

35 Snatched From Broken Oil Tanker

ALGIERS (AP) — At least 35 crew members were snatched Wednesday from the broken halves of the Norwegian tanker Seirstad in the stormy Mediterranean.

The rescue flotilla of many nations chartered the western Mediterranean Wednesday night looking for three men still missing. The rescuers battled all day to reach the crew trapped on the derelict halves of the ship.

The 9,974-ton tanker snapped just before dawn about 100 miles southeast of Majorca, largest of Spain's Balearic Islands.

TWO GROUPS RESCUED
The French admiralty here announced that the 4,740-ton Italian steamer Rubicone picked up seven crew members from the drifting bow just at dusk. The Rubicone did not mention the other three men who were believed marooned on the bow.

The admiralty said there is a possibility some other ship had taken them off but rescue craft still were circling the choppy seas as darkness fell.

The 8,274-ton Dutch freighter Banting, first on the scene, radioed earlier she had rescued 28 men who presumably had been taken off the stern.

The 20-year-old Seirstad, owned by A. F. Klaveness and Company of Oslo, was en route from Saudi Arabia to Barcelona, Spain, with a cargo of oil when it ran into the tempest that raged all day Tuesday.

Macmillan Urges Open Skies Talks

LONDON (Friday) (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan urged Nikolai Bulganin today to agree to talks at once on a level well below the summit—for an open skies inspection plan and a ban on nuclear weapon tests.

Macmillan, replying to a December letter from the Soviet premier, suggested that groups of experts get to work immediately on the technical details of disarmament.

He said it would be at least a beginning of a world pact to end the arms race—a beginning which Macmillan said "is needed to create real confidence" between East and West.

"Peace cannot be secured just by words; we need deeds as well Macmillan said.

As for an East - West summit conference, which Bulganin declared last week should be held within three months, the British leader left the door open. He promised a fuller reply to Bulganin's proposal in another letter soon, but he added:

"I am considering these proposals. We must not forget that much would be expected by the world from such a meeting and failure or disappointment would be correspondingly grave."

In tone Macmillan's letter appeared to be firm yet friendly.

U. S. May Review Oil Restrictions

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States will review its newly-enforced oil import restrictions if they prove injurious to Canadian oil production, U.S. government officials said Thursday.

A highly-placed official said the U.S. does not believe its import program will harm Western Canada oil industry but, if it does, "we will have to take another look at it."

This viewpoint will be spelled out in the U.S. reply to the vigorous diplomatic protest Canada made Wednesday to President Eisenhower's Dec. 24 request to U.S. firms to cut oil imports on the U.S. West Coast by 15 per cent.

There was no immediate state department comment on the Canadian note, to be made public in Ottawa today. A state department spokesman said it was being given the "utmost" consideration.

Woman Makes Rousing Speech

OTTAWA (CP)—A pretty young housewife practically stole the show at the national Liberal convention Thursday with a rousing speech asking male Liberals to put more trust in the power of women.

Mrs. Rene Mercier of La Sarre, Que., said husbands should interest their wives in politics.

"I am sure women like to help," she said in both French and English. "Oh, I can hear the sarcastic remarks of men that they don't like to see women on platforms. I don't either."

"But we want to help and that's why we have to come up and say it on the platform."

Mrs. Mercier got a standing ovation from the 1,500 delegates on the convention floor when she finished her short speech.

SEEKS UNIFORMITY

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario division of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada is seeking more uniform closing hours for stores, it was disclosed Friday.

A community is only as successful as the people who make it up. And no matter what the city fathers plan for the development and growth of this community, it's squarely up to you to help these plans to materialize. Yes, it's up to the citizens of this area to support local business. It's the money you spend here, that stays in our own yard and works for us with better civic improvements, and facilities that benefits one and all. Don't be fooled by misleading statements by other shopping areas. When you look for values, you'll find them right here in your own community. Local merchandise at the same fair prices, you might find anywhere. That's why we say, know your neighbour. He's the man that pays his taxes. He's interested in community progress and welfare and in the constant improvement of his home grounds. He's the man with the young ideas for getting ahead.
