elevations were responsible for 16 each, while scaffolds and stagings saw 15 accidents. There were also 11 victims exposed to hot liquids or molten metals.

There were no cases reported of poisoning, but there were a few due to exposure to gases and other agencies. Over exertion resulting in strains and hernia accounted for 73 of the cases reported.

There was only one case where disability lasted as long as 38 weeks. In a great majority of the cases of accidents disability terminated in one to two weeks after the accident. As previously noted the majority of cases involved cuts, lacerations, punctures and abrasions with 240 reported strains, sprains, bruises and dislocations accounted for 103.

The report was prepared by the Workmen's Compensation Board of which Brig. W. W. Reid is chairman. The other two members are Messrs. D. Jerome Gillis, vice chairman, and J. E. R. MacEwen, commissioner.

News and Views From P.W.C.

"Co-ed Week" came to a climax last night with the annual P.W.C. Saide Hawkins Dance, the modern music being supplied by the Down-towners. Square dancing was a feature of the evening with the Prince of Wales College Band, "The Biloald Seven", giving out with several old-time tunes. The band, just recently formed, consists of: Richard Carson, Neils Hansen, Alex Richardson, Norris Mizuno, Boyd Richards, David Stewart, and Gordon Tait. On Wednesday night the movie, "With A Song In My Heart" was shown at the College. Here again the auditorium was filled to capacity as the co-eds took advantage of the college males.

The P.W.C. Welshmen lost out to the Summerside Aces 13-4 last Wednesday night thus losing the City Hockey League semi-finals. It was a two game total-goal series with the College team losing out 22-10 in goals. The juvenile team, however met with greater success as they won their series with Saint Dunstan's Juveniles. The finals for the P.E.I. Juvenile title will get underway next week. In the House League the Collegiates, composed of III and IV year students, were victorious in their playoffs.

On Thursday afternoon the girls' basketball team played to a 38-38 tie with the P.W.C. Welshmen who were handicapped by wearing hockey key gauntlets. The Welshmen will meet the Nomads tonight in the opening game of the City Basketball League finals.

Dr. Thomas H. Raddall, noted Canadian author, gave an address in the auditorium Tuesday night at the fifth annual Samuel Robertson Memorial Lecture. He pointed out that the literary field is now opening up in Canada and he hoped that many of the students would consider this.

With only six weeks of College work remaining the term is fast drawing to a close. Thus extracurricular activities will now be at a low ebb as the majority of the students will continue to burn the midnight oil.

In 1927 he was made Prothonotary Apostolic and Rector of St. Joseph's Seminary. On January 31, 1930, James Charles MacGuigan was appointed Archbishop of Regina, only slightly over thirty years of age. He was the youngest Archbishop in the world at that time. On December 22, 1934 he was transferred to the See of Toronto. Few ecclesiastical honors were left for him to receive and fewer still were the promotions which could still be awarded to him. Canada had never had an English-speaking Cardinal until December 23, 1945 and then it was James Cardinal MacGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, a son of Prince Edward Island, an alumnus of St. Dunstan's College. On August 3rd next, Cardinal MacGuigan will return to his native province and to his Alma Mater in an official capacity, as celebrant of the Pontifical High Mass which will formally open the week long program commemorating the One Hundredth Year in St. Dunstan's history.

where will Mrs. Brown go? Do you know of any boarding homes where she can continue her entertaining? Interested ANSWER: Your suggestion of a boarding home falls far short of ideal for an active woman who likes to be on her own. Since the sum you mention as Alice's contribution to her mother's support is indeed substantial, the perfect solution would be a small apartment for Mrs. Brown. Here she can cook for her friends, have them in when she likes and be completely independent. The fault I find with this whole setup is that a life of card playing seems rather inadequate for an active woman of 55.

WORK WOULD BE GOOD FOR HER The lady would be much happier with some work to do, either salaried or voluntary. Since, even with Alice's help, I'm sure the mother could use extra money, she really should try to get a job. Mature baby sitters are much in demand, and the part-time work would at least provide some variety in her life. Of course, that is only Mrs. Brown's business and certainly not within your province to make any suggestions. However, since you have been asked about the living arrangements, do recommend the apartment idea, which I'm sure will be satisfactory to all concerned.

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a 57-year-old widow living on a farm in western Canada. My only son works away from home most of the time and I get pretty lonely. I'd like very much to find a widow my own age who would live with me, help with the chores, and be a companion. How can I go about finding someone like that?

ANSWER: The best thing you can do is take the problem to your clergyman who probably knows someone in the vicinity to share your home. Be sure that anyone you do take has the very best of references; it's a risky business bringing strangers into your home. It's fortunate that the will to do a kind deed must be so tempered with caution, but just a few people who have violated a trust make us wary of all.
