Beavers' Rolling Ways.

Beavers, the only warm blooded animals which habitually do heavy transport by land, provide for all contingencies by cutting "rolling ways," biting off all stumps and obstacles and do their log rolling along these toward the water. There is very little doubt that were it at all necessary to their comfort other animals would have hit on the same expedients. Thus beavers have three kinds of roads—their ordinary tracks, near the water, their canals and the log rolling roads. This is quite in accordance with the very high degree of their social development as compared with other animals.

Variety of roads is a mark of progress among the beasts as among men. Even in Europe there are many degrees of this exhibition of civilization. The Dutch are the representatives of the beavers among men. On the route from The Hague to Scheveningen, for instance, there lie parallel to each other a carriage road, a canal, a bicycle track, a light railway, side paths regularly constructed and in places little tracks, or "katz-passen," made by trespassers.—Spectator.

A Big State.

Says The Manufacturers' Record: "How big is Texas, did you ask? Well, I won't try to tell, but when you are in the northern end of the state you are closer to St. Paul, Minn., than to the southern end of the state. They tell a story of a man down there who had a reasonably large ranch—not one of the big ones, just a moderate sized one—on which the front gate was 20 miles from the house, a very convenient evening walk for lovers who want to swing on the gate before saying good night."

Medical Wit.

"Where is the pain?" asked the physician.

"Oh, I don't know, doctor!" groaned the patient. "It hurts so I can't tell where it is!"

"Just so," said the doctor, proceeding to fill a small vial from a larger one. "It's a wiseacre who knows where he aches."—Chicago Tribune.

No More War

Swords will be beaten into plough shares later on; but our armers do not need to wait till the "Peace Conference" is over, before buying their plough shares, as they can do so at once, by calling at the Masonic Temple Store, where any share, or other plough extras can be had for less money, and better than any imported. Prove this at once, by trying hem.

ALL ABOARD! 1000 PASSENGERS FOR MORELL TEA.

The Century Jubilee Tea

—TO BE HELD—

AT MORELL,

—ON—

THURSDAY JULY 6th, 1899.

Will be the crowning social event of this closing year of the 19th Century

Here we are again, with the old name—The Great Jubilee Tea. Is it not like meeting an old friend with whom you once spent a pleasant and enjoyable day Somebody has asked, what's in a name, we will not venoure to answer that question as it regards names in general, but will merely submit that this particular name, JUBILEE TEA inasmuch as it designates the great social gatherings held a Morell is a guarantee of the highest excellence in all that pertains to tea-parties.

In confirmation of this assurance we confidently appeal to the many thousands of persons from all over the province, who attended our first great Jubilee Tea in 1895

It is because of the reputation for excellence acquired by our great Jubilee Teas, that we have retained the old name, and we will spare no efforts to make the present tea the peer in every respect of its namesakes, which have gone before it.

The Tea will be held on beautiful and spacious grounds adjoining Lot 40 Station about 1 mile from the village of Morell, and within easy reach of "Stookley" the historic site of the old Acadian town of St. Pierre where social gatherings were held in the olden days, before our grandfathers were born. If you wish therefor to have the pleasure of attending the first, largest and best tea of the season, arrange to be present at the CENTURY JUBILEE TEA to be held at Morell on July 6th. Should this day be unfavorable the tea will be held the first fine day following.

Trains will run in connection with the tea on standard time as follows:
