

Happenings of The Week

Nine Canadian women writers in London, Eng., on a three-week fact-finding tour...

Miss Donata MacLeod of Victoria has left for Halifax, N. S., where she has entered Dalhousie University.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Parent have as their guest Miss Helen Bailey of Fredericton, N. B.

Dr. H. H. Shaw leaves this morning on a visit to his daughter Mrs. Charles A. Marshall, Halifax.

Tea hostesses at the Golf Club this afternoon will be Mrs. H. W. Weeks, Mrs. T. W. L. Prowse, Mrs. W. H. Pethick, Mrs. W. J. P. MacMillan and Mrs. H. L. Sear.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hansen entertained at bridge and a buffet supper on Saturday last for Miss Inez Murray and Dr. C. Gallant...

On Tuesday Mrs. A. L. McIsaac Belvedere, entertained at a miscellaneous shower and buffet luncheon in Miss Murray's honour.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. MacDonald, Connaught Apts., entertained at a dinner party for Miss Murray and Dr. Gallant on Thursday evening.

On Friday evening Miss Murray was guest of honour at a bridge party given by Miss Mary MacKenzie, Euston Street...

Mrs. J. S. Edwards and her aunt, Miss Dora Smith, returned to Ottawa after spending the past three months at their summer home, MacEdward Manor, New Glasgow.

Miss Marie Burge of Stoneham, Mass., leaves this morning for her home after spending two weeks' vacation with Miss Beverley FitzGerald, Charlottetown...

Last Thursday evening the staff of the Provincial Laboratories entertained for Miss Hazel Wright whose marriage takes place next week at a surprise party shower at her new apartment on Richmond Street.

The Community of Central Royals honored Miss Wright with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. MacLean on Tuesday evening.

The wedding is taking place today in Bound Brook, New Jersey, of Miss Helen Spencer Cookson, daughter of Mrs. J. S. Cookson and the late Mr. Cookson...

Dr. Gordon Hodgson of Miami, Fla., has arrived in Bound Brook to attend the wedding of Miss Cookson, as has also Mrs. Alfred Jamieson of Halifax, N. S.

Rev. Dr. Gordon of Kingston, Ontario, accompanied by his cousin, Miss Katherine MacLennan, has left for Quebec following a holiday with his relatives on the Island. Miss MacLennan will continue to Philadelphia where she is to visit with friends.

Mrs. James MacKendrick is celebrating the 89th anniversary of her birth this coming Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred MacLeod, Park Terrace.

The Executive of the Provincial Women's Institute entertained at Keppoch Beach Hotel at afternoon tea on Thursday in honour of Dr. Hitchmanova who is making a speaking tour of Prince Edward Island.

Mrs. I. E. Croken left Friday to attend the Dysart-Lyons wedding taking place in the Cathedral at Shediac today. Other guests attending are Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gillis and Mrs. D. J. Riley.

Mrs. Noel DeBlais and Mrs. George DeBlais are returning this week-end from a visit to Saint John, N. B.

Mrs. A. B. Cosh has returned from the P. E. I. Hospital where she was a patient for the past month.

Miss Fleur Hillon, whose marriage to Mr. Clive Stewart is taking place at St. Paul's Chapel on Monday next was guest of honour at a community shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stewart on Friday evening.

Miss Jessie Logan, who arrived on Saturday by plane from New Glasgow, N. S., and Miss Winifred Schurman of Charlottetown are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leard, Bedéque. They were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Allen, Summerside.

Miss Dorothy Ellis left Summerside this week for Sackville, N. B., to resume her studies at Mt. Allison University.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Holman have returned to their home in Summerside after a pleasant visit in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. William Gillespie has returned to her home in Rockland, Mass., after a month's visit with friends and relatives on the Island.

Miss Alison Conway left during the week on a holiday trip to West Roxbury, Mass., where she will join her mother, Mrs. M. J. Conway who is at present visiting relatives in the United States.

