"It is 'good news' to all motorists comprising the great volume of traffic coming to our Province to see the 'S.S. Charlottetown' back on the Cape Tormentine route, after being overhauled. With the two ferries each making five return trips daily, there should be no formal delays at each terminal in the expeditious handling of the tourist traffic from and to the mainland this season.

New By-Pass Channels For Suez Canal Traffic

PORT SAID (Reuters) Bull dozers eating into the desert are cutting new by-pass channels for the Suez Canal and powerful suction dredgers are widening and deepening this international waterway in a race against time to cope with ever-growing maritime traffic.

The program of improvement now being undertaken at a cost of $45,000,000 is the largest since the construction of the canal. It entails the removal of 140,000 cubic yards of soil, equivalent to four-fifths of the volume excavated when the canal was built 90 years ago. It took Ferdinand de Lesseps 10 years to dig his canal. The new work will be finished in under five years.

The fortunes of the canal now are bound closely to those of Middle East oil.

Oil, mainly from the Persian Gulf, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait, accounts for about two-thirds of the south-north traffic of the Suez Canal. The number of tankers using the canal is rising year after year.

It was in 1892 that the first tanker, the Murex, went through the canal. Passage was permitted to these "dangerous" vessels only after misgivings and not until 1905 could tankers carrying crude or highly inflammable products go through. By 1920 however, tankers formed six per cent of the net tonnage of shipping passing through, rising steadily to 17 per cent in 1933 and last year jumping to 73.4 per cent.

Bigger oil tankers are built every year, and recently the world's largest tanker, the Spyros

Niarchos of 47,580 tons, sailed down the canal and returned with the largest single load of oil from Kuwait.

By 1960, it is expected that tankers will be of 60,000 and even 80,000 gross tons, and in the next 10 years annual oil traffic through the canal will reach the 100,000,000-ton mark.

No Increase In Feed Grain Subvention

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government will not increase its freight subsidy on western feed grains moving to Maritime points at this time.

Gordon T. Purdy (L-Colchester-Hants) asked in the Commons whether the government will increase the subsidy to make up for a temporary seven-per-cent boost in freight rates authorized recently by the board of transport commissioners.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner replied Tuesday by quoting from the order-in-council setting up the freight subsidies. The order-in-council says there shall be no increase while the orders are in effect. It is in effect for the current fiscal year.
