Power Commission Bill In Committee In Legislature

The first formal division of the present session of the Legislature was called yesterday on a motion by Major John A. MacDonald, Third Kings, when the House sitting as a committee of the whole gave second reading to an Act to Amend the Power Commission Act.

The division was called by the chairman Mr. William Acorn, First Kings, when Major J. A. MacDonald moved at the term of office of members of the commission be reduced from the six years listed in the amendment to four years. The suggested change was defeated 18 to five in a standing vote.

During a long discussion of the amendment which was finally agreed to in committee Mr. R. R. Bell, Leader of the Opposition, said it was obvious that there was an intention to set up a power commission. He had previously asked if it was proposed to appoint one. He maintained that if a commission is appointed it should be absolutely non-political.

Premier Jones, as promoter of the amendment, stated that any such commission would have full charge of electrification in the Province. The bill under discussion also provides that no electric plant operated by a municipality within its own borders may be expropriated by the Power Commission.

Under the provisions of the amendment an absentee owner of a power plant whose expropriation is sought and whose owner cannot be located a notice of service may be "used by a Justice of the Supreme Court, rather than a Judge of the County Court as formerly."

Coroner's Bill

Hon. W. E. Darby, Attorney General, is the promoter of an amendment to the Coroner's Act designed to effect a change in the presently paid fees. He said in answer to a question that though the new fees were slightly higher he believed it would cost the Province no more in the end as at present there might be a tendency to appoint more coroners.

U.S. Rushes Sabre Jets From England To German Zone

WIESBADEN, Germany, (AP)—The U.S. Air Force rushed some fast new F-86 Sabre jet fighters from England to Germany Monday as an answer to Communist attacks which have brought down an American fighter and a British bomber.

The Air Force said last week after two Soviet-designed MIG-15 fighters of the Czechoslovak Air Force had shot down a U.S. Thunderjet, that 25 Sabres would be sent to Germany from the United States "very soon."

The announcement Monday said "a number" of Sabres, newer and faster than the F-84 Thunderjet stationed in Germany, had been brought in from the 81st fighter-bomber wing stationed in England. Apparently the Air Force decided it would not wait for the Sabres to arrive from the U. S.

Embarrassing to Yanks

It was embarrassing to the Americans that neither the destroyed Thunderjet nor its companion got in a single shot in the attack by two MIGs near Regensburg in the American zone last Tuesday. The Sabre has proved a match for the MIG in Korea.

The Thunderjet pilot parachuted safely, but two days later seven British airmen were killed in a Lincoln bomber that was attacked by two Soviet MIGs near the East German border.

The number of Sabres brought in from England was not revealed. But it was presumed to be one or two squadrons—25 to 50 planes.

Besides the Sabres due soon from the United States, Canada also is sending a wing of Sabres to Germany to bolster NATO's European air force.

OTTAWA, (CP)—The average value of occupied land in Prince Edward Island was $61 an acre as compared with $60 in 1950, the bureau of statistics reported Saturday.

The average value of occupied farm land in Canada was $48 an acre in 1952, a dollar more than in 1951.

This compares with $43 for the average acre in 1950, and $30 for each of the last two war years, 1944 and 1945. It is double the 1935-39 average of $24 an acre.

Increases in farm land values over 1951 were shown in all provinces except Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Alberta. The average value per acre rose in Ontario to $92 from $90; Quebec, to $76 from $74; Manitoba, to $45 from $42, and Saskatchewan, to $61 from $60. In Alberta the average value of farm land was unchanged at $37 an acre, while in Nova Scotia it declined to $54 from $55 and in New Brunswick to $51 from $52.

C.N.R. To Survey Labor Relations

OTTAWA, (CP)—Concerned over "regretful errors" in rail wage negotiations, the Canadian National Railways has launched a "broad survey" into its labor relations.

The government-owned company, employing about 130,000 persons, said Monday in its 1952 report to Parliament that a condition of recurring crises is "detrimental to the best interests of employer and employee alike, and highly undesirable from the standpoint of the general public."

Behind the C.N.R. move was the costly general rail strike of August, 1950, a recent strike threat by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, that could have crippled the service, and strike threats raised by C.N.R. hotel employees in the past several months.

