

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

AUGUST 6, 1895.

THE VACANT PORTFOLIO.

It is very pleasing to note that the pair of it recommending the Hon. Donald Ferguson for the portfolio of Agriculture. We hope that the Premier will take notice of this evidence that Prince Edward Island is as one upon the point. Of course, the claims of leading men in Quebec and British Columbia are strong. But those of Prince Edward Island will be the more readily recognized from the fact that Senator Ferguson is championed by the leading organ of the opposition here. This is as it should be. We should unite our forces to promote the interests of our Island home. Hitherto we have been content to point out that Senator Ferguson, P. C., is a prominent farmer as well as an active and able politician, peculiarly well adapted for the position of Minister of Agriculture. But in the future, with the assistance of the Patriot, we shall push his claims more confidently and vigorously. It will be hard, indeed, for Sir Mackenzie Bowell to put his hand upon a man who has a more intimate knowledge of the agricultural interests of Canada than Senator Ferguson; it will be hard, indeed, for him to find one more active or energetic. The Premier will make no mistake if he should call Senator Ferguson to the Department of Agriculture.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Judge Dillon says: The legislature should be prohibited from allowing municipal corporations to engage in extra-municipal projects, or to incur debts, or levy taxes for such purposes. An exchange says that the drought in the south-eastern part of Ontario has rendered it very serious for the farmers. Not only are the farms suffering from the want of water, but what little vegetation there has been has been entirely eaten up by the grasshoppers. The farmers have petitioned the Ontario government to assist them in their present distressed condition. It is significant that no sooner had the election returns fixed the Conservative government firmly in power in Great Britain than it was announced that Turkey had decided to accept in their entirety the Armenian reforms demanded by the powers. It is worthy of note, also, that Mr. Gladstone will strengthen Salisbury's hands in upholding the right. Mr. Laurier, who of late has so frequently expressed much admiration for British reforms, should make a mental note of the fact that British statesmen do not usually seek to make party capital where a great principle is involved. A plot to kill the new Czar of Russia shows that Nihilism is not dead in that country as yet. The Russians are a very peculiar people, and there is a great deal in what a young Russian told a newspaper correspondent not long ago, that the rest of the world would never understand the Slavs. They murdered the man who gave them their freedom and the chances are that they will make it very uncomfortable for their present ruler. There is no doubt of the bravery of Nicholas II., because no man situated as he is, excepting a man of unusual bravery, would dare to walk un-armed in the funeral procession of his father, Alexander III. The present Czar is as popular as any of the recent Czars of Russia, but this will not prevent attempts to end his career. The report from Colon that work is to be resumed on the Panama ship canal created some surprise and may well be doubted. The work on the canal was begun fifteen years ago, but for the past half dozen years little if anything has been done. During the time the work was actively in progress the enormous sum of $220,000,000 was expended. Much of this money, it is alleged, was diverted from its original purpose, and large sums were wasted in extravagance that were little short of criminal. A fair amount of the work has already been completed. The principal work yet to be performed is at Culebra, about fifteen miles east of Panama, where a cut is to be made through the Andes mountains. An American naval officer who spent some months on the Isthmus several years ago estimates that the work at Culebra alone will cost $25,000,000.

The following warrant has been issued by the Commissioners for executing the office of lord high admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland: Whereas we deem it expedient that Canadian registry vessels shall be permitted to wear the red ensign of Her Majesty's fleet with the Canadian coat of arms on the fly thereof. We do, therefore, by virtue of the power and authority vested in us, hereby warrant and authorize the red ensign of Her Majesty's fleet with the Canadian coat of arms in the fly, to be used on board vessels registered in the Dominion.

In accordance with the permission granted by the above warrant the following regulations have been adopted by the Canadian Government: 1. The area of the shield shall in no case exceed one-fourth of the area of the Union Jack of the particular ensign. 2. The shield shall be placed centrally in that part of the flag which is beyond the Jack.

DESERVED AND ROBBED HIS WIFE. Mrs. Baker was a middle-aged dressmaker residing in Dowagiac, Mich., and owned some property, besides having a tiny bank account. Charles J. Baker, made his appearance some time ago, and, as he was of good appearance, played the grand seigneur, and told a plausible story, the widow married him, and they went to Buffalo on their wedding trip. Before starting out the unlucky woman was persuaded to sell her property, and she commenced the journey with $1,700 in cash and drafts valued at $1,560 in her possession. They registered at the Continental Hotel and Mrs. Baker obtained possession of the draft and a week ago disappeared. In inquiry, Mrs. Baker found that her husband had left for St. Thomas. He had also attempted to cash her drafts, but had been refused pending inquiries. Sorrowing at heart, she returned to her native place, where she is awaiting the denouement of her little drama.

A NEW LEASE OF LIFE. People are ready to exclaim that they have obtained a new lease of life after taking Wilson's Celebrated Invalids Port. For it has this distinct advantage over the ordinary tonic, that while it braces the system, it also, by its generous qualities, increases its full body, makes blood. Wilson's Invalids' Port is used by thousands all over the country who have felt the necessity for a strengthening of the debilitated system. An immediate relief for the feeling of lassitude. A fine old wine, cheering the cockles of the heart. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts. per bottle. Thousands use it to their advantage. EMERALD, Aug. 6.

