

ROSES AND THORNS

For the benefit of this year's freshman class and her uninitiates, Roses and Thorns was a popular column the now-deceased Sun. Each week, its author would look two aspects of Campus life deserving of praise or censure.

Contrary to popular belief, the staff of the Netted Gem is not contemptuous of every feature of the old Sun. We know a lot about it, and with your assistance, we wish to give some of the better additions it followed. Roses and Thorns is one of them. So, here goes!

This week's bouquet of roses goes to the Senior Business Students presenting their Management Policy projects this Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday in Kelley 237. These days of judgement start at 8:30 and are open to the public. We feel you poor overworked creatures deserve a big round of applause. Roses aren't cheap, though. We'll give them to you in spirit, but if you want the real thing ... well, maybe you could try the Student Union.

The crown of thorns goes to whomever is responsible for the muddy passageway outside the north entrance to the Robertson Library. Agreed, we probably should not be walking on the unpaved path, but when the flagstones are under three inches of rainwater, it's hard not to!

Since this is the most popular route to the centre of campus, why don't the people in maintenance or whoever is supposed to look after things like that do something about it? Or when spring rolls around, will we have to put up with the same thing?