Small C.N.R. Surplus Declared Not Adequate

OTTAWA, (CP)—The recapitalized Canadian National Railways with the help of a book-keeping shuffle, came up in 1952 with a tiny surplus, its first in seven years and its first peacetime one since 1928.

The surplus of $142,327 for the $2,800,000,000 system was described as neither "adequate nor satisfactory" by president Donald Gordon in a letter accompanying the C.N.R. annual report tabled in the Commons Monday by Transport Minister Chevrier.

Revenues were $7,469,274, against operating expenses of $7,122,971, compared with 1951 revenues and operating expenses of $6,808,473 and $6,840,054. In 1951, the company had an operating deficit of $31,576 and an over-all deficit of $466,992.

The Commons referred both reports to its sessional committee.

Record Revenues

The 1952 accounts showed record operating revenues and expenditures, respectively $76,210,415 and $83,862,915. Expenditures climbed faster than income.

The report explained the surplus was made possible because $3-

British Hear Details From First Sea Lord

LONDON, (CP)—A deadly new British anti-submarine mortar which Royal Navy men believe will destroy almost every submarine coming within range has been tried out in Canada and the United States.

Details of the new weapon were given in the House of Commons Monday by J. P. L. Thomas, first lord of the admiralty, during a debate on the navy estimates.

The mortar is aimed automatically by electronic controls after picking up the noise of submerged submarine on echo-sounding apparatus.

"Almost instantaneously," it sends out a shower of bombs which fall around the target area and explode under water.

Installed On Vessel

The mortar has been installed in Britain's latest anti-submarine vessel H.M.S. Rocket.

"Two three-barrelled anti-submarine mortars are linked to an asdic echo-sounding set with an improved electronic fire-control system.

"The mortars fire a pattern of large projectiles with a high degree of accuracy and the projectiles can be set automatically to explode at any depth. They have tails like bombs and their ability to find the target is greater."

Subs Have Little Chance

"Submarines have little chance of escaping destruction once they are within range."

The weapon has been tried out by Canada and the United States, Thomas said, and had "given those countries much food for thought and confirmed the faith which we ourselves place in this new equipment."

He did not state whether the Canadian or U.S. navies plan to adopt the mortars themselves.

Use By Canada Likely

OTTAWA, (CP)—Canada is likely to arm her new anti-submarine escort vessels with a deadly new British anti-submarine mortar which was unveiled Monday in the Commons at Westminster.

The new weapon was demonstrated in Canada and the U. S. in recent months by the warship H.M.S. Rocket and favorably impressed Canadian officers.

The likelihood is that orders will be placed for numbers of the mortar.

Queen Mary Had Less Restful Day

LONDON, (CP)—Queen Mary, ill with a gastric disorder, had a "less restful day," it was announced Monday night at her home, Marlborough House. The Queen, who is 85, is confined to bed.

No Increase In C.N.R. Pensions

OTTAWA, (CP)—The government is not considering increasing pensions to former Canadian National Railways employees receiving only the basic pension of $25 a month, Transport Minister Chevrier said Monday in the Commons in answer to a question.

There are 3,200 pensioners getting the basic amount.

Big Housing Project Planned For Trenton

TRENTON, N. S., (CP)—Three citizens' groups are planning to build a housing project here which on completion will be the largest in Pictou county, Mayor Logan announced Monday.

Two-thirds of this industrial town's working force lives in outlying districts and towns. The project would alleviate the commuting problem and bring workers closer to their jobs.

The groups plan to form a cooperative housing organization, and the homes will be financed by provincial government loans. Town council has assured street, sewerage and water facilities.

Details of the project were not released.

Nantucket Lightship Moved To New Stand

NANTUCKET, Mass., (AP)—After 100 years at the old stand, the Nantucket lightship was in a new position Monday—15 miles east of its previous location. The Coast Guard said the change was made to serve shipping better by keeping vessels clear of shoals and place them directly on the Great Circle route to Europe.

Midgell Farmer Killed In Accident Yesterday

Maynard Sanderson, age 66, of Midgell was killed yesterday morning when he fell from a load of rails which he was taking home when his team of horses ran away. The accident occurred about 10:30 a.m. Mr. Oswald McEwen, a neighbour, who was employed in an adjoining field, saw the runaway horses, and managed to catch them.

