

The great and near Great Players Toronto and Montreal Hockey & Baseball Teams

By Chris McCarron

Toronto - Joe Carter, George Bell, Dave Stieb, Roberto Alomar, Fred McGriff, Tony Fernandez, Mookie Wilson, Jimmy Key, Duane Ward, Tom Henke, David Wells, Jessie Barfield, Llyod Moseby, John Olerud, Dave Parker, Wendel Clark, Darryl Sittler, Kelly Gruber, Grant Fuhr, Lanny MacDonald, Ed Olczyk, Rick Vaive, Salming, Glen Anderson, Dave Keon, Paul Henderson, Bob Baun, Ghan Guzman, Rob Ramage

Montreal - Tim Wallach, Tim Raines, Gary Carter, Mike Rogers, Delino Deshields, Reardon, Larry Walker, Andre Dawson, Andres Gallaraga, Al Oliver, Pete Rose, Mark Langston, Tim Birk, Dennis Martinez, Dennis Sauard, Ken Dryden, Larry Robinson, Guy Lapointe, Guy Lafleur, Patrick Roy, Chris Chelois, Serge Savard, Guy Carboneau, Shayne Corson, Stephan Richer, Bob Gainey, Kirk Muller. I hate to admit to but the Montreal side has accomplished more than Toronto. Yet before the Montreal egos get too large remember that the baseball is better on the Toronto side. And remember that despite the Habs hockey dominance guys like Wendel Clark wouldn't look right in a Canadians uniform. Les Habs are the finesse players and Leafs are the hitters.

P.A.W.

From November 1st to 3rd Panther Action Weekend met its goal which was to get more crowds to support our teams. This promotion was put together by Jason Inman, a fourth year business student, and it featured women's volleyball, women's and men's basketball, and hockey. Prizes such as T-shirts, shorts, and a six-foot sub were awarded to the loudest fans.

Hoping to win a prize, I checked out the action between the Lady Basketball Panthers and the University of Maine at Machias Lady Clippers' first game on November 2nd. The Lady Panthers proved to be the stronger team; they out-rebounded the Lady Clippers and caused several turnovers. Each player got her fair share of time on the court, except Ann Nichols, who is recovering from a leg injury. The Lady Panthers' confident teamwork resulted in the score 82-36 over the tired Clippers. The leading scorer for the Lady Panthers was Julie Dickinson with twenty points.

I did not win a prize during PAW, but I did enjoy the basketball and plan to support the Lady Basketball Panthers (they will be hosting the CIAU Championships next year). I hope that many of you cheered for our teams because they need the encouragement to reach for their goal to win.
