Flyers Meet Aces Tonight

The final game in the best of three series for the Intermediate "B" Championship of Prince Edward Island will be played at Civic Stadium tonight between the Parkdale Flyers and the Summerside Intermediate Aces. Both teams have won one game, and this one is a "must" for both clubs so they will be all out for victory. These boys, quite a number of whom played in the Island Senior League last year put up a fine brand of hockey, and hockey fans are advised to get down to Civic Stadium tonight and look them over.

Big Four Takes Over ORFU Voting Rights At Meeting

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO (CP) — The Big Four and Western Interprovincial Football Unions formally took over voting control of the Canadian Rugby Union Saturday after a bitter battle with the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

At one time the ORFU indicated it might take legal action against the CRU on constitutional issues.

The finish marked one of the most explosive CRU annual meetings in years.

SHOWDOWN IN 30 DAYS
Another showdown is scheduled within 30 days, a time limit set by the ORFU for an answer to the question of its champion playing a post-season game this year with the second- or third-place Big Four club.

The game, if played, could determine whether the ORFU, out of the Grey Cup picture since 1955, is strong enough to regain its semi-final berth in the classic in the future. The ORFU was cut out of the playoff setup this year when the meeting voted that the Big Four and WIFU champions would meet at Vancouver's Empire Stadium on Saturday, Nov.

remained silent throughout most of the drawn-out discussion, standing pat on their declaration of Friday that they would either get their way or pull out of the CRU.

Workman said in a statement following the meetings: "The Canadian public at large has a far better understanding of the reasons for this move (to increase the Big Four and WIFU voting powers) than those close to the scene who are only concerned with the traditional aspects."

WON'T DISRUPT CRU
In an interview, Workman added the CRU would not be disrupted "in any way."

The commissioner declined to comment on the possibility of a lawsuit by the ORFU.

The ORFU contended Saturday that constitution changes made at the 1957 CRU annual meeting were invalid because the Maritime Football Union, admitted into the CRU in 1956, did not have a vote contrary to the CRU constitution. Lerner indicated the ORFU might seek a court ruling.