He then retraced the road and found Mr. Sanderson already dead. He notified Mr. Aidus MacKenzie of Morell who called the coroner, Dr. Arnold Burden of St. Peter's, and the R.C.M.P.

A jury was impaneled including Mr. J. MacKenzie as foreman, and Harold Webster, Everett Webster, Marshall Peters, George Bowley, Daniel Dingwell, and Gordon Hooper. The body, after being viewed by the jury, was taken to the MacLean Funeral Home, Charlottetown, for an autopsy. The inquest will be held Thursday, March 19th at 7:30 p.m. at Marie school.

The deceased is survived by his widow, the former Pearl Sanderson, and a daughter, Ellen, of the staff of Dingwell and Rossiter, Morell. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Docherty and Mrs. Annie Yeo, both in the U.S., and three brothers, Gordon at St. Peter's, Harry at Morell, and Jack in Charlottetown.

Funeral arrangements were not completed last night.

No Change In Status Of Canadian Jets

OTTAWA, (CP)—Air Force headquarters said Monday there has been as yet no suggestion that Canada's F86 Sabre jet fighter wing in England should be moved to the continent in line with the movement Monday of United States Sabre jets to Germany from England.

Canada now has a three-squadron wing of Sabres in France and England and a third en route to Germany. All are earmarked for NATO roles which means so far that they are not engaged in border patrols.

U. N. Delegates Haggles Over Lie's Successor

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., (CP)—Canada's L. B. Pearson and Carlos Romulo, chief Philippine UN delegate, are the front-runners in the hotly-contested race for the $40,000 per year tax-free job held by Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations.

Romulo has the strong backing of the United States, but neither Pearson nor Romulo were elected last week on the first ballot taken by the security council.

There will be another turn, perhaps next Thursday, and the U.S. delegation let it be known today that Romulo will remain its choice. Pearson appears to be the U. S. second choice. The Big Five will meet Wednesday to see what can be done about an agreement.

The strong American position for Romulo bids fair to collide with equally strong Russian opposition. Worried delegates are predicting that nothing will be done at this session of the general assembly to replace Lie.

If no successor is agreed upon, Lie will remain here indefinitely.

Life Sentence For Murder

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., (AP)—A mild-mannered Sunday school teacher who terrorized community with a series of housebreaks was sentenced to life imprisonment Monday for the slaying of a 16-year-old couple last November.

Murdoch MacDonald, 26, of Boston was sentenced after the state accepted his plea of guilty to a second degree murder in the shooting of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Porter Nov. 8.

The middle-aged Porters were shot to death after they surprised MacDonald while he was robbing their home.

Murder Conviction Legal On Confession Alone

OTTAWA, (CP)—A man who confesses to murder can be convicted on that confession alone, the Supreme Court of Canada ruled Monday.

There is no law, it added, which says that a jury must be cautioned by the judge of the "danger" of convicting solely on the basis of the confession when there is no corroborating evidence.

It made the ruling in a six-to-one majority judgment rejecting the appeal of James Kelsey, 29, of Welland, Ont., sentenced to be hanged April 14 for the slaying of a Welland taxi-driver, Sam Delibatch.

The taxi-driver's body, stabbed and beaten, was found Dec. 17, 1949, on a lonely road on Welland's outskirts. Kelsey was picked up two years later when a friend to whom he allegedly confessed the crime tipped police.

Kelsey, in a written confession to police which he later retracted, involved his brother, Lloyd, in the crime of murder and last theft. James was tried and acquitted, but Lloyd was convicted.

James Maloney of Toronto, defence counsel, appealed to the Supreme Court on the grounds that the trial judge erred in law on two points. One involved the confession. Mr. Maloney claimed he also allegedly failed to empha-

Says Contest Will Come In Few Months

OTTAWA, (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said Monday the record of his Liberal Government will be placed before the Canadian people "within the next few months," thus practically ensuring a federal election this year.

Mr. St. Laurent made this brief reference to an election—his strongest forecast to date—after George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, reiterated opposition charges of government waste, extravagance and inefficiency.

