AMONG THE FARMERS

Federation of Agriculture Newsletter THE LEGISLATURE AND THE FEDERATION

On Wednesday afternoon the members of the Legislature met to receive the annual brief which has been presented, we believe, with one exception every year since 1944.

A study of these briefs and an examination of government policy establishes the fact that the recommendations of the Federation have been listened to and in many cases acted upon.

The brief for any given year is based on the resolutions which have been agreed upon by the members and member organizations of the Federation. In addition the provincial board of directors is closely involved and carefully reviews the subject material in the brief before approval is given.

As much of the brief has been carried by the press and speaks for itself only the summary of the different matters which the Federation felt required attention are here represented.

The first installment in the current era of price supports has now made its appearance and producers of butter, hogs, and wool know what their minimum price will be for the next twelve months.

The sixty-four cent support price on butter is the figure recommended by the Dairy Farmers of Canada and strongly supported by the Federation of Agriculture. This floor price when combined with the 17 cents a pound floor on skim milk powder should mean at least $3.00 a hundred for milk going to processing plants. A figure which will be a worthwhile improvement over last year.

In the case of wool the government will make up the difference between the market price and 60 cents a pound. Last year wool sold for approximately 48 cents per pound. The assistance of the government will be $12.00 a hundred for wool. The assistance of the government will be $12.00 a hundred for wool. The assistance of the government will be $12.00 a hundred for wool.

port of the proceedings which seemed to meet with the approval of the Legislature in that Province.

Morley M. Bell of Summerside said he was in agreement with the suggestion that some records should be kept at least of the Government members' speeches and those of the Opposition.

LAUDS REPORTING

Mr. Bell paid a high tribute to the reporting of the Press during the present session. He said that for extensive coverage and fairness in reporting he had never seen the equal in years.

Dr. L.G. Dewar felt that there should definitely be a record kept of the House proceedings. He observed that it should not be "a forbidding task" in view of the fact that the House rarely meets for over six weeks.

Mr. Bell said that used in the House of Commons, it would be a system, similar to that used in the House of Commons, it would be a system, similar to that used in the House of Commons.

Hon. B. Earle Macdonald called attention to the fact that a short hand machine for similar work is now in use. He said the machine could record speeches ten times faster than a person could type.

REGRET EXPRESSED

R.R. Bell felt it was a pity that a more complete record of the House was not being made. He recalled that over the years he had been making speeches in the House and facetiously remarked "I would hate to think that these remarks, criticisms or otherwise are not recorded for posterity."

Premier Matheson: "When you get the judgeship, it will all be recorded."

Mr. Bell: "Thanks for the plug!" Hon. Eugene Cullen remarked that "many worthwhile" things had been said in the House over

Thursday and Friday of this week the National Board of Farm Forum is meeting in Toronto in what is probably the most important board meeting for some years.

The national office conducting the program need of bringing the whole program more in line with modern rural ideas has led to the need of a very serious consideration of future changes in a project which has made an undoubted contribution in the rural educational field.

CONTRACT FARMING The Midland Co-operative took a look at "Contract Farming" last week and came up with the following:

"Almost everyone these days has heard about vertical integration, or contract farming. That's the scheme where a company puts poultry or hogs out on farms supplied feed and equipment, pays the farmer for raising them and then markets finished poultry or hogs."

"Contract farming already has hit the midland region. In a few areas, co-operatives run the business. But in most cases big feed companies are promoting the plan. Obviously, farmers swap a lot of freedom for a questionable amount of economic security."

"Some people say contract farming isn't practical in most of our region. But if farmers get squeezed much harder, contract farming will look good to lots of them who want some way of making money enough to hang on to the advantage of rural living."

"Farmers should be working now to put the co-operative idea

Teachers' Sessions Concluded In Charlottetown Yesterday

Dr. L. W. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Education, in addressing a large group of teachers, who gathered at Prince of Wales College yesterday morning, stated that two complete revisions of curriculum have taken place in the last 14 years. Yesterday saw the end of the three-day teachers' convention.

Dr. Shaw went on to say that these revisions took place in the curriculum of grades 1-10 and also in the curriculum covering the work of grades 11 and 12. Dr. Shaw also discussed some important changes that have taken place in the education of Commons, he said, it was different. It was almost a year round job.

Mr. Matheson said the dictaphone had almost eliminated the need for stenographers who could take shorthand. In New Brunswick, he noted that a person was assigned to make a synoptic record of the years and felt it only right that some accurate record should be made of proceedings.

He recalled that on one occasion when Hon. Dr. MacMillan, on the presumption that Premier Jones was to be appointed to the Senate, made some very complimentary remarks on behalf of the Government Leader, only to find out the next session of the House that Mr. Jones was still Premier.

Mr. Cullen told the Leader of the Opposition that he felt he had done a good job during his years on the opposite side of the House. He admitted that it was Mr. Bell who first introduced the idea of a causeway and he was also in favor of introducing dragger fishing to the Province.

"I will be pretty red faced this time next year if the Leader of the Opposition doesn't get the judgeship," said Mr. Cullen.

The report was brought in by Harvey Douglas (chairman) with L. George Dewar and Morley Bell as members of the committee. At the conclusion of the discussions it was decided to make Hon. B. Earle Macdonald and A.A. MacIsaac a committee to inquire into the matter of revising the Journals and to report to the House next session.

field during the last 12 or 14 years. He said the Vocational School was erected in 1945 to give service to men and women who were being discharged from the services. The school served this purpose for three years and then was taken into the regular program and is now making a great contribution to the educational life of this province.

In reference to teachers Dr. Shaw pointed out that since 1943-44 the number of teachers has increased by 177, which includes the specialized teachers in the field of music and handicrafts. The number of first class teachers has increased from 196 in 1944 to 316 in 1957. The number of second class teachers has decreased over the years and in 1957 there were some 22 less than in 1944. Third class teachers have also decreased, they show a decrease of 27.

"We have suffered a distinct loss in the death of Gordon Rice" said Dr. Shaw in his opening remarks to the teachers. The late Mr. Rice was the former inspector of schools and in September went to Summerside where he was principal of the elementary school.

At the concluding session the following five minute talks were given: C. T. F., Miss Mabel Matheson; Individual Role of the Teachers in the P. E. I., T. F., Mr. J. A. S. Williams; Teacher Qualifications and Parent-Teacher Relations. Sr. St. Mary Charles; Education Administration, Mr. D. J. MacArthur; Educational Finance, Mr. John Hughes; Teachers' Salaries, Mrs. Marjorie Dover; Pensions, Sick Leave, Mr. Davis Lidstone; Curriculum, Miss Donald Macdonald; and P. E. I. Constitution, Mr. Frank Costello.