Trains from the east and west this morning brought many sons of Ireland and many of their friends to Emerald Junction. Among those who met here are His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Howland, with their guests, Dr. and Mrs. Hickey, Mr. Kane, United States Consul; Hon. J. J. Curran, Solicitor-General of Canada; Hon. D. Ferguson, Hon. Wm. Campbell, Mr. Hackett, Mr. H. Hunt, Mr. John Yeo, Mr. Murphy, Customs Department, Summerside; Mr. D. B. McLeod, of Bradalbane; Mr. Forestal, New London; Rev. Mgr. Gillis, Dr. Doyle, Father Burke, Father Gregory, McDonald, Father Ignatius McDonald, Father Curran, Father Boyd and many others. Upon the arrival of the special train from Charlottetown, a procession was formed and all the representatives of the B. I. S. and the A. O. H. marched together in procession, headed by the City Guard, to the grounds on the banks of the Dunk River. Arrived there, an eloquent address was delivered to the visiting brethren on behalf of the Emerald branch of the B. I. S. by its secretary, Mr. P. J. Trainor. Mr. Peter McCourt, President of the Charlottetown branch, responded on behalf of the visitors, and cheers of welcome were given for the Hon. Mr. Curran and Lieutenant-Governor Howland. The games are now proceeding. The weather is delightful and all are enjoying themselves.

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

Principal L. B. Miller, of the Charlottetown Business College and Writing Academy, desires to announce to the teachers of this province that all who wish to instruct their pupils in the science of accounts according to the course as taught by him to the student teachers at the Prince of Wales College, will be furnished with MSS. free on application to the Business College. In connection with the above we think that it would be advisable for all who intend teaching bookkeeping especially in view of the fact that the following prizes are to be given: 1. Three months' tuition to the student exhibiting at the Provincial Exhibition, 1895, the best specimen of penmanship in the following writing: "Charlottetown Business College and Writing Academy C. regulars free on application. Correspondence solicited. 2. The College will also give three months' tuition to the teacher of the school having the largest class in Bookkeeping given to the Chief Superintendent of Education, on or before 31st December next. 3. A scholarship will be given to the teacher sending the greatest number of students to the Charlottetown Business College during the present year. In the Prize No. 1, C. B. C. students or graduates will be barred from competition. We will be happy to chronicle the names of the winners.

THE MISSIONARIES ESCAPE.

The Canadian Methodist ministers in China are safe in Shanghai, but all their worldly effects are in ashes or stolen as result of the riots in Chong Tsi province of Sue Chuan, on May 28 and 29. Dr. Kilburn, medical missionary, wrote on June 1 a letter describing the escapes of himself and others. The letter was written in the Yamen's house. Dr. Kilburn's wife and son had just returned from Kiating, where he had established a hospital, and was adjusting his house when the mission houses were assailed on May 28, while a Chinese festival was being held, and while the women prayed, yet they were forced to flee. They crawled with their families through a breach in the wall, and were repulsed from various places with yells and curses. The town wall gave them success. When all was quiet they sought the China inland mission compound. Next morning Rev. G. W. Hartwell's home was burned and all Protestants sought the mission grounds. The mob attacked it and the occupants fled, scaling the walls. They found refuge in a house where hush money was paid and later reached the Yamen, where safety was assured. In the night they were shipped on board a steamer for Shanghai, where Dr. Stephenson, wife and family, and Mrs. Hartwell and family are now en route for Canada.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

IN A DIFFERENT OPINION.

Sir,—Your correspondent "Protestant Conservative" starts out with the admission of the clergyman's right to do as much as anyone else can for the community and then abandons his principle and talks a lot about the dislike the Protestant portion of the community have for clergymen who are active in public matters. Let the gentleman speak for himself and not seek to drown us all in his own narrow stream. It is a shame to say a man has a right to abuse him because he would catch it. He is a subject of such bitter and senseless attacks. Bishop McEachern baptized my father, and I always hear him speak of as not only active in public affairs; but actually half of the Government of his time. If he were alive he would catch it too. And was the late Bishop McIntyre, whose name is used, not foremost in every public movement? As long as the clergyman, Catholic or Protestant, works with us for the improvement of the country, who has a right to complain. Why, then, do you come back, but I guess he only reads the weekly; he talks about it when it's a month old.

REAL PROTESTANT CONSERVATIVE.

FREE OPINIONS OF MR. O. A. SMILY.

Mr. Smony is a clever entertainer and his character sketches were, every one of them, side splitters. He is a clever ventriloquist as well as mimic, and this power added to the effect of his work as a great degree, at the piano he manages the keys artistically. In every one of his sketches he buried his own personality and brought distinctly before the audience the peculiarities and eccentricities of the person represented.—Vancouver World.

THE KENTUCKY WAY.

Two gentlemen of Kentucky named Jones and Jones, both of whom were married men, fell in love with a pretty girl named Gilbert, and became very jealous of each other. The other day they met at the Gilbert girl's house, and seizing axes from a wood pile started to chop each other up. Jones got his work in first, cutting off Jones' left arm at the shoulder. Jones then got a blow in at Goines' neck, severing the jugular, but Goines had time before he died to hit Jones on the head, clearing the skull. This is the way they settle such little affairs in Kentucky.

One Farm Wrecked and Another Badly Damaged.

A BARN TORN INTO KINDLING WOOD.

Wood-House and Piggery Blown Out of Existence—Other Damage.

PARADISE, Annapolis Co., N. S., Aug. 6.

This locality was visited by a cyclone about 6 o'clock on Sunday evening. The immediate scene of the disaster was one mile west of Paradise and three miles east of Bridgetown, on the main post road north of the Annapolis River, and resulted in the complete wrecking of Con. Messenger's farm and very seriously injuring the farm of Edgar Bent. One of Messenger's barns was torn into kindling wood. Another was unroofed and moved three feet from its foundation, and another one was badly injured. His wood house and piggery were blown out of existence, and his house was badly damaged. Other places suffered severely.