HON. T. W. L. PROWSE who will begin his four-year term as Prince Edward Island's Lieutenant Governor on October 4th in Canada's historic Confederation Chamber when the oath of office will be administered by Hon. Thane A. Campbell, Chief Justice...

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee. Q. When is the proper time for the host and hostess to take their seats at the dinner table?

A. The hostess should always seat herself first, this being the signal for the guests to seat themselves. The host is always the last one to take his seat.

Q. If there is no reason financially for postponing a marriage, what is the usual maximum length of an engagement?

A. Six months. Q. What is the meaning of "a la carte", and how is it pronounced?

A. It means dish by dish, with a stated price for each. Pronounce a-la-kart, all 'a's in ah, accent on last syllable.

Better English

By B. C. Williams. 1. What is wrong with this sentence? "It was none other than her."

ANSWERS. Say: "It was no other than she." 2. Pronounce pl-au-0, i as in pit (not as in pie), accent second syllable.

Household Scrapbook

By Roberta Lee. BUTTONHOLES. Baste a strip of cloth on the underside of the hem. Then cut and work the buttonhole through both the strip and the hem.

Soap Flakes. Try using an egg beater to beat soap flakes into a foam. You will be surprised how few flakes will be required to make a lot of suds.

Easy To Do. A fruit jar can be opened easily if the top is dipped into hot water for a few minutes.

How Can I!!!

By Anne Ashley. Q. How can I prevent chair legs from denting the linoleum?

A. Buy rubber crutch tips and place on the bottoms of the chair legs. These will prevent the chair legs from making dents in the linoleum, and also avoid much noise when moving the chairs around.

Q. How can I make use of soapy dish water?

A. It is claimed that soapy dish water thrown on the rose bushes will cause them to thrive.

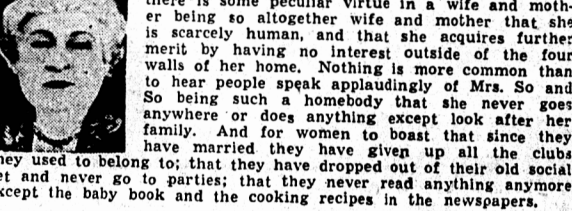

Q. How can I brighten black satin slippers?

A. Dip a cloth in ammonia, wring it until almost dry, and wipe the surface.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Homebody. No Outside Interests Make Woman A Dull Wife. The ideal wife of tradition has always been the woman who, like the snail, carries her house on her back.

Somehow the belief has always persisted that there is some peculiar virtue in a wife and mother being so altogether wife and mother that she acquires further merit by having no interest outside of the four walls of her home.

Of course, inasmuch as keeping the home fires burning and making her family comfortable is the woman's part in the domestic partnership, it is obvious that she must necessarily give most of her time and attention to her job.

Consider how many of the weaknesses of the feminine character are attributable solely to women's lack of outside interests.

You see the effect of this narrow range of interests in women's lives illustrated in a thousand ways. In their inability to get over a sorrow, for instance. When by death a man loses someone he loves, his heart is just as much torn with anguish as a woman's, but he has his work that he is bound to concentrate upon; strangers to whom he has to turn a smiling face; a thousand things that take his mind off his sorrow, and so he adjusts himself to what must be borne.

It is because women make their homes the center of the universe that they take marriage so badly. If a wife doesn't come up to all her husband's fondest fancies painted, he generally shrugs his shoulders and makes the best of Mary being a good cook, or a thrifty manager, or what not, and he takes up golf in a serious way, or gets so absorbed in making money that nothing else counts much.

CANT ADJUST TO MARRIAGE

Continued on page 16

Carmichael-Keizer Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Eugene Carmichael photographed at the Queen Hotel during their reception following their marriage at Trinity United Church. Left to right Mr. Eloyce Carier who was groomsman, the groom and his bride, the former Mabel Joyce Keizer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Keizer, and Mrs. Lorne Keizer who was matron of honor.

