Lovingly remembered by Wife and Family.

NICHOLSON—In loving remembrance of our dear husband and daddy Cfn. Norman Douglas Nicholson, who lost his life in Korea Jan. 21st, 1952. Memories are the lamps that light the darkest road. To a beautiful hope of reunion. When we meet at the end of the road.

Always remembered by wife Peggy, sons Jamie and Randy, Saint John, N.B.

The very echo of your name. The memory of your smile. The little things you said and did. Are with us all the while. Let us look beyond the shadows. Let us see God's love divine. Let us know what'er our heart-ache. He is with us all the time.

New York Stock Market Takes Worst Setback In 8 Months

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week took its worst set-back in nearly eight months. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $5.50 to $176.00. It was the second straight weekly decline. Last week's retreat was the steepest since the week ended May 26 when the AP average dropped $7.90. About 40 per cent of the loss occurred Friday when an already hard push downward near the close by the Russian-Chinese declaration that it would "protect" the Near and Middle East against "aggression and interference" from the Eisenhower doctrine. This news helped bring about the market's biggest daily loss since Oct. 31 when prices toppled on reports of the British-French invasion of Egypt. But the market, already was down sharply on the bulletin came from the day and on the whole week Moscow.

THOUGHTS FOR BEGINNING TEACHERS, and OTHERS WHO MAY HAVE FORGOTTEN

There are some aspects of the job of teaching which can scarcely be taught methods or subject-matter presentation. A few happy individuals seem to grasp them intuitively, through some innate sense of courtesy, dignity and responsibility. Successful teachers have absorbed them through long association with students and other teachers. Some unfortunately will never learn them. The beginner may well be unaware of them. They are attitudes and practices which make all the difference between a happy and efficient school and a dismal workhouse.

These are well done in pleasant co-operation and a grinding chore performed with grudging ill-will.

Since many of these attitudes and practices concern your relations with your principal, let us begin by having a look at that dignitary. It is axiomatic that the principal is the most important person in the school. He is different from the teacher, but for argument's sake let us divide them into two main types - the autocrat and the democrat - and you can apply your own nuances to the local incumbent.

The autocrat knows most of the answers and runs his school by rule of law. Students and staff are different principals, but for argument's sake let us divide them into two main types - the autocrat and the democrat - and you can apply your own nuances to the local incumbent.

Auto Makers Hedging On Steel Orders

CLEVELAND (AP)—Automobile manufacturers are hedging on steel orders and that makes the steel industry a bit pessimistic, Steel Magazine says.

The trade magazine says steel companies report auto makers are not confirming orders as rapidly as had been expected. Some steel men say car output won't reach the predicted 1957 level of 6,500,000 to 6,800,000. Steel says. Caution extends to input production, and 1947 mail full short of 120,000,000 tons, which would be about 90 per cent of capacity.

However the magazine says, first quarter auto production was higher than in 1956, and ingot production last week was 98.5 per cent of capacity for the second consecutive week.

The publication's base price composite on finished steel remains at $137.9 a net ton, unchanged since Jan. 1. The composite on scrap declined $1 to $59.83 a gross ton.

Shocked By Letter Uproar

NORTH VANCOUVER, B. C. (CP)—An attractive 39-year-old North Vancouver housewife was home from England Thursday, still shocked at the fuss caused by a letter she wrote to a London newspaper.

Mrs. Lucy Prentice, interviewed with her 48-year-old husband, Gordon, said of the letter she wrote to the London Evening News: "I had no idea it was going to cause such a furor. I never had any idea the British Empire could be rocked so easily."

Mrs. Prentice complained in her letter about unsanitary plumbing in British hotels, cracked and broken china, lack of health and poor service after a 2,000-mile tour of Britain from "one end to the other." She wrote the letter three days before she left London.

The letter provoked strong protests from throughout England in letters to the editors.

Mr. and Mrs. Prentice said they were criticized for not staying and eating in the best places.

"Well, while in London we stayed at the Cumberland Hotel at $10.50 a night for a couple, said Mr. Prentice. "It certainly wasn't skid road."

"They blame everything on the war still. Fuel is shut off at 4 p.m. because of rationing. But a few hundred dollars on caulking the windows are all that's needed."

"The windows were loose so all the fuel in the world wouldn't keep the place warm."

IN MEMORIAM

MACKIESON VICKERSON
On Saturday, January 5th, 1957, there passed away at the P. E. I. Hospital, Mack Vickerson of Cornwall in his 83rd year.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Vickerson of North River where he spent his younger days employed at farming. He married Hazel Mitchell of North Wilshire and they have resided in Cornwall for thirty-nine years.