Mr. Drew said the government should consent to an investigation of its administration. It should admit there had been waste and extravagance as evidenced by the Currie report and give assurance that corrective steps were being taken.

Mr. St. Laurent, speaking during the budget debate, said the government is not going to bolster the "insufficiency" of the Opposition argument by agreeing it has been doing an inefficient job, that it has been wasteful or extravagant.

"We are going to submit, within the next few months, that matter to the Canadian electorate," the Prime Minister said amid cheers by Liberal members, "and the honorable gentleman will have every opportunity of expressing his views about our administration."

Proud Of Job

"We think we have done a pretty good job. There are lots of people who are not in the official Opposition who also think we have done a pretty good job.

"Some of them do not happen to be Canadian taxpayers but some of them do happen to be Canadian taxpayers. While we may be very conceited we have the conceit that the kind of job we have been doing is the kind of job we can go out to our fellow Canadian citizens and attempt to justify."

The exchange between the Prime Minister and Mr. Drew brought the

St. Laurent Refuses To Produce Reports

OTTAWA, (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent Monday confirmed the existence of two reports concerning the defence department, sought for weeks by the Opposition, but indicated they won't be made public.

He was accused by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, of enucleating a "new concept of responsible government" in his statement and of indicating anew that the government intends to give just as little information as possible to Parliament.

The reports have been popping in and out of Commons and defence committee discussions for weeks since the sensational Currie report on the Army works services was tabled. Opposition motions to have them tabled have been rejected by the Liberal majority.

Mr. St. Laurent identified them as:

Budget Debate Is Completed

OTTAWA, (CP)—The Commons Monday night completed the three-week-long budget debate, defeating two motions of no-confidence in the government based on criticism of Finance Minister Abbott's 1953-54 budget.

The traditional motions were moved by the Progressive Conservative and CCF parties Feb. 24, four days after Mr. Abbott presented his budget in the Commons.

Members voted 101 to 47 against the Progressive Conservative motion. Earlier the CCF non-confidence motion was defeated by 108 to 44.

Committee Reports Adversely On Railway Bus Application

Yesterday in the Legislature Mr. W. F. A. Stewart, chairman of the select standing committee to inquire into the application of the Canadian National Railway for a bus franchise in Prince Edward Island, tabled the committee's report recommending that the Railway application be turned down. He also tabled a transcript of the evidence and arguments taken at the hearings, which were held last June in Charlottetown, Georgetown and Summerside.

Attached to the committee's report and tabled with it was a copy of a letter from the regional council of the Canadian National Railway, taking exception to the accuracy of the transcript of the proceedings. This letter is interpreted in the committee's report as "in essence repudiating the statements and assurances given by the Railway officials at the hearings."

Following is the full text of the report:

Your Committee sat in Charlottetown, Summerside and Georgetown hearing evidence and submissions made by representatives of the Railway Management, Railway employees, Boards of Trade, existing Bus Services and others. A transcript of the evidence compiled by competent reporters has been prepared and is being tabled herewith.

From the evidence adduced the following facts would appear:

- (a) That the available passenger traffic would not be sufficient to allow two competing bus services to operate successfully.
- (b) That inevitably the granting of a Bus Franchise to the

Discuss Russian Flights Over Canada, Alaska

WASHINGTON, (AP)—U. S. Air Force officials said Monday night they believe unidentified aircraft, probably Russian, have made infrequent reconnaissance flights over Alaska and the northern parts of Canada.

The officials, asked about the published reports that the Red strategic air command was making periodic survey flights over North America, said that the probable Russian appearances were "less than intermittent" and might more accurately be called "scattered."

High Air Force sources added that no aircraft of possible Russian origin, had actually been seen and that none had been intercepted by U. S. planes. One official said that there was considerable evidence, however, that some Russian flights had been made but that the evidence pointed to no discernible pattern.

Most of the evidence of possible Russian flights was drawn from the study of observer reports, mainly from Alaska of contrails, the icy vapor that often marks the path of a high-flying plane.

The Air Force said that the last contrail sighting was last week, reported from Alaska on the same day that a U. S. F-84 plane was shot down by Communist fighters in Germany.