Bagnall-Compton Wedding Group

Photographed at "Oakwood", Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bagnall with their attendants following their recent marriage at Saint Peter's Cathedral. Left to right Mr. Donald MacLeod, Mr. Fred Cannon who were ushers, Mr. Clifford Campbell, groomsman, the groom and his bride the former Eileen Margaret Compton, Miss Edna MacKenzie and Miss Helen Bagnall who were bridesmaids.

ELLEN'S DIARY

By An Island Farmer's Wife. And so without rest or pause the days dissolve into space, the weeks fade. Spring we recall was scarcely here, with its busy lengthening days and the fragrance of fresh-turned clay, when Summer was come — a season of blossom and growth and bringing myriad delights to the farm-folks. Cares too, we remember, but what are these when Summer lies sweet and gentle over the countryside? Then Autumn was here, her shades stealing into nooks and crannies of earth unbidden to those who might wish for Summer to linger awhile.

Homebody

"I'm not what you might call, in love with this season — or with Winter either, though both have their good features. I enjoy Spring best of all. I like to come to the mornings then — they're so fresh and new and different, as indeed is every day then. The young stock are arriving too... the calves and the lambs and the small pigs — and I like the seedtime, even the buying of the seeds and the sowing of them!"

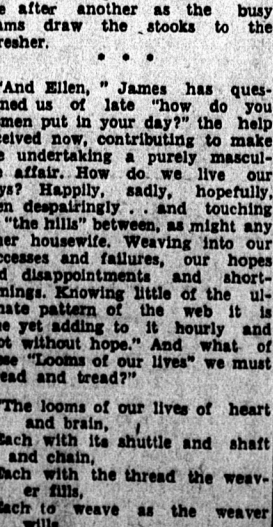

WIFE'S JOB

And cool, even chilly, has been this week of September's days, which is not surprising when we stop to consider that October, month of rustling wind-tossed leaves, of opal skies, of brown furrows, waits now just above the hill. And steadily, taking advantage of every clear sunny hour our farmers kept at the threshing — gathering the riches of this year's abundant crop from this or that field at Rob's or presently at the quiet reaches of the other farm to its winnowing. Chafing a bit at any delay of unfavorable weather or should the farm-engine develop a temporary ill. Excellent help they have been favored with at the work of it: Mr. A., to whom in his wider experience Rob delivers up the joys and labours of "the feeding", Jamie's city grandfather too, much interested in the work which yearly carried, adventuring harvesters into that land, towards the sunset. "Tired?" he echoed one query on a recent evening, laughing over it. "Anyone that has been on an old-time threshing gang in the West would consider the like of our threshing today as a bit of 'Child's Play!' "

CANT ADJUST TO MARRIAGE

Continued on page 16

Carmichael-Keizer Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Eugene Carmichael photographed at the Queen Hotel during their reception following their marriage at Trinity United Church. Left to right Mr. Eloyce Carier who was groomsman, the groom and his bride, the former Mabel Joyce Keizer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Keizer, and Mrs. Lorne Keizer who was matron of honor.

ELLEN'S DIARY

By An Island Farmer's Wife. And so without rest or pause the days dissolve into space, the weeks fade. Spring we recall was scarcely here, with its busy lengthening days and the fragrance of fresh-turned clay, when Summer was come — a season of blossom and growth and bringing myriad delights to the farm-folks. Cares too, we remember, but what are these when Summer lies sweet and gentle over the countryside? Then Autumn was here, her shades stealing into nooks and crannies of earth unbidden to those who might wish for Summer to linger awhile.

Homebody

"I'm not what you might call, in love with this season — or with Winter either, though both have their good features. I enjoy Spring best of all. I like to come to the mornings then — they're so fresh and new and different, as indeed is every day then. The young stock are arriving too... the calves and the lambs and the small pigs — and I like the seedtime, even the buying of the seeds and the sowing of them!"