"Mack", as he was familiarly known, was a good neighbor, willing to lend a helping hand wherever possible, a kind friend, whose hospitality was unsurpassed. His kindness to children, and indeed to animals was a virtue.

The funeral service, which was largely attended, was held in Cornwall United Church, Rev. R. A. Patterson conducted the service. The choir was in attendance, and Mr. W. R. Shaw sang very beautifully the selection, "Some Day The Silver Chord Will Break."

Beautiful floral tributes also expressed respect and sympathy.

He leaves to mourn his loss his widow, and four sisters, viz: Minnie (Mrs. Henry Vickerson), Moose Jaw; Annie (Mrs. R. L. Richards), Medford, Mass.; Ella (Mrs. Stephen Richards), Sydney, N. S.; Ida (Mrs. Flannigan), Boston, Mass.; also Charlie and Mrs. MacKinnon of Toronto. Charlie lived and was brought up in this home until he moved to Toronto a few years ago.

The pallbearers were: D.J. MacArthur, Hazen Howard, Jack MacPhail, George MacMillan, Fred Jewell, and John MacNevin. The burial was in Cornwall Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all those who sent cards, floral tributes, and those who helped in many ways to make this time of bereavement much lighter to bear.
Signed (Mrs.) Hazel Vickerson

University Bookbinder Makes Tattered Volumes New Again

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Quiet, bespectacled Fred Wilding, who left school at age 12, now heads the bookbinding department in the library of Queen's University.

After working in a variety of jobs including ditch-digging and waiting on tables, he became a bookbinder by accident. It happened when he took a janitor's job at Queen's in 1945.

He was watching a student who was an amateur bookbinder one summer, and becoming curious, tried his hand at mending a torn book. The university librarian noticed his interest and advised him to take a trade course.

Mr. Wilding went to the Byerson Institute of Technology in Toronto on a Veterans' Affairs department payment, but because of financial difficulties stayed only for eight weeks of the six-month course.

When he returned to Queen's however he became the official bookbinder of the library, thanks to the university librarian, H. P. Gundy.

PATIENT WORK

"I made a lot of mistakes at first," he admits, "and there were some nights I could hardly sleep for thinking about them, but Mr. Gundy was very patient with me."

Confidence comes only with thorough preparation. If you enter each class knowing exactly what you and the students are to do, and if you set about doing it without despatch, your room will become known as a place of business where there is too much serious work going on for much nonsense to arise.

Students are sometimes rude to teachers, with some excuse since they have much to learn. Have you ever thought that teachers are sometimes rude to students? Courtesy breeds courtesy, and 'please' and 'thank you' have a place beyond the nursery and nowhere more than in the classroom where you are constantly trying to urge students along paths which are often difficult and sometimes unpleasant.

Now let us consider the classroom itself. Believe it or not, students like a quiet orderly room with an abundance of new learning experience coming their way. They are constantly trying to urge students along paths which are often difficult and sometimes unpleasant.

Is Questioned On Old Age Pensions

OTTAWA (C)—Health Minister Martin said Thursday the Liberal government has taken the lead in the past in caring for the aged and is prepared to do so again.

But he told the commonsense would not disclose now any government plans to increase old age pensions.

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg north centre) had asked whether, in view of the fact that Liberal members "have joined" us in asking for increased pensions, the government is prepared to announce such increases before the next general election.

The CCF has pressed for higher pensions for some years. A number of Liberal members have taken up the cry in speeches during the current throne speech debate. An election is expected next June.

Mr. Martin said if the government takes action it will not be announced in reply to Mr. Knowles' questions.

FINED FOR ILLEGAL EXPORT OF NICKEL

TORONTO (CP)—Noma Industrial Products Ltd. and its vice-president, Manfred Mann, were fined $13,000 Wednesday for illegally selling and exporting a strategic metal, nickel.

Magistrate F. Cullen said Mann has one month in which to pay three $1,500 fines or go to jail for 38 months. If he pays the fines he has another two months in which to pay $5,000 more in fines.

The firm was given a month to pay $3,500.

Mann pleaded guilty to eight counts of selling nickel illegally, making false representation to get an export permit and unlawfully exporting nickel anodes from Canada on five occasions in 1955.

Customs investigator Henry Limney said nickel export was controlled because of an agreement among Allied countries to regulate supply of the strategic metal. Officially, nickel anodes brought 91 cents to $1.08 a pound, he said, but scrap nickel on the black market in the United States was worth $1.50 a pound.