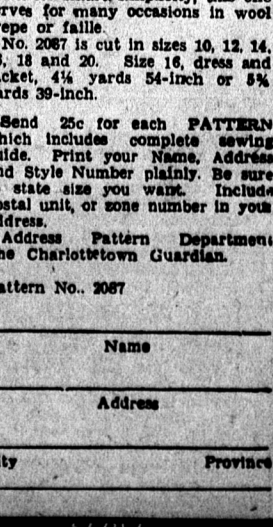

WIFE'S JOB

And cool, even chilly, has been this week of September's days, which is not surprising when we stop to consider that October, month of rustling wind-tossed leaves, of opal skies, of brown furrows, waits now just above the hill. And steadily, taking advantage of every clear sunny hour our farmers kept at the threshing — gathering the riches of this year's abundant crop from this or that field at Rob's or presently at the quiet reaches of the other farm to its winnowing. Chafing a bit at any delay of unfavorable weather or should the farm-engine develop a temporary ill. Excellent help they have been favored with at the work of it: Mr. A., to whom in his wider experience Rob delivers up the joys and labours of "the feeding", Jamie's city grandfather too, much interested in the work which yearly carried, adventuring harvesters into that land, towards the sunset. "Tired?" he echoed one query on a recent evening, laughing over it. "Anyone that has been on an old-time threshing gang in the West would consider the like of our threshing today as a bit of 'Child's Play!' "

CANT ADJUST TO MARRIAGE

Continued on page 16

Carmichael-Keizer Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Eugene Carmichael photographed at the Queen Hotel during their reception following their marriage at Trinity United Church. Left to right Mr. Eloyce Carier who was groomsman, the groom and his bride, the former Mabel Joyce Keizer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Keizer, and Mrs. Lorne Keizer who was matron of honor.

That Body Of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D. BREATHING EXERCISES FOR ASTHMA. In asthma, the difficulty is getting the used air out of the lungs, not getting enough air into the lungs. The Asthma Research Council of Great Britain issues a little booklet at a nominal cost of 50 cents called "Breathing Exercises in the Treatment of Asthma."

Homebody

"I'm not what you might call, in love with this season — or with Winter either, though both have their good features. I enjoy Spring best of all. I like to come to the mornings then — they're so fresh and new and different, as indeed is every day then. The young stock are arriving too... the calves and the lambs and the small pigs — and I like the seedtime, even the buying of the seeds and the sowing of them!"

WIFE'S JOB

And cool, even chilly, has been this week of September's days, which is not surprising when we stop to consider that October, month of rustling wind-tossed leaves, of opal skies, of brown furrows, waits now just above the hill. And steadily, taking advantage of every clear sunny hour our farmers kept at the threshing — gathering the riches of this year's abundant crop from this or that field at Rob's or presently at the quiet reaches of the other farm to its winnowing. Chafing a bit at any delay of unfavorable weather or should the farm-engine develop a temporary ill. Excellent help they have been favored with at the work of it: Mr. A., to whom in his wider experience Rob delivers up the joys and labours of "the feeding", Jamie's city grandfather too, much interested in the work which yearly carried, adventuring harvesters into that land, towards the sunset. "Tired?" he echoed one query on a recent evening, laughing over it. "Anyone that has been on an old-time threshing gang in the West would consider the like of our threshing today as a bit of 'Child's Play!' "

CANT ADJUST TO MARRIAGE

Continued on page 16

Carmichael-Keizer Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Eugene Carmichael photographed at the Queen Hotel during their reception following their marriage at Trinity United Church. Left to right Mr. Eloyce Carier who was groomsman, the groom and his bride, the former Mabel Joyce Keizer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Keizer, and Mrs. Lorne Keizer who was matron of honor.

Needlecraft - FOR THE HOME - DRESS WITH JACKET. Nothing is newer — or more practical — than a dress plus jacket. With its smart, simplicity, this one serves for many occasions in wool crepe or fall. No. 2087 is cut in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16, dress and jacket, 4 1/2 yards 54-inch or 5 1/2 yards 39-inch. Send 25c for each PATTERN which includes complete sewing guide. Print your Name, Address and Style Number plainly. Be sure to state size you want. Include postal unit, or zone number in your address. Address: Pattern Department, The Charlottetown Guardian. Pattern No. 2087. Name: Address: City: Province: COCA-COLA NO MUSS NO BOTHR